

solidated chapelry for all ecclesiastical purposes, and that the same should be assigned to the said church of Saint Aidan West Hartlepool situate as aforesaid.

"Now therefore with the consent of the Right Reverend Brooke Foss Bishop of the said diocese of Durham as such Bishop, with the consent of Thomas Robinson of Hartdale, Elwick-road, West Hartlepool in the county of Durham aforesaid Merchant the patron of the vicarage of the said parish of Stranton, and with the consent of Andrew Sherlock Lawson of Aldborough Manor, Boroughbridge in the county of York, Gentleman, the patron of the vicarage of the new parish of Seaton Carew aforesaid (in testimony whereof they the said consenting parties have respectively signed and sealed this representation), we, the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England humbly represent, that it would, in our opinion, be expedient that all those contiguous portions of the said parish of Stranton and of the said new parish of Seaton Carew which are described in the schedule hereunder written, all which portions, together with the boundaries thereof, are delineated and set forth on the map or plan hereunto annexed, should be united and formed into one consolidated chapelry for the said church of Saint Aidan West Hartlepool situate as aforesaid, and that the same should be named 'The Consolidated Chapelry of Saint Aidan West Hartlepool.'

"The SCHEDULE to which the foregoing Representation has reference.

"The Consolidated Chapelry of Saint Aidan, West Hartlepool, comprising:—

"I. All that portion of the parish of Stranton in the county of Durham and in the diocese of Durham, wherein the present incumbent of such parish still possesses the exclusive cure of souls, which portion is bounded upon the east by the sea, upon the south and upon the south-east by the hereinafter described portion of the new parish (sometime chapelry district) of Seaton Carew, in the county and diocese aforesaid, and upon the remaining sides, that is to say, upon the west and upon the north, by an imaginary line commencing upon the boundary which divides the said new parish of Seaton Carew from the parish of Stranton aforesaid at a point, a little to the north-east of the house called or known as Stranton Grange, in the middle of Stockton-road, at or near to its junction with the occupation-road leading to the house called or known as Long Hill and extending thence first northward and then alternately north-eastward, and northward along the middle of the said Stockton-road for a distance of sixty-nine and a half chains or thereabouts to its junction with Russell-street, and extending thence north-eastward along the middle of the last-named street for a distance of fourteen chains or thereabouts to its junction with Back Studley-road East and extending thence southward along the middle of the last-named road for a distance of eight and a half chains or thereabouts to its junction with Oxford-street, and extending thence eastward along the middle of the last-named street for a distance of eleven and a quarter chains or thereabouts to its junction with Greatham-street and extending thence first southward and then eastward along the middle of the last-named street for a distance of twenty-one chains or thereabouts to its junction with the road called or known as Mainsforth-terrace, and extending thence northward along the middle of the last-named road for a distance of fifty feet or thereabouts to its junction with the road which leads between Smith's Pottery Works and Gray and Gladstone's Rolling Mills across the line of the Stockton and Hartlepoons Branch of the North-Eastern Railway, towards the sea, and extending thence eastward along the middle of the last-described road for a distance of twelve chains or thereabouts to its junction with the road which leads along the coast from West Hartlepool to Seaton Carew and extending thence due east and in a direct line to the sea.

"II. And also all that contiguous portion of the said new parish of Seaton Carew which is bounded upon the north-east by the sea upon the north and upon the north-west by the parish of Stranton aforesaid (including the above-described portion thereof) and upon the remaining sides that is to say upon the west upon the south and upon the south-east by an imaginary line commencing upon the boundary which divides the said parish of Stranton from the new parish of Seaton Carew aforesaid at the point on the southern side of the house called or known as Stranton Grange aforesaid on the north-western side of Stockton-road aforesaid at or near to its junction with Brearton-lane and extending thence south-westward along the middle of the said Stockton-road for a distance of two chains and three-quarters or thereabouts to the boundary of the municipal borough of West Hartlepool, and extending thence eastward along the said borough boundary for a distance of sixty-three chains or thereabouts to the point on the western side of the Stockton and Hartlepoons Branch Line of the North Eastern Railway aforesaid where such boundary bends towards the south, and continuing thence still eastward and in a direct line to a point in the middle of the same branch line of railway and extending thence northward along the middle of the same branch line of railway for a distance of thirty-four and a half chains or thereabouts to the point on the western side of the Seaton Carew Iron Works where such branch line of railway is crossed by the occupation road leading from the house called or known as Long Hill as aforesaid to Carr House and extending thence first north-eastward and then eastward along the middle of the said occupation road for a distance of twenty-three chains and three-quarters or thereabouts to its junction with the said road which leads along the coast from West Hartlepool to Seaton Carew as aforesaid and extending thence due east and in a direct line to the sea."

And whereas the said representation has been approved by Her Majesty in Council: Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said representation, and to order and direct that the same and every part thereof shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette pursuant to the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the said diocese of Durham.
