H. 4471.*

The Board of Trade have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of the following Law of the Danish Government concerning measures against the introduction of contagious diseases into Iceland:—

We Christian the Ninth, by the Grace of God King of Denmark, the Wends and Goths, Duke of Sleswick, Holstein, Stormarn, Dithmarschen, Lauenburg and Oldenburg.
Give notice: that the „alping“ have passed and We have sanctioned the following Law:

1st Part.

Explanations of words and general rules.

Sec. 1.

In this present Act the following words are used in the significations as under.

“Foreign Countries” signifies any country outside of Iceland.

“Vessel” comprises any floating conveyance.

“Foreign Vessel” means any vessel arriving at this country, whether she has started on her last voyage from some foreign country, or has taken on board persons or goods at sea from any other vessel coming direct from some foreign country, or from any foreign fishing vessel. She shall continually be considered a foreign vessel, until she has obtained a certificate of health in any Icelandic port.

“Bill of Health” signifies a certificate issued by the authorities of health concerned, purporting whether any foreign disease or other particularly named contagious disease be prevailing in the very port of sailing or in its vicinity.

“Foreign Diseases” comprises the plague, Asiatic cholera, smallpox, dysentery, exanthematic typhus, yellow fever, measles, and scarlet fever.

“Certificate of Health” means a certificate obtained by any foreign vessel from the Health Officer at the port of arrival in Iceland, purporting that nothing in the contents of this present Act prohibits the putting on shore at Icelandic ports of either persons or goods.

“Health Officer” is the official of any Icelandic port who, in pursuance of this present Act, has to inspect the bills of health of foreign vessels and to confer upon them certificates of health.

“Port” means an authorized trading place attended by a Health Officer (see sec. 5).

“Goods” comprises any movable objects in the vessel, including the catch.

“Prohibited Goods” mean goods, whose importation is prohibited by official notification of the Minister for Iceland or the Governor („landshüfoingi“) on account of danger of infection, or else made dependent on certain conditions (sec. 22).

Sec. 2.

Any vessel arriving at this country from foreign countries, and intending to have connections with the shore or the inhabitants, shall be bound to carry a bill of health from the port of sailing, which, for vessels coming from foreign parts, shall be certified by the Danish Consul of the place, or, if such be not found in the place, by the magistrate of said place.

Sec. 3.

Apart from cases of need or accident no foreign vessel or foreign fishing vessel shall be allowed to land persons or goods in other places than the ports, cfr. sec. 7.

Sec. 4.

Outside of the ports, either within or outside the maritime jurisdiction, no Icelandic vessel shall be allowed to take in goods from foreign vessels, except in case of need or accident.

Apart from cases of need or accident nobody shall be allowed to take into their homes or to come into personal contact with persons from foreign fishing vessels going ashore outside the ports.

2nd Part.

Quarantine Boards and Lazarettoes.

Sec. 5.

In every market town and every authorized trading place of this country where a permanent mercantile establishment is found, there shall be a Quarantine Board.

In the market towns this Board shall be composed of the Town Judge („bæjarfógeti“) the District Physician, and one Town Councillor elected by the Town Council. The Town Judge shall be Chairman of the Board and Health Officer.

In all other places the Board shall be composed of the District Judge („sýslumaour“), if he be a resident of the place, the District Physician and one Resident of the place elected by the District Council („sýslunefnd“). If the District Judge be not residing in the trading place, he shall be replaced by his Resident Agent. The District Judge or his Agent shall be Chairman of the Board and Health Officer.

The Quarantine Boards shall see the rules and regulations of this present Act carried into effect.

Pilots, Bailiffs („hreppstjóri“), Town Councils and Parish Councils shall be bound to aid the Quarantine Boards in attending to their duties.

The Governor in concert with the Head Physician („landlæknir“) shall draw up regulations for the Quarantine Boards.

Sec. 6.

In each of the market towns of the country there shall be a Lazaretto fully fitted out to receive at any time from foreign vessels such sick persons as it may be necessary to isolate. These Lazarettoes shall be under control of the quarantine board concerned, who have to take care of the maintenance of the same and of their fit-out, as well as to see, that the needful attendance be at hand when required.

The district physician concerned shall attend the patients brought into the Lazaretto, unless the Governor by advice of the Head Physician designates another physician for the purpose.

The Governor in concert with the Head Physician shall form regulations for the use of the Lazarettoes.

3rd Part.

General rules concerning foreign vessels.

Sec. 7.

If a foreign vessel wish to land persons or goods in some port, cfr. sec. 3, without being in the situation of being obliged to hoist the quarantine flag (sec. 11), the Master of the same shall go ashore alone and repair direct to the Health Officer, producing the bill of health of the vessel, in case it carries one, and give an account of the state of health on board. Until the Master has obtained a certificate of health from the Health Officer no other person shall be allowed on shore from the vessel, not even the Pilot, nor shall anybody go on board her from shore or from other vessels, nor any goods be landed.

