Bermedes, July 22. A Vessel is newly arrived here from Angress, and brings an account, (from 1 very good hand) of the taking of the stand of St. Christophers by the singlish, as tolered.

On the noth of June the English Fleet arrived at St. Christophers, contring of 11 Men of War, besides Finching, Tenders, and other Vessels, under the command of Captin Weight, who was himself in the Mary of 64 Guits and 150 Men. These Ships had on Board about about 250 des, out. These Ships had on Board about 250 des, out. These Ships had on Board about 250 des, out. These Ships had on Monarded by Colonel Holts, 300 News and Barbardees Soldiers, commanded by Colonel Holts, 300 News and Barbardees Soldiers, commanded by Colonel Realism Men, commanded by Colonel Realism Men, commanded by Colonel Besselfone; and 200 Gentlement-Volumiers, commanded by Colonel Williams, and 50 vertes of the Leeward Islands, and General in this Expertence of the Leeward Islands, and General in this Expertence. vernor of the Leeward Illands, and General in this Expe-

About 12 a clock at night Sir Timothy Thomhall landed with his Men on the back part of the Illand, and beat the French irom their Intrenchments; and in the morning, two nours octore day, the General with the main Body landed at a pace called Breighter, with about 3000 Land-men and Sca-men; The French after fome little resistance, fied, fitting Back for their policipal Town on fire, but it was time y openiched by the English. About 300 of the Enemy betook themselves to the Mountains, and 800 to the English Fort, which about 9 Months ago was surrendred by the English to the French; the first being setted in the middle of the litinal, which is mountainous, and the issench at each end, where is the best Land and greatest devicements.

The English both but 50 Men; Sir Timothy Transhill was short in 5 nh his Legs; Captain Kegwin Commander of the Afrikanee, and Captain Brestine of the Quaker Ketch, were killed; and one Land Captain wounded. We have yet no certain account of the Enemies loss. Most of those that sled to the Mountains had submitted; And those in the Fort would be quickly forced to do so for want of Providing, and therefore the General torbore to arrick them, as well to preserve his Men, as that the Fort, which is a very good Fortification, might not be there, but had is blacked them up, that he could flave there. From St. Largispania the English intend to go are arrach the other around hunds; through they would my up the Menths of the architectures and property and property.
