Corfu, February 2.

THE Venetian Gallies and Men of War are refitting here with great diligence; and the Captain-General Mocenigo has, since his arrival, taken a review both of the Sea and Land Forces. He has, upon advice of the motions of the Turks about Vallona, sent thither three Men of War, and several Gallies, with some Troops to reinforce that Garison. We hear from the Levant, that the Turks are drawing some Forces together towards Negrepont, which they make their place of rendezvous.

Warsaw, February 25. The Emperor's Minister to the Czars of Moscovy is arrived here in his way towards that Court; whither, we hear, the Turks have likewise sent an Envoy (who lately passed through this Kingdom in the Disguise of an Armenian Merchant,) to treat a Peace; but by all the Account; we have from thence, he will not find the Czars in a Disposition to hearken to any Overtures of this kind. The last Letters from Lemberg say, that the Tartars are on their march in a considerable Body; that it's believed their design is first to conduct a Convoy of Provisions to Gaminiec, and after that to make their usual Incurfions into the Frontier Provinces of this Kingdom; upon which, Orders have been sent to the Troops quartered near the Borders, to post themselves so as may be most for the Security of the Country. Two days ago arrived here an Express, with advice of the Princess of Newburg's being on her Journey hither, but that it will be the middle of the next month before she can arrive here.

Vienna, March 4. Several Regiments of the new-raisd Troops are already on Foot in Bohemia, and will very suddenly begin their march towards Hungary. The Emperor's chief Enginier is return'd to Buda, with Orders to fortifie that place, according to the Plan he had given in to the Council of War; and a vast quantity of Spades, Pickaxes, and other Instruments, have been lately sent thither. Five Regiments are ordered to march immediately to Esseck, to cover and secure that place. The last Advices from Transylvania say, that Teckelej lies dangerously ill at Brankowar in Valachia, and that many of his Followers had deserted him.

Dublin, March 15. By several Protestants, as well as Deferters, lately come from Limerick, we are assured, that there are great Discontents and Distractions among the Irish, occasioned by the ill condition of their Affairs, which they find every day growing upon them: That they have no Expectation of any Succors of Men from France; and make no preparation for taking the Field: That the small Sum of Money Tirconnel brought over with him, is wholly employ'd on their Fortifications: That they have spent all their old Stores, and the Garison at Limerick lives now upon what has been laid up this Season: That Tirconnel and Sarsfeild do very much disagree; and that the later was several times sent for by Tirconnel, but would not come to him. Our Parties have of late cut off many of the Rapperies; towards Longford Lieutenant-Colonel Toby Purcell kill'd, this last week, 60, and took 20; and about Kilkenny, and the Barony of Edough, a greater number have had the same fate. The Lords-Justices have sent Circular Letters to the Sheriffs of the Counties, and the