Sec. 8.

If the bill of health of the vessel be in order and do not contain any notice of contagious diseases prevailing in the place of sailing, the Health Officer shall at once confer a certificate of health on the vessel, provided the Master declares before him, that no persons are found on board the vessel suffering or having during the voyage suffered from such diseases as may be suspected to be contagious.

If the vessel carries no certificate of health, or only an unlawful one (cf. sec. 2), the Health Officer shall nevertheless as a rule confer a certificate of health on her without delay, provided the Master deliver to him a written bona fide asseveration, that no sick persons whose diseases may be suspected of being contagious, nor the bodies of persons dead of such diseases, are or have been on board the vessel, either in the port of sailing or during the voyage.

If the bill of health of the vessel conveys that a contagious disease has been prevailing in the place of sailing, as well as if there be or have been sick persons on board the vessel during the voyage, or dead bodies, and there be reason to suppose that the disease in question may be or have been of a contagious nature, or there be reason to suppose that the above-said asseveration on the part of the Master be not fully satisfactory, no certificate of health shall be conferred, until the District Physician has examined the vessel and decided on the measures to be taken in order to prevent the introduction and spreading of contagious diseases. The issue of the certificate of health may be postponed, if needful, until the measures ordered by the physician be executed. If no Lazaretto be found in the place, and the physician find, that it will meet with difficulties to isolate the sick from the vessel, the latter together with the sick may be ordered to the next market town, if such removal be not combined with danger to the patients.

If the vessel be stranded, the manager of the salvage shall take care that the rules and regulations contained in this section and in sec. 7 be carried into effect as far as circumstances permit.

Certificates of health are issued free of charge.

Sec. 9.

The Governor in concert with the Head Physician may make such allowances from the rules and regulations contained in secs. 7 and 8, to men-of-war having surgeons on board, and to steamers plying regularly and by official timetables between Iceland and other countries, as may be found appropriate and advisable.

4th Part.

Vessels obliged to carry a Quarantine Flag.

Sec. 10.

If trustworthy intelligence has come to hand, of any foreign disease—not, however, the measles or the scarlet-fever—having appeared somewhere in foreign countries, the Minister for Iceland shall issue an official notification to the purport, that the foreign place in question and—provided the needful measures against the spreading of the disease from said place are not deemed to be taken—the neighbouring places to such extent as circumstances may require, are to be considered infected by the disease in question.

The above measure, however, shall not be taken, if only one or very few persons be suffering from the disease, and if there be no reason to suppose that it will spread.

The Minister for Iceland shall give notice when the measures taken are to be discontinued.

The Governor shall be entitled to issue the notifications mentioned in this section, if he has received trustworthy information of the appearance or cessation of a disease before the eventual notification of the Minister has reached him. In this case he shall without delay report to the Minister what has been done.

Sec. 11.

If a vessel

1. Is coming from, or has during her voyage been in connection with, some place, as to which a notification has been issued pursuant to sec. 10, or where some foreign disease is reported by her bill of health to be epidemic;

2. Has during her voyage been in connection with a vessel which has or has had sick or dead persons on board, who are known or may reasonably be supposed to suffer or to have suffered from some foreign disease;

3. Has or has had, either in the port of sailing, or during her voyage, sick or dead persons on board, who may reasonably be supposed to suffer or to have suffered from some foreign disease;

Such vessel, entering the maritime jurisdiction of Iceland, or intending to touch at any Icelandic port, shall immediately on getting sight of land carry a yellow quarantine flag on her fore-top, or, if a yellow flag be not found on board, a white one, and this flag shall be kept flying until the vessel has got outside the maritime jurisdiction, or has entered some Icelandic port and there obtained a certificate of health.

Sec. 12.

If the case of the vessel be as mentioned in sec. 11 (1 and 2), she is allowed to enter any port.

If, however, her case be as mentioned in sec. 11, (3), she shall not be allowed to touch at any other port than one of the market towns of the country, cases of need or accident excepted.

Sec. 13.

Until permission be given to touch the shore, after the medical examination has taken place, the vessel shall be kept isolated, and none of those on board her shall be allowed to be put on shore, nor anybody from the shore or from other vessels to go on board the same, unless it be in virtue of office or official duty. Such persons as have been on board the said vessel shall be subject to the conditions for disinfection prescribed by the Quarantine Board or the physician, and they may, if necessary, be subject to the same treatment as those arrived by the vessel.

