And further that the Council, acting under section 7 of the aforesaid Act, has with the concurrence of the Tribunal of Appeal constituted under section 6 of the Act, made the following regulations prescribing the procedure to be followed by applicants for permission to erect or adapt dwelling-houses on low lying land:—

Every person who shall be desirous of erecting or adapting any building to be used wholly or in part as a dwelling-house on any land in the county of London of which the surface is below the level of Trinity high-water mark, and which is so situate as not to admit of being drained by gravitation into an existing sewer of the Council, shall first make a written application for a licence.
