WHEREAS, by Treaty, grant, usage, sufferance, and other lawful means Her Majesty the Queen has power and jurisdiction in China and Corea:

And whereas by "The China and Japan Order in Council, 1865," a Court was established, styled Her Britannic Majesty's Supreme Court for China and Japan:

And whereas by "The China, Japan, and Corea Orders in Council, 1884 and 1886," it was provided that all powers and jurisdiction of the said Supreme Court should be exercisable in relation to Corea:

And whereas by virtue of an Order in Council made on the seventh day of October, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, the Orders in Council regulating Her Majesty's Consular jurisdiction in the Empire of Japan have, save as provided in the said Order, ceased to be in force and operation within that Empire:

And whereas, in view of the recited extension of jurisdiction as respects Corea, and cesser of jurisdiction as respects Japan, it is expedient that the style of the said Supreme Court should be altered, and also that the provisions of "The China and Japan Order in Council, 1865," and of the Orders amending or extending that Order should be repealed so far as they relate to Japan.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in this behalf by "The Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1890," or otherwise in Her Majesty vested, is pleased by and with the advice of Her Privy Council to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

1. The Court established by Article seven of "The China and Japan Order in Council, 1865," shall be styled "Her Britannic Majesty's Supreme Court for China and Corea," and all references in that Order or in the Orders amending or extending that Order to the Supreme Court, for China and Japan, or to the Supreme Court, shall, in so far as the said Orders relate or are applied to China or Corea, be read as references to the Supreme Court for China and Corea.

2. All provisions relating to the exercise of Her Majesty's power and jurisdiction in Japan; contained in "The China and Japan Order in Council, 1865," or any Order amending or extending that Order, are hereby repealed, subject to the provisions of the said recited Order in Council of the seventh October, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine: provided that where any of those provisions are by the same or any subsequent Order extended or applied to China or Corea, this Article shall not affect such extension and application.

3. This Order may be cited as "The China and Corea (Supreme Court) Order in Council, 1900."
