Yarmouth Haven—Additional Lights and Danger Signals.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 91, of 23rd April, 1887, on the intended exhibition of additional lights from the extremity of South Pier, and near Brush Wharf, Yarmouth Haven Entrance:—

The Great Yarmouth Port and Haven Commissioners have given further notice, that on 1st September, 1887, the following lights and signals would be exhibited:—

At Night.

1. From a lighthouse erected on the east end of South (or Gorlestone) Pier, a fixed red light is exhibited, except in case of obstruction as hereinafter provided, at an elevation of 30 feet above high water.

2. From a circular red brick lighthouse erected on or near Brush Wharf, a fixed red light is exhibited, except in case of obstruction as hereinafter provided, at an elevation of 64 feet above high water. This light faces the haven entrance. It is situated 130 yards N.  $4^{\circ}$  W. from the Rocket House shown on the plan.

3. A red and green tidal light is exhibited alternately from a window in the lighthouse on South Pier, at an elevation of 20 feet above high water. These lights are obscured northward of a line drawn to St. Nicholas Light-vessel, or when bearing southward of W. by S.  $\frac{1}{4}$  S., and are shown as follows:—

The red light is shown during the time the flood stream runs into the haven; when the ebb stream makes out, it is replaced by the green light, which is shown until the water has fallen to one foot on the tide gauge; the green light is then extinguished and not shown again until the water has risen to one foot on the tide gauge, and then continued until the flood stream makes in.

NOTE.—In gales or strong winds from the southward and eastward, when there is a heavy breaking sea far seaward of the bar, rendering it dangerous for any vessel or boat to run in, the green light will not be shown.

In case and during the continuance of any obstruction within or without the haven entrance, rendering it dangerous for any vessel or boat to run in, all the above-mentioned lights will be extinguished.

Mariners are cautioned when running for the haven with the ebb stream making, to be careful and guard against being forced towards the North Pier, or on the sand which extends seaward of it.

By Day.

The day signals are shown as heretofore, as follows:—

A red flag is hoisted on the South Pier during the time the flood stream runs into the haven.

In case and during the continuance of any obstruction within or without the haven entrance, rendering it dangerous for any vessel or boat to run in, two black balls will be hoisted on the signal staff on the South Pier, and the red flag will be lowered.