The medical examination of the vessel and the persons on board her shall be undertaken as soon as it is feasible; if no physician be at hand, the Health Officer shall the soonest possible call the District Physician; the Master of the vessel shall, however, be permitted to seek another port attended by a resident physician.

Sec. 14.

If the physician does not find anybody on board suffering from or dead of some foreign disease, and the master gives a written asseveration that nobody on board has been suffering from or has died of such disease, either in the port of sailing or during the voyage, and the vessel has no prohibited goods on board, a certificate of health shall be conferred on her, provided that from 5 to 14 days—according to the disease in question—have elapsed since the time that the vessel was last in connection with any infected place or vessel.

In case that the above said term be not elapsed, the Quarantine Board shall—if necessary—put the vessel under quarantine until the deficient time has expired. After that time a certificate of health shall be conferred on the vessel, provided that none of those on board her have been seized by any foreign disease during the quarantine. If the vessel be a man-of-war, the examination by the District Physician may be omitted, if the surgeon gives him information of the state of health on board. The quarantine measures to be taken against the vessel, based upon these informations, pursuant to this or the following sections, shall be intimated to the Commander of the vessel.

Sec. 15.

If it be proved that the vessel, either in the port of sailing or during her voyage, has had any sick or dead on board, who may reasonably be supposed to suffer or to have suffered from some foreign disease, or else that the vessel be carrying prohibited goods, no intercourse with the land shall be allowed until she has been disinfected to such extent as the Quarantine Board or the physician may decide, and the prohibited goods, which it has not been feasible to disinfect on board, have been destroyed. After this the authorities shall proceed pursuant to the foregoing section.

Sec. 16.

If, on examination by the physician, the vessel be found to have sick or dead persons on board, who may be reasonably supposed to be or to have been affected by some foreign disease, the Quarantine Board, keeping the vessel perfectly isolated, has to take care (1) that the sick be carried to some Lazaretto, so that, if no such place be found in the port, she shall be directed to some market-town, (2) that the dead bodies be taken out of the vessel and interred, (3) that the vessel be disinfected to the needful extent, (4) that any prohibited goods, which cannot be disinfected on board, be destroyed, and (5) that the non-affected part of the crew or passengers of the vessel be isolated either in the vessel or in some particular premises on shore, until the lapse of from 5 to 14 days after the disinfection or the disembarkation.

Sec. 17.

If the Master of the vessel declares that she is only calling for coal, provisions or any other supply or order necessary for the continuation of the voyage, he may claim to be exempt from a medical examination of the vessel, against which he and his vessel shall be subject to the particular inspection, which the Quarantine Board may deem necessary to institute in order to prevent the introduction of some foreign disease into the country from the said vessel.

Sec. 18.

As to vessels conveying emigrants, and vessels which by their uncleanly condition or otherwise offer particularly unfavourable conditions for healthiness, the Quarantine Board may decide, that measures be taken pursuant to sec. 16, although the conditions for such proceedings be not otherwise extant.

Sec. 19.

The Governor in concert with the Head Physician shall draw up rules and regulations for the disinfection of vessel and goods.

If requested by the Quarantine Board, the vessel shall be bound to furnish the affordable number of hands and other assistance in disinfecting her.

Sec. 20.

If a vessel which, pursuant to sec. 12, 2nd paragraph, was to touch at a market-town, be forced by accident or case of need to seek another port, the Health Officer of that place shall without delay convoke the Quarantine Board, who have to treat the vessel according to the above sections, as far as may be possible.

If the vessel be in immediate need of assistance before the physician shall arrive, the Health Officer shall provide assistance, which shall possibly be afforded without any person from the vessel going ashore or anybody from land going on board.

The Quarantine Board shall as soon as possible direct the vessel to the nearest market-town and take care that the physician, if needed, attend the vessel.

Sec. 21.

In cases of stranded vessels and prohibited goods the nearest Quarantine Board or the Sheriff („Politimesteren“) shall cause the needful to be done as far as possible in accordance with the rules and regulations of the above sections.

If any vessel or prohibited goods, supposed to issue from some port infected by the plague, drift ashore, they should remain untouched after having been secured with due precaution, until the Sheriff on examination has decided on the proceedings to be adopted. In case the objects must be supposed to be infectious, the salvors shall be subject to proper isolation pursuant to the principles of the above sections.

Sec. 22.

The Minister for Iceland (the Governor) may, on issuing an official notification pursuant to sec. 10, at the same time prohibit or conditionalise the import from the suspected place of certain kinds of goods to be specified in the notification.

Sec. 23.

If the measles, the scarlet fever or the influenza should appear in any foreign place, widespread or of a malignant nature, the Minister (the Governor) may issue a public notification as established with respect to the foreign diseases in sec. 10, and if the case be the same with respect to any contagious disease not belonging to those designated as such in this Act, the rules and regulations established in this 4th Part may be brought into effect by Royal Mandate.

