

Isabel Vaughan as defendants (1899. R. No. 1732) whereby the plaintiffs (claiming as mortgagees of the hereditaments comprised in an indenture of mortgage dated the 31st May 1880 and made between Benjamin Dorrington of the one part and James William Richard Seymour of the other part and certain transfers thereof and in two indentures of charge dated respectively the 30th June 1890 and the 15th July 1890 and both made between yourself of the one part and the plaintiff bank of the other part and alleging that you and the said Isabel Vaughan claimed to be entitled to the equity of redemption in the said hereditaments) asked that an account might be taken of what was due to the plaintiffs or either of them for principal interest and costs under the said mortgage and charges and that the said mortgage and charges might be enforced by foreclosure and that for the purposes aforesaid all necessary and proper directions might be given or that such further or other Order might be made in the premises as the Court should think fit. And further take notice that by an Order dated the 27th November 1899 and made by the Honourable Mr. Justice Kekewich the Judge to whose Court the said action is assigned it was ordered that service of the said Originating Summons upon you by advertising notice of the same together with notice of the said Order once in the London Gazette and once in the Kilburn Times newspaper should be deemed good and sufficient service of the said Originating Summons upon you and that you should have eight days from the day on which the last of such advertisements should appear to enter your appearance to the said Originating Summons. And further take notice that you may appear to the said Originating Summons by entering appearance either personally or by Solicitor at the Central Office Royal Courts of Justice Strand London and that if you do not enter appearance within the time and at the place above mentioned such Order will be made and proceedings taken as the Judge may think just and expedient.—Dated this 9th day of December, 1899.
