*Board of Trade (Harbour Department),
London, February 16, 1891.*

THE Board of Trade have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, the following Translation of a Quarantine Notice, dated January 31, 1891, from Her Majesty's Representative at Copenhagen:—

The quarantine is withdrawn which was ordered by the Decree of the Ministry of Justice, on the 21st of June last, with respect to vessels arriving from Spanish Mediterranean ports, as is also the prohibition contained in the same Ministry's Decree of October 15 last, against the importation from Spain of Fruit and Vegetables grown in or near to the soil.

Instead thereof, effect is hereby given until further notice to the provisions of Section I 2 of the Law of July 2, 1880, for the prevention of the introduction of contagious disorders into this Kingdom, with respect to vessels arriving from or having had communication with the Spanish Mediterranean ports.

No quarantine is in force at present.

The provisions of Section I 2 of the above-named Law are in force with respect to the following places—

Marseilles, Venice, all Egyptian ports, ports in Tonkin, Cochin China, and the East Indies, including the Dutch colonies, ports in the Red Sea and Persian Gulf, Japan, Lisbon, ports in Syria, St. Petersburg, and all Spanish Mediterranean ports.

The prohibition is maintained as regards the before-named places against the importation of used linen, worn apparel, used bedding, excepting where belonging to travellers' personal effects, used wadding, rags, carded wool, and waste paper.

Purification under official supervision of linen, clothes, and bedding brought as personal effects from any of the before-named places, will have to be carried out.

Ministry of Justice, January 31, 1891.

J. NELLEMAN.
