Whitehall, July 3.

THIS day an Humble and most Loyal Address from the Peers of Cornwall, Signed by above Ten thousand Persons, was presented to the Queen by Shirerich Kinne Esq. introduced by the Lord President, which Her Majesty received very Graciously.

To Their most Excellent Majesties
King WILLIAM and Queen MARY.

WE Your Majesties most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects the Peers, Inhabitants of the County of Cornwall, having returned our Repeated Thanks to Almighty God, for having made Your Majesties the Glorious Instruments of this whole Nation's Deliverance from the Insuperable Calamities of Popery and Slavery; Do now most humbly crave leave to show our selves at Your Royal Feet with all Assurances of Fidelity and Obedience, faithfully promising, (notwithstanding the Artifices and Designs of Disaffected Men to withdraw us from our Loyalty) that we do without Reserve make true Protestation of our Unalterable Allegiance to Your Majesties, owning and acknowledging Your Majesties alone to be our Lawful and Rightful King and Queen, so we will be ready to give the utmost Proofs thereof, by opposing every Interest (on what pretence soever founded) contrary to that of Your Majesties, and particularly by disclaiming all Allegiance to the late King James, or to the pretended Prince of Wales after him. To these Sincere Professions of our Duty we do, in the deepest sense of Gratitude, offer up our Thanks to Your Majesties for pitying our present Condition, and giving Your Royal Word for raising Means to deliver us out of it. And however, among the many Misfortunes, we are not the least Sufferers, yet being delivered from the greater Evils that Threatned us, we will patiently wait for a Deliverance from these we yet Labour under. May that GOD that has so abundantly Espoused Your Majesties Interest, still Maintain and Prolonge it; And may that Success, that has hitherto waited on the King's Arms, for ever attend him; That Your Majesties may be a long Blessing to these Nations, shall ever be part of the Passionate Prayers of

Your Majesties most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects.

Turin, June 17. Yesterday arrived near this place the main Body of the Forces from Milan, (which, with those that were here before, are reckoned at 14000 Men) with 12 Pieces of Cannon, and 3 Mortars; and the Governor of Milan is expected here the next week with another Body of Horse and Foot. Monsieur Catinat lyes with his Army, which is not now above 11000 strong, under the Camp of Pignorol; The French, and those of Milanois, do him a great deal of mischief, and have secured all the Passages of the Valleys. They had some days ago a Rencontre near the Pass of D'Arco with 2000 French, who were coming from Dauphine to joyn Monsieur Catinat, whom they forced to retire, with the loss of above 800 of the Enemy killed upon the place; and they have of late decamped several other French Parties.

Milan, June 21. Our Governour has written to all the Princes of Italy, to acquaint them with his having sent part of the Forces of this State to the Assistance of the Duke of Savoy, and the Reasons that induced him thereunto. His Excellency will part hence in 2 or 3 days, to view the Camp that is formed near Turin. We expect here 4000 Soldiers, and 6000 Men, from Germany.

Venice, June 23. On Monday last arrived here a Galley with the Barra of Anagorina, who was lately taken Prisoner in Palmira; from whence we have advice, that our Forces have defeated a Body of Turks, commanded by the Sangiac of Tadigra. On the 21st Instant parted from hence Signior Giuliano Contarini, to cruise in the Gulf with the Squadron under his command.

Warsaw, June 24. The Treaty of Marriage between the Prince of Poland and the Princess Palatine of Newbourg, being signed by the great Chancellor in the name of the King of Poland, has been put into the hands of the Imperial Minister to be sent to Vienna, and so soon as the Emperor and the Elector Palatine have ratified it, a solemn Embassy, composed of the Bishop of Favia, and the Prince of Raz, and Great Marshal of Lithuania, will be sent to the Court of the Elector Palatine, to perform the Ceremony of the Marriage, and to conduct the Princess hither. The Proposals made by the Envoy from the Chair of Tartary, are for a separate Peace between this Crown and the Port; but the Answer that has been given him, is, That his Majesty cannot proceed in this matter, without first communicating the same to the Princes his Allies.

Hysberg, July 4. The 2d Instant arrived here a Train of 35 Pieces of Cannon, and 8 Mortars, in its way to the Imperial Army, which lyes Encamped at Bouchfal, about an hours march from Philipsherg. The French Army, which has been lately reinforced by the Troops drawn out of several Garrisons, is said to consist now of 30 Battalions, and 90 Squadrons; the Horse lyes about Wormes, and the Foot near Spire.

Francofort, July 5. The Forces of Saxony approach towards this City, and there are some advices which say, the Elector himself is come to Hailbron. Several Pieces of Cannon for Battery, with great quantities of Ammunition, Bombs, &c. have been sent from hence to the Imperial Army; which will enter upon Action so soon as the Saxon Troops have joyned them. We have an account from Switzerland, that Monsieur Catinat continued with the French Forces under the Cannon of Pignorol, where they began to be very much streightned through the scarcity of Provisions.

Cologne, July 7. The Brandenburg Forces in this Diocess began their march yesterday with their Cannon and Baggage towards the Mess, whither it's believed they will be followed by those of Munster. Monsieur de Baisfiers is returned with 2000 Horse to Ardor, having left his Foot with the Duke of Luxemburg near Elorn. The Letters from Savoy give an account, that Monsieur Catinat had at first made some Ravage about Turin, but understanding that the Forces of the Milaneze, to the number of 8000 Foot and 3000 Horse, had joyned with those of the Duke of Savoy, he retired towards Pignorol, and posted himself under the Cannon of that place, where his Troops would not be able long to subsist for want of Provisions, being in a manner blocked up by the Swiss and those of Milanois, who had betwixt all the passages, and had cut off several of the French Parties that were sent out forage. That 2000 French Protestants were come in a Body as far as Coire, in order to joyn the Duke's Forces, and that it was not doubted but they would be followed by a greater number, his Highness giving them all manner of Encouragement, and supplying them

The Letters add, that Monsieur Catinus had sent to the Duke of Saxony, to desire him to make his own Proposals, in order to an Accommodation, but that his Highness had answered, That since he has been forced to draw his Sword, he would not put it up without an entire Satisfaction to his Allies, as well as himself.