If the danger caused by a disease of the last-named kind should claim urgent measures, such may be taken by the Governor in concert with the Head Physician, so that a report shall immediately be sent to the Minister for Iceland in order to acquire Royal sanction.

5th Part.

Regulations about defraying the cost, fines, abrogation of Laws, Royal letters, &c.

Sec. 24.

For examinations pursuant to this Act there shall be due to the physician a fee of Kr. 4 for vessels of below 60 tons, of Kr. 6 for vessels of from 60 to not above 100 tons, and of Kr. 10 for vessels of above 100 tons.

The physician, besides, is entitled to free conveyance and a daily allowance according to the Act of 13th October, 1899, on the re-adjustment of the medical districts in Iceland, &c., sec. 6, however, so that the daily allowances be eventually charged also for the time, during which he may himself be subject to quarantine in consequence of his duty.

Sec. 25.

The procuring, fitting-out and maintenance of the Lazarettoes mentioned in sec. 6, are defrayed by the Public Treasury; likewise the charges for attending the sick in the Lazarettoes, for the interment of the dead and all other charges resulting from the carrying into effect of this Act, the following cases, however, excepted:

a. The vessel shall always pay the physician's fee pursuant to sec. 24, and the charges of conveying the physician on and off.

b. The vessel itself shall defray the charges resulting from the inspection mentioned in sec. 17 and in this case likewise the charges for attending the sick in the Lazarettoes and the interment of the dead; the same if the sick be brought to the Lazaretto on account of other diseases than the foreign.

c. If the vessel be a foreign fishing vessel, she shall defray all charges otherwise devolving on the Public Treasury. The same shall be applicable to all other foreign vessels, if they were not bound for any Icelandic port, and the Quarantine Board judge that they have only come in on account of disease or to pass quarantine.

d. The cost incurred pursuant to this Act in case of stranding shall be defrayed by the estate of the stranded vessel and goods, as far as it goes.

e. The charges resulting from persons having contrary to law gone on board vessels subject to quarantine, shall be defrayed by the guilty parties, so far as they may be recovered from them. The recovery shall, if necessary, take place by distraining.

Sec. 26.

The Public Treasury shall not be responsible for damages and losses caused to vessels or goods in consequence of the measures taken pursuant to this present Act.

Sec. 27.

Infringements of the rules and regulations contained in this Act or of the orders or injunctions consequent on the same shall be subject to fines of from 20 to 500 Kr.—if no higher penalty be incurred according to common laws,—and if the rules and regulations of the above Part 4 be in force, to the penalty of imprisonment (Common Penalties Act, sec. 26) or under particularly extenuating circumstances to fines of from 50 to 1000 Kr. The fines shall devolve on the Public Treasury.

If the penalty may be judged not to surpass a fine, the Quarantine Board shall be entitled to accept the offer of the guilty party of paying down a fine to the Public Treasury in order to avoid prosecution.

The goods whose importation is attempted or effected, against the prohibitions issued in consequence of this Act, shall—if they are not to be destroyed—be seized for the benefit of the Public Treasury.

Sec. 28.

Any vessel cleared out in this country shall be entitled to a Certificate from the Health Officer, purporting whether any foreign disease or other particularly named contagious disease is prevailing in the port of sailing or its vicinity. Such Certificate shall be given gratuitously.

Any party, whose term of quarantine has expired, may claim a Certificate of having passed the quarantine; and the master may claim the same on behalf of the vessel as soon as her term of quarantine has legally expired.

Sec. 29.

The Edict of 8th February, 1805, concerning the quarantine system in Denmark and Norway, and the Royal Mandate of 20th June, 1838, concerning the abrogation of Mandates of 18th May, 1787, and 27th May, 1803, for Iceland and the Färöe Islands, shall be abrogated. Further shall be abrogated the Order in Council of 6th June, 1851, concerning measures towards regulating the quarantine system, the Act of 17th December, 1875, concerning measures towards preventing the introduction of small-pox, Asiatic cholera, and other contagious diseases into Iceland, the Act of 24th October, 1879, containing amendments of the latter, and the Act of 18th December, 1897, containing amendments of the above-named Quarantine Act of 17th December, 1875.

Sec. 30.

This present Act shall be printed in Icelandic, Danish, German, English, and French, to such extent that a sufficient number of copies may be transmitted to the Danish Consuls in foreign countries, and one copy be delivered to each vessel subject to quarantine.

Sec. 31.

The above Act shall come into force from and with the first day of July, 1903.

To be attended to by all parties concerned.

Given at Amalienborg on the 6th of November, 1902.
