

Surrey, deceased (who died on or about the 12th day of April, 1894, and whose will was proved by James Spicer, of 50, Upper Thames-street, in the city of London, and Henry Spicer, of 19, New Bridge-street, in the city of London, the surviving executors therein named, on the 24th day of May, 1894, in the Principal Registry of the Probate Division of the High Court of Justice), are hereby required to send in the particulars of their claims and demands to us, the undersigned, as Solicitors for the said executors, on or before the 16th day of July, 1894; and notice is hereby also given, that after that day the said executors will proceed to distribute the assets of the deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which the said executors shall then have notice; and that they will not be liable for the assets, or any part thereof, so distributed, to any person of whose debt or claim they shall not then have had notice.—Dated this 2nd day of June, 1894.

SHEPHERDS, 31 and 32, Finsbury-circus, London, Solicitors for the Executors.

TO be sold, pursuant to an Order of the High Court of Justice, Chancery Division, made in an action of Wilmot v. Olympic Music Hall Limited and others, 1893, W., 3484, with the approbation of Mr. Justice Stirling, by Mr. Alfred J. Baker (of the firm of Messrs. Baker and Sons), the person appointed by the said Judge, at the Mart, Tokenhouse-yard, Bank of England, E.C., on Friday, the 29th day of June, 1894, at two o'clock precisely:—

The very valuable fully-licensed property, known as the Olympic Music Hall (formerly the Olympic Theatre), most commandingly placed in Wych-street, close to the Strand, recently reconstructed and enlarged from the designs of well-known London Architects, and refitted, elaborately upholstered, and gilded and decorated by English and Continental artists regardless of expense, comprising auditorium, affording accommodation for 3,000 persons, large stage, second in size only to Drury Lane Theatre, ample accommodation for artistes, and other requisites for the business of a high-class music hall, the whole comprising an area of 14,000 feet super., with frontages and exits to Wych-street and Maypole-alley, together with the goodwill and possession as a going concern. All the requirements of the London County Council (who have granted the full music and dancing licence) have been complied with, the buildings are practically fireproof, and they are fitted throughout with a duplicate system both of electric and gas lighting, and the property is undoubtedly one of the most luxurious places of entertainment in the metropolis. It is held on lease for a term of 60 years from 25th December, 1889 (55½ years unexpired); at a moderate ground-rent.

Particulars, plan, and conditions of sale may be had at the Mart; of Messrs. Holder and Wood, Solicitors, 40, Cheapside, London, E.C.; H. Newson-Smith, Esq., Accountant, 37, Walbrook, E.C.; and of Messrs. Baker and Sons, Land Agents and Surveyors, 11, Queen Victoria-street, London, E.C.
