remor in Chief, and Captain General of the fame.

As foon as the Fleet, Commanded by Captain Laprence As soon as the Fleet, Commanded by Captain Lawrence Wright, ar ived at Newis, the Governor raised the Forces of that island, and of Antigoa and Monserar, and having embaried them, set Sail the 19 of June at Night towards Sc. Cortiformers, and the next Morning came to an Anchor in Frigats Bay, where he designed to Land, but finding the Eriemy to the number of about 1000, were there strongly intrenche, it was resolved that Sir Timothy Thornehill, with between 4 and 100 should Land the following Night in another small Bay, about half a Mile distant by Water from Frigats Bay, and divided from it by a very high and steep Mountain, which was very distinct to pass, but being once gained, would open to them a way to fall upon the backs of the Enemy in their Trenches, and by this diversion facilitate our Landing in Frigats Bay. Accordingly on the 21st about one in the Morning they were all Landed, and began their march up the Hill, having a Negro for their Guide; Towards day break they met of the top of the Hill a party of the Enemy, (who it seems had some Jealousie of our design) but soon routed them, and pursuing them down the Hill, sell upon the Enemy in their Trenches; whilst this was doing the General Landed with about 600 Men, and attackt the Enemy on the other side, who after a resistance of about two hours, were bearen son their Trenches and suit to slight. During the heat of this Action, the rest of our Forces began to Land, and about 7 in the Morning they were all on Shore, and pitched their Colours in the French Trenches, and being put into order they began their march towards Backstar; but having marched about a Mile, we found the Enemy, who had rallied, posted between two Hills. They fired very smartly upon us; but our Men advancing upon them, after an hours despute them to slight a second time, and after that we con-lid, posted between two Hills. They fired very sinartly upon us, but our Men advancing upon them, after an hours dispute, put them to flight a second time, and after that we continued our march without any farther opposition to Backstar. About 11 in the Morning Captain Wright weighed with his squadron, and Sailed down to Backstar Road, intending tobatter the Town and Forts, but the Enemy spared us that rouble, for upon the approach of our Ships, they abandoned the Town and Forts, and fled into the Mountains, after having set part of the Town on Fire. The General in the mean time continued his march with the Land Forces, and in the Evening they lodged themselves on a plain, about a Mile beyond the Town, near the Jesuis Colledge, having sent a party to the Town to quench the Fire; which they soon effected. In these Actions we had about 130 Men killed and womded; Sir Timethy Thornhill was shot in the left Leg. Captain Kegwin, Commander of the Assistance, and Colonel of the Marine Regiment, was shot through the Thigh as died before he could be brought on Board, Captain Brisbane did before he could be brought on Board, Captain Brisbane Commander of the Quaker Ketch was shorthrough the Body of which he died the next day, and Captain Bram was dancroully wounded in the Neck, and Captain Quinby had his Thigh broke, but the first is like to Recover. The Enemy according to our best Information had about 200 killed and wounded