Hannover, July 7. The Elector of Brandenburg went on the 3d Instant from Potsdam, towards his Army on the Rhine.

Bresfel, July 9. The Forces that have been drawn out of the Garrisons hereabouts, are on their march to join the Dutch Army, which will in 8 or 10 days march again towards the Enemy; who are so weakened by the late Battle, having lost a Lieutenant-General, 4 Brigadiers, 12 Colonels, 92 Captains, 400 Subalterns, and 8000 Men killed, and 3000 wounded, that they are not in a condition to push their pretended Victory, by so much as levying Contributions, but keep still very close within their Camp near Furnus. The Elector of Brandenburg's Forces march towards the Meuse.

Hague, July 11. We have the Confirmation from all hands, of the great loss the French suffered in the late Fight near Furnus; The Troops of the Household are almost ruined, and their Army continues at Velaine near Furnus till it be reinforced; in order whereunto, the Duke of Luxembourg was drawing out Detachments from Dinant, Pothiville, and the other neighbouring Garrisons. We have not yet a List of our Dead and Wounded, divers appearing daily that were thought to have been killed, but in the general 'tis said, we lost about 7000 Men, killed and taken Prisoners. The Letters from Francofort tell us, that the Saxon Horse was encamped about Huelberg, expecting them and the Suedes; and that Detachments were sent from the Emperor's Army towards Saxony and Flanders. We have Advice from Switzerland, that the Vaudais had routed 2000 French that were going to join Monsieur Catinus, who was retired under the Cannon of Pignoral. The Elector of Brandenburg arrived the 9th Instant at Wesel.

Paris, June 28. Yesterday was brought in here a Vessel, taken by one of Their Majesties Ship, which came from Dublin on the 23d Instant: The Master tells us, that the Irish Army was marched towards Ardee and Dundalk, there being but one Regiment left at Dublin; and that the Protestants are all secured in the Churches and Colleges, and fled very hardily.

Amsterdam, July 1. This day arrived here a Dutch Privateer from the West-Indies, who brings an account of the arrival there of the Fleet, which sailed from hence in the beginning of March; and of the good posture of our Affairs in those Parts.

From His Majesties Camp near Drogheda, July 1. On the 27th of the last Month we Encamped near Dundalk, where we rested the next day, and understood, that the Enemy were retired from Ardee, and had pitched themselves on the South side of the River Boyne. The King went himself beyond Ardee to view the Ground, and on the 29th we marched thither, and on the 30th to the place where we are now Encamped; where the King's Tent is pitched about a mile short of the Boyne, and as much above Drogheda. His Majesty, at his arrival near the River yesterday about Noon, rode in full view of the Irish Army, which lay Encamped upwards on the other side. The Enemy soon discovered it must be His Majesty who was so attended, which made them draw down two Pieces of 6 Pound Ball from the Ford a little higher, and planted them opposite to the place where our Horse was drawn up; they presently began to fire, and one of the Balls passed so close to His Majesty, that it took away a Piece of his Coat, Waistcoat, and Shirt, raised the Skin on the Blade of his right Shoulder, and drew a little Blood, but a Plaster being put on, His Majesty continued on Horseback without the least concern, till 4 in the afternoon, when he dined, and in the Evening was on Horseback again, though he had been up from one in the morning. The Enemy spent about 200 Balls, and killed us 4 or 5 men, and about 10 Horses; and about 5 in the evening we brought some of our Guns to bear, and dismounted one of theirs, and with our Bombs beat down several Tents next adjoining to those of the late King James, and the Court delinquent: His Majesty rested very well the last night, and at 8 this morning was again on Horseback; &c while the great Billies were flying, the Prince of Darmstadt's Horse was shot in the Neck. By a Protestant Defector that flew over the River the last night, we are informed, that the Enemy are 25000 strong; that they have sent away some of their heaviest Baggage; and give out, that they will fight us; and indeed, if they do not make a stand here, we may expect to meet with little opposition between this place and Dublin.

At this Instant we have on account, that Count Schomberg is got over some of the upper Fords with his Horse and Dragoons, and that he has defeated 3 or 4 of the Enemies Squadrons, and our Troops are also preparing to pass the Ford here below.

Windsor, July 6. This morning arrived here an Express from His Majesty's Camp near Drogheda, in Ireland, who came from thence on the 2nd Instant, about 10 in the morning, and says, That our Troops had routed the Gallies of the River Boyne, and that the Irish Army retired towards Dublin.

Dover, July 5. This evening our Fleet passed by this place to the Eastward. We hear the French Fleet is about Dungeness.

The Commissioners appointed by Their Majesties for the Relief of the poor Protestants of Ireland, upon the 2d Brief, being commanded thereby to give an account what Receipts and Disbursements have been made; but not being able to make an entire and perfect account, because the Auditors, Registers, and Officials, were not returned since unto them: These are therefore to give the several Auditors, Registers, and Officials, to perfect their Accounts, and to certify the Names of such Parishes as have not yet made and returned their Contributions, that further Care may be taken therein.
