

in the evening if they are employed in accordance with the following conditions; namely,—

- (1.) There shall be allowed to every such woman for meals during the period of employment not less than two hours, of which half an hour shall be after five o'clock in the evening; and
- (2.) Any such woman shall not be so employed on the whole for more than five days in any one week, nor for more than 96 days in any 12 months.

And whereas the special exception is by the Act declared to apply to the factories and workshops referred to in the said section:

And whereas Part 2 of the same Act, section 63, provides as follows:

Where it appears to a Secretary of State that the adoption of any special means or provision for the cleanliness or ventilation of a factory or workshop is required for the protection of the health of any child, young person, or woman employed, in pursuance of an exception under this Part of this Act, either for a longer period than is otherwise allowed by this Act, or at night, he may by order made under this Part of this Act direct that the adoption of such means or provision shall be a condition of such employment:

And whereas it has been proved to my satisfaction that in the parts of the non-textile factories of the classes mentioned in the Schedule hereunder it is necessary, by reason of the perishable nature of the article which is the subject of the manufacturing process, to employ women in manner authorized by this exception, and that such employment will not injure the health of the women affected thereby, provided that it be subject to the condition hereinafter appearing:

Now I, the Right Honourable Herbert H. Asquith, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, do hereby by this Order, extend this exception accordingly: Provided that it shall be a condition of the employment of any woman under this extended exception that there shall be a cubic space of at least four hundred feet for every woman so employed.

The Order of the 10th September, 1889, made on the same subject is hereby revoked.

This Order shall come into effect on 31st August, 1893, and shall continue in force until revoked.
