FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1887.

Whitehall, July 29, 1887.

FURTHER List of Addresses and Resolutions of Congratulation on the occasion of Her Majesty having attained the Fiftieth Year of Her Reign, which have been transmitted to the Right Honourable Henry Matthews, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been laid before Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously :—

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, Your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, Members of the Royal Manchester, Liverpool, and North Lancashire Agricultural Society, instituted in Manchester in the year 1747, and of which Your Majesty has for upwards of twenty years been graciously pleased to act as Patron, desire, with feelings of the most profound respect, to convey to Your Majesty the assurance of our loyal and unabated attachment to Your Throne and Person, and our heartfelt congratulations on the auspicious occasion of the completion of the fiftieth year of Your Reign.

Your Majesty's gracious patronage, we are well aware, has not in agricultural matters been confined simply to patronising our own and kindred societies, but following in the footsteps of the late illustrious Prince Consort, who was a generous and steadfast friend to agriculture in all its various branches, Your Majesty has always been anxious and ready in every way to foster the spread of agricultural education, and to assist the many societies and institutions that exist for the promotion of what must ever be a matter of the greatest national importance.

We humbly desire to express our deep gratitude that Your Majesty's life has so long been spared to Her faithful subjects, and we pray that the vast realms over which You are called to rule may have a long continuance of that sovereignty which has endeared itself to all classes of Your Majesty's subjects.

Signed on behalf of the Council and Members of the Society,

Derby, President.

Geo. C. Hale, Chairman of Council.

Thomas Rigby, Secretary.

To Her Most Gracious Majesty VICTORIA, QUEEN of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, Your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Incorporated Society of Law Agents in Scotland, desire to offer our humble duty and heartfelt congratulations to Your Majesty upon the most auspicious occasion of Your completing the fiftieth year of Your Reign.

We unite with the many millions of our fellow citizens in feelings of profound thankfulness for the very many blessings which during these fifty years have attended Your Majesty's rule, and in an earnest prayer to Almighty God that He may grant Your Majesty many additional years of happiness and peace, and that as Your Majesty's reign has been prosperous beyond all precedent in the past, it may continue to be so in the future.

James Robertson, President.

In name and on behalf of the Society.

To Her Most Gracious Majesty VICTORIA, QUEEN of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please Your Majesty,

The President and Council of the Institution of Civil Engineers of Ireland, humbly desire to express their heartfelt joy, that, by the Providence of Almighty God, Your Majesty has reached the fiftieth anniversary of Your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these realms.

This Institution, founded two years before the accession of Your Majesty, and incorporated by Royal Charter in the forty-first year of Your Majesty's Reign, has, by means of its Members, borne a great part in the progress which has been made in engineering works throughout Ireland during Your Majesty's Reign, and it is earnestly desired that, in the near future, still greater and more rapid development of the material resources of Ireland may take place, thereby encouraging industry, and affording useful employment to the people.

That Your Majesty may witness and rejoice in the beneficial effect of such a development, is the sincere prayer of Your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects.

We venture most especially to offer our congratulations to Your Majesty upon the marvellous development of scientific research and progress, the multiplication of manufactures, the expansion of commercial enterprise, and for the great educational advantages possessed by Your Majesty's subjects, and which, in our humble opinion, will be regarded by future ages as some of the most prominent and distinguishing characteristics of Your Majesty's Reign.

We earnestly pray that Your Majesty may long be spared to preside over the destinies of this Empire and to continue to Your loyal, dutiful, and affectionate people the incalculable blessings of Your Majesty's long and beneficent sway, and especially that ameliorating influence on all classes of society which we gladly recognize as proceeding from the pure and bright example displayed upon the Throne.

Board of Trade (Marine Department), Whitehall Gardens, July 27, 1887.

HER Majesty the Queen has been graciously pleased to confer the decoration of the "Albert Medal of the First Class" upon—

THOMAS AVERETT WHISTLER, First Mate of the ship "Ennerdale," of Liverpool, instead of the "Albert Medal of the Second Class," the grant of which to Mr. WHISTLER Her Majesty had already approved.

The following is an account of the services in respect of which the decoration has been conferred:—

On the 17th of December, 1885, soon after 5.30 A.M., as the "Ennerdale" was rounding Cape Horn, an apprentice, named Duncan McCallum, fell from aloft into the sea, striking the rigging in his fall. Immediately, H. S. Pochin, an A.B., leapt overboard after McCallum, but the latter sank before Pochin could reach him. Pochin, afraid of being seized with cramp before a boat could come to his assistance, hailed the ship, asking for a lifebuoy to be thrown to him, and at the same moment the Master called all hands to man a boat. The First Mate, Mr. THOMAS AVERETT WHISTLER, 24 years old, who had been asleep in his berth, ran on deck and heard Pochin's hail. Calling to the boatswain to heave him a lifebuoy, he at once sprang overboard, secured the lifebuoy which was thrown to him, and succeeded in reaching Pochin. The latter was already on the point of sinking, but, with the help of the lifebuoy, WHISTLER was able to keep him up. The water was bitterly cold, and a huge albatross hovered round the two men preparing to attack them.

Meanwhile, considerable delay had occurred in the despatch of the boat, her lashings had been secured extra firmly for the passage round Cape Horn, and when at last launched, so many men crowded into her that she capsized. When righted and re-launched she finally succeeded in reaching and rescuing WHISTLER and Pochin, who were now entirely exhausted after an exposure of some 40 minutes in the water. The albatross had to be driven off with a boat hook.

Directly they were lifted into the boat both men became insensible, and WHISTLER was delirious for some time afterwards.

About a year later Mr. WHISTLER again attempted to save life under the following circumstances:—

On the 13th December, 1886, while the "Ennerdale" was in Sydney Harbour, an apprentice named James F. Beattie was taking the Captain's gig from the starboard to the port side of the vessel, when the boat sheered off, and he was thrown into the water.

Mr. WHISTLER immediately dived, fully dressed, from the poop, but reached the water too close to the boy, who caught him from behind, put his arms around his waist, and locked his legs in his. They both sank, and whilst under water, Mr. WHISTLER cleared himself from Beattie's grasp, caught him by the shoulder and struck out for a lifebuoy which had been thrown overboard. Before it could be reached, both sank a second time, and WHISTLER, who was by this time thoroughly exhausted, was obliged to let go his hold of the boy, who never rose alive again to the surface, and whose body was afterwards found floating in another part of the harbour.
