Turin, November 18.

THE late Governor of Susa, and several of the Principal Officers of that Garison, are now Prisoners here, and it's believed they will be Tryed by a Council of War. The Duke of Savoy has named the Marquis du Pre to go his Ambassador to the Emperor, the Count de Prinds is designed in the same Quality to England, and the Prince della Siferina to Spain. Our Army lyes between Susa and Rivole to observe the Enemy, but in all appearance the Troops on both sides will now quickly be going into their Winter Quarters. The Marquis de Parelle is with 5000 Men near Chasteau Dumbin, and we expect every day to hear of his being advanced farther towards Dauphine. Eight hundred French Protestants marched from hence on Monday last to joyn him.

Venice, November 24. The new Captain General is making Preparations for his departure to the Levant, his Baggage begins to be shipped to morrow, and it's believed, he will Embark himself the beginning of the next week. On Monday last Signior Sebastiaen Soranzo made his Publick Entry, and took possession of his new Dignity of Procurator of St. Mark. Divers Officers are come hither to Treat about new Levies.

Warsaw, Novemb. 24. The Marriage being finally concluded between the Prince of Poland and the Princess of Neuburg, the Bishop of Pozna will set out in few days on his Embassy to the Courts at Vienna and Neuburg, in order to Conduct the Princess hither, for whose Reception preparations are already making here and at Cracow. The Tatars continue to do a great deal of mischief on our Frontiers.

Vienna, November 30. Some Officers that escaped from Belgrade have given a particular relation of the unfortunate loss of that place, which differing in many particulars from what has been commonly reported, we here give you the substance thereof. The Garison consisted of 5000 serviceable Men, and was sufficiently provided with all Necessaries, so that had not that unlucky accident of firing the Magazine happened, they would have despised all the force and stratagems of the Turks; The Grand Visier had drawn a Line of Communication quite round from the Danube to the Savo, and from thence Parallel Lines of Approach to the Counter-scarp, which was yet untouch'd on the morning of that fatal day, when a Bomb set fire to the Tower of that day, the Enemy having with them extraordinary good French Engineers, who pointed their Cannon and Mortar-pieces so justly, as to do the Garison great mischief. The Fire (in all appearance) was quenched without much damage, but about 4 in the afternoon the Magazine in the Castle blew up, at the time that 1500 Men were drawn out to relieve the Guard, who were almost all either killed or wounded, and half buried in Stones and Rubbish, and besides these, almost an entire Regiment were killed in the Castle by a heap of prepared Grana-does, which there took fire. The Turks, upon this sudden noise and confusion, gave a vigorous assault to the Counter-scarp, and were twice bravely repulsed by the Guards that remained there, but fresh numbers of the Enciny coming on, and no Relief being sent from the Town, and the other Magazines blowing up likewise with an astonishing noise, our Men at the third Assault began to give ground, upon which the Turks leaped over the Palisadoes, and entered with them pell mell into the Town. In this Confusion about 1500 Men that remained un-wounded in Belgrade made their escape, and the Turks possessed themselves of the Town and Castle, the Fortifications, contrary to what has been formerly said, remaining for the most part entire, and in the same condition they were when the Siege began; General Alpremont, who was Governor, and is now a Prisoner here, is to be tryed this week by a Council of War, of which General Dunewald is President. From Gronia there are Letters of the 19th instant, which advise, that the Troops there, under the command of the Bar and Vice-Bar, were obliged by the bad weather to separate, but so, as in a days time, upon occasion, they may be drawn together again.

Berlin, Decemb. 5. Their Electoral Highnesses of Brandenburg arrived here last Night from Hanover. The Elector has given out Commissions for the raising of 4000 Men.

Hamburg, Decemb. 8. Two Regiments are raising here and at Lubecke for the Emperors Service. Here are new Levies likewise making for the Duke of Hanover. The last Letters from Stockholme say, That the Count de Staremburg, Envoy Extraordinary from the Emperor, arrived there the 26th of the last Month, and had a private Audience of the King of Sweden the next day.

Cologne, Decemb. 8. General Berk, who commanded the Neubourg Troops the last year, is on his departure from hence for Vienna, being to serve in Hungary. The Quarters are now settled for the Brandenburg and Munster Troops that are to Winter within this Diocesis. Considerable Magazines are providing in this City, Coblentz, Frankfort, Rhinberg, and other places.

Dublin, December 2. Lieutenant-General Ginkel, having seried several Matters with the Lords Justices for the good Government of the Soldiers in their several Quarters, and the providing them with Provisions at reasonable Rates, is gone back to Kilkenny, and the rest of the Generals, and other Officers, that were here, are likewise returned to their several Quarters. The Report we had lately of the arrival of several Vessels at Galloway and Limerick with Arms, Provisions and Ammunition, from France, proves false, there being no Ship with such Stores come to either of those places since the French went off from Galloway. But it is still said, that a French Frigate laden with Arms and Ammunition, and which had on Board divers French Officers, was lately cast away at the Mouth of the Shannon. And it is confirmed from all hands, that the Rebels in Connacht are in great distress for want of many Necessaries; and that the Duke of Berwick, who commands there, to make their Brass Money current, had put out an Order, That no Silver Money should, after the first of this Month, be taken in payment for Provisions, or any other Commodities, upon pain of Death. This scarcity of Victuals and Forage in Connacht has, we hear, put the Enemy upon a design of marching several of their Regiments over the Shannon, but our Frontiers are very well provided and reinforced, and in case the Rebels pass that River, our Troops are in a readiness to draw together, who, we doubt not, will