On the 24th the General marched from Backstar, and about the same time the Fleet set Sail, and in the Evening Anthored in the old Road, near which the Forces encampt. The 25th we rested, and the 26th early in the Morning we marched sigh we refled, and the 26th early in the Morning wemarched to Phepp Bay; the Fleet Sailed at the fame time, but there being no good Anchoridge in that Bay, and a firong Current letting to the Eathward, they returned to Old Road. Our ferrors encamped within half a Mile of the English Fost, and fame were polted on Brimstone Hill; which looks into the faid Fort. On the 30th we had planted on the said Hill two pieces of Cannon that were taken from on Board one of the Ships, being about 6 Pounders; and on the first of July they began to play upon the Fort. The same day Captain Wright townenently he could, fired their upper Tire of Guns, find-townenently he could, fired their upper tire of Guns, find-townenently he could do no Service. After t ving had two Men killed, and 5 wounded by the Enemies shot. On the 2d of July it was resolved, That Nine Guns more finot. On the 2d of July it was refolved, That Nine Guns more should be brought allore to batter the Fort, and that we should approach towards it with Trenches. On the 3d, Colonel Holt was accidentally by one of our swn Sentinck, shot into the Body, but is in a fair way of Recovery. On the 6th with the help of the Scamen the Guns, being 12 Pounders, were brought ashore and iscounted. In the mean time the two pieces that were planted on the Hill did very much annot the Enemy; and they were not wanting to answer us with continual firing of great and small shot. On the 7th the General marened out with 700 Men to fight may Body of the Enemy that durit appear, leaving the reit of the forces in their proper Stations. The 8th the General returned with part of the 700 Men, bringing with him, many Negrees, and several French Men, who had submitted to him. The 10th and 11th a great many Women and Children were fent to the Islands of St. Martins, and St. Bartholomews; and several Irish Men were Ship'd in order to be carried to Virginia. On the 12th the Enemy sent out on the Fort to desire a Truce for 3 days, and the next Morning sent Articles touching the Surrendring of the Fort, which on the 14th were agreed on, and the 46th about Noen the Fort was Surrendred, the French being allowed to march out with all the Baggage they could course, and should appear to the fort with the course, and should be surrendred, the French being allowed to march out with all the Baggage they could course, and should appear to the fort with the course and should be surrendred, the French being allowed to march out with all the Baggage they could course and should appear to the surrendred, the French being allowed to march out with all the Baggage they could course and should surrend and the server and should appear to the surrendred, the French being allowed to march out with all the Baggage they could suitcharing of the Fort, which on the 14th were agreed on, and the 46th about Noen the Fort was Surrendred, the French being allowed to march out with all the Baggage they could carry, and about 40 Gentlemen with their Arms. The Garison at the beginning of the Siege consisted of about 480 Men, of whom 60 were kiled and wounded.

On the 18th Sir Timethy Thornhill with his Regiment was sent down to the Island of St. Eustreia, where he Landed the 19th without any Reintance; and the same Evening Captain Wright Anchored there with his Squadron. On the 20th the Enemy defired a Parley, but came to no Agreement; The 21st their Majesties ships the Mary, Success, Printals vini, and Bristol Anchored within shot of the Fort, and at the same time 4 Guns were planted against it on the Shore. On the 23d we had sinished our Barrery, when about two in the Afternoon the Enemy defired a Parley; and the 25th about 9 in the Morning the Fort was Surrendred, in which were about 80 Men, who had the same Terms as was given to those at St. Ciristophers.

In this Expedition Colonel Codrington the General, Captain Wright Admiral of the Fleet, Colonel Holt Commander of the Duke of Boiton's Regiment. Sir Timothy Thornhill who Commanded the Militia of those Islands and Forces from Lence, with all the other Officers and the Soldiers in general, before, with all the other Officers and the Soldiers in general, but were the surface of the State o

plication and Success.

The Fleet is returned hither, and until the Hurricane Scason be over, will cruize between this Island and Martines.

Turin, September 29. On the 26th instant 50 Horse belonging to Pignerol appeared near this place, and having plundered several Houses, and seized upon some of the Country People, whom they afterwards Ransom'd, returned to Pignerol. The 27 in the Night 400 Horse and Dragoons, marched from Pignerol, and came by break of day to Rivoli, where they began to plunder and burn; the News whereof being brought to our Camp, Prince Eugene of Savoy marched immediately with a Detachement of Dutch Horse and Dragoons, and overtaking them in their return to Pignerol, charged the with a Derachement of Dutch Horse and Dragoons, and overtaking them in their return to Pignerol, charged the Enemy so vigorously, that he put them to slight, pursuing them almost to the Gates of that place; of the French above 250 were cut in pieces, with the loss only on our side of two Men killed, and 3 wounded; and our Soldiers took 70 Horses and a great deal of Booty. The Duke of Savoy continues encamped at Moncalier; where he expects in tew days a Reinforcement of 4 or 5000 Men. Montieur Carinat lies still at Raconigs.
