

hundred and four, and doth hereby impose a fine not exceeding ten pounds for any breach thereof.

A. W. FitzRoy.

SCHEDULE.

1. For the purposes of this Order Castle Bay shall be described as that part of the sea bounded on the west, north, and east by the shores of Barra Isle, and on the south-west by an imaginary straight line drawn from the south-west point of the Island of Ornsay in a north-west direction to Ru Glass.

2. All fishing boats while at anchor shall rig in jib and mizzen booms and no oars or spars are to project from stem-head or stern.

3. In selecting anchorage, masters of vessels should anchor as close to the shore as is consistent with safety so as to leave a clear fairway in mid-channel.

4. All vessels if proposing to remain in harbour more than twenty-four hours are to be moored with two anchors so as to occupy as little of the anchorage space as possible.

5. All vessels waiting to be loaded or employed in transshipping cured herrings shall remain outside the south-western boundary of the bay until they are ready to commence loading.

6. Masters and owners of vessels shall comply with any requisition made by any officer of a Government Department or Sea Fishery Officer with the view of relieving congestion of traffic and maintaining a fairway to the Pier.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 16th day of May, 1904.

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the Burial Act, 1855, it was, amongst other things, enacted that it should be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, from time to time to postpone the time appointed by any Order in Council for the discontinuance of burials, or otherwise to vary any Order in Council made under any of the Acts recited in the said Act, or under the said Act (whether the time thereby appointed for the discontinuance of burials thereunder, or other operation of such Order, should or should not have arrived), as to His Majesty, with such advice as aforesaid, might seem fit:

And whereas an Order in Council was made on the thirteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, directing the discontinuance of burials in, amongst other places, the burial ground of the Cathedral of Winchester:

And whereas Orders in Council were made on the thirteenth May, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, the thirtieth April, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, and the fourteenth July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, varying the said Order in Council of the thirteenth September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four:

And whereas it seems fit to His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, that the said Order in Council of the thirteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, as varied by the above-mentioned Orders, in so far as it affects burials in the burial ground of the Cathedral of Winchester, should be further varied:

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the said Orders shall have effect subject to the following exception or qualification, viz.:—That notwithstanding anything in the said Orders in Council of the thirteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, the thirteenth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, the thirtieth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, and the fourteenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, in a new earthen grave in the part of the said burial ground called the "Great Water Close" situated on the south side of the Lady Chapel, the burial may be allowed at or below the depth of five feet from the surface of the ground, of the body of the late Mrs. Furneaux, wife of the Very Reverend William Mordaunt Furneaux, Dean of the said Cathedral.

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the Burial Act, 1855, it was amongst other things enacted that it should be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, from time to time to postpone the time appointed by any Order in Council for the discontinuance of burials, or otherwise to vary any Order in Council made under any of the Acts recited in the said Act, or under the said Act (whether the time thereby appointed for the discontinuance of burials thereunder, or other operation of such Order, should or should not have arrived), as to His Majesty, with such advice as aforesaid, might seem fit:

And whereas an Order in Council was made on the fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, directing the discontinuance of burials in amongst other places the Parish Church and churchyard of Stathern, in the county of Leicester:

And whereas it seems fit to His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, that so much of the said Order as relates to the parish of Stathern be varied:

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that so much of the said Order of the fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, as relates to the Parish Church and churchyard of Stathern, be varied so that, notwithstanding anything therein, it shall be lawful to bury the body of the late Reverend John William Taylor in that part of the Churchyard of Stathern, in the county of Leicester, which was in existence at the date of the said Order, at or below the depth of five feet from the surface of the ground, in a grave space in which no interment has heretofore taken place.
