

larly delineated and described in the map or plan hereto annexed and thereon coloured round with yellow.

"That the population of the said parish of Warkworth according to the last census amounts to one thousand three hundred and twenty-seven persons.

"That the net annual value of the benefice of Warkworth, not reckoning the house of residence as an item is four hundred and thirty pounds.

"That the patronage of the said vicarage of Warkworth is vested in the Lord Bishop of Newcastle and the Reverend Canon Dixon is now the vicar thereof.

"That the said parish of Warkworth comprises amongst other places a portion of the township of Togston the boundaries of which portion of the township of Togston hereinafter more particularly referred to are well known and defined and are more particularly delineated and described in the said map or plan and are thereon coloured round with dotted red and dotted blue lines.

"That there is no church or chapel within the boundaries of the said portion of the township of Togston, and the said portion of the township of Togston is distant from the parish church of Warkworth aforesaid at the nearest point three miles and at the remotest point four miles.

"That the population of the said portion of the township of Togston according to the last census was estimated to be one hundred and sixty-two, that since the last census the population has increased and is now estimated to be three hundred and thirty-seven souls.

"That there is also in the said county of Northumberland and my diocese of Newcastle the vicarage of Amble the boundaries of the parish whereof are well known and defined and are more particularly delineated and described in the said map or plan hereunto annexed and thereon coloured round with red.

"That the population of the said parish of Amble according to the last census amounts to three thousand persons.

"That the net annual value of the benefice of Amble, not reckoning the house of residence as an item is two hundred and thirty pounds.

"That the patronage of the said vicarage of Amble is vested in the Crown and the Lord Bishop of Newcastle alternately and the Reverend James Fairbrother is now the perpetual curate thereof.

"That the said parish of Amble already comprises a portion of the said township of Togston.

"That that portion of the said township of Togston which is coloured round with a dotted red line on the said map or plan is contiguous to the said parish of Amble and is distant from the parish church of Amble at the nearest point one mile and one-half of a mile and at the remotest point two and a half miles.

"That there is also in the said county of Northumberland and my diocese of Newcastle the vicarage of Chevington the boundaries of the parish whereof are well known and defined and are more particularly delineated and described in the said map or plan and thereon coloured round with blue.

"That the population of the said parish of Chevington according to the last census amounts to two thousand three hundred persons.

"That the net annual value of the benefice of Chevington not reckoning the house of residence as an item is two hundred and fifty pounds.

"That the patronage of the said vicarage of Chevington is vested in the Lord Bishop of Newcastle and the Reverend Albert Lawrence is now the perpetual curate thereof.

"That that portion of the said township of Togston which is coloured round with a dotted blue line on the said map or plan is contiguous to the said parish of Chevington and is distant from the parish church of Chevington at the nearest point one mile and one quarter of a mile and at the remotest point one and a half miles.

"That the said portion of the township of Togston which is coloured round with a dotted red line on the said map or plan is bounded on the north by the township of Amble on the east by an imaginary line extending along the middle of the line of the Amble branch of the North Eastern Railway, on the west by the township of Acklington on the south by an imaginary line commencing at the centre of a level crossing over the line of the said railway near to the shaft of Togston Old Colliery such imaginary line continuing in a northerly direction along the centre of the road leading from the said level crossing until it reaches the centre of the Amble and Acklington-road at a point opposite to Togston Barns, locally known as Togston-square and such imaginary line proceeding thence along the centre of the said Amble and Acklington-road in a northerly direction until it reaches a point opposite to the southern fence of the field known as Temple Hill, such imaginary line thence continuing westwards along the middle of the said fence until it reaches the boundary of the township and that the said portion of the said township of Togston which is coloured round with a dotted blue line on the said map or plan is bounded on the north by an imaginary line commencing at the centre of a level crossing over the line of the Amble Branch of the North Eastern Railway near to the Shaft of Togston Old Colliery such imaginary line continuing in a northerly direction along the centre of the road leading from the said level crossing until it reaches the centre of the Amble and Acklington-road at a point opposite to Togston Barns locally known as Togston-square and such imaginary line proceeding thence along the centre of the said Amble and Acklington-road in a northerly direction until it reaches a point opposite to the southern fence of the field known as Temple Hill, such imaginary line continuing westwards along the middle of the said fence until it reaches the boundary of the township. On the west by the township of Acklington, on the south by the township of East Chevington and on the east by an imaginary line extending along the middle of the line of the Amble Branch of the North-Eastern Railway.

"That the patron and incumbent of the said vicarage and parish church of Warkworth the patrons and incumbent of the said vicarage and parish church of Amble and the patron and incumbent of the vicarage and parish church of Chevington are all consenting parties to the separation and annexations hereinafter proposed as is testified by their respective hands to the consents in writing hereto annexed.

"That it appears to us that the said portion of the township of Togston may under the provisions of the Acts of Parliament passed in the first and second years of the reign of Her present Majesty chapter 103 and the second and third years of the reign of Her present Majesty chapter 49 be advantageously separated from the said parish of Warkworth and that the said portion of the said township of Togston which is coloured round with a dotted red line on the said map or plan may advantageously be annexed to the said parish of