

Cathedral Church of York, and of William Donaldson Cruddas, of Haughton Castle, in the county of Northumberland, Esquire, one of Your Majesty's Justices of the Peace as the patrons of the vicarage of the said new parish of Wallington (in testimony whereof they, the said consenting parties, have respectively signed and sealed this representation), we, the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, humbly represent that it would, in our opinion, be expedient that all those contiguous portions of the said parish of Beddington, and of the said new parish of Wallington, which are described in the schedule hereunder written, all which portions, together with the boundaries thereof, are delineated and set forth on the map or plan hereunto annexed, should be united and formed into one consolidated chapelry for the said church of Saint Michael and All Angels, situate at South Beddington as aforesaid, and that the same should be named 'The Consolidated Chapelry of Saint Michael and All Angels, South Beddington.'

"We therefore humbly pray that Your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into Your Royal consideration, and to make such Order in respect thereto as to Your Majesty in Your Royal wisdom shall seem meet.

"The SCHEDULE to which the foregoing Representation has reference.

"The Consolidated Chapelry of Saint Michael and All Angels, South Beddington, comprising:—

"All those contiguous portions of the parish of Beddington and of the new parish (sometime district chapelry) of Wallington, both in the county of Surrey and in the diocese of Southwark, which taken together are comprised within and are bounded by an imaginary line commencing at the point where the Epsom and Croydon Branch Line of the London, Brighton and South Coast Railway crosses the boundary which divides the said parish of Beddington from the said new parish of Wallington, and extending thence southward along the said boundary for a distance of sixteen chains or thereabouts to the point where it crosses the middle of Stafford-road, and extending thence westward along the middle of Stafford-road for a distance of sixteen chains or thereabouts to its junction with Woodcote-road, and extending thence southward along the middle of Woodcote-road, and of its continuation known as Carshalton-lane (thereby crossing the boundary which divides the said new parish of Wallington from the said parish of Beddington) for a distance of fifty-four chains or thereabouts to the point where Carshalton-lane is intersected by the road leading from Little Woodcote to Sandy-lane, and extending thence in a straight line due east (thereby crossing Sandy-lane and Plough-lane) for a distance of one mile and twenty-five chains or thereabouts to a point on the eastern side of the roadway known as Merebank upon the boundary which divides the said parish of Beddington from the parish of Croydon, in the said county of Surrey, and in the diocese of Canterbury, and extending thence northward along the last-mentioned boundary (thereby following the course of Merebank and of Merebank-lane) for a distance of one mile and twenty-one chains or thereabouts to the point where the last-mentioned boundary is crossed by the middle of the said Epsom and Croydon Branch Line of the London, Brighton and South Coast Railway, and extending thence south-westward along the middle of the said line of railway for a distance of one mile and five chains or thereabouts to the boundary which divides the said parish of Beddington from the said new parish of Wallington, at which point the said imaginary line commenced."

And whereas the said representation has been approved by His Majesty in Council: now, therefore, His Majesty, by and with the advice of His said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said representation, and to order and direct that the same and every part thereof shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette pursuant to the said Acts; and His Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the said diocese of Southwark.

A. W. FitzRoy.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 2nd day of November, 1907.

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by section two hundred and fourteen of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, it is amongst other things provided that a local authority hereinafter mentioned whose district includes a seaport may, with the approval of the Board of Trade, make bye-laws relating to seamen's lodging-houses in their district, and those bye-laws shall be binding upon all persons keeping houses in which seamen are lodged, and upon the owners thereof and persons employed therein, and further that such bye-laws shall amongst other things provide for the licensing, inspection, and sanitary conditions of seamen's lodging-houses, for the publication of the fact of a house being licensed for the due execution of the bye-laws for preventing the obstruction of persons engaged in securing that execution, for the preventing of persons not duly licensed holding themselves out as keeping or purporting to keep licensed houses, and for the exclusion from licensed houses of persons of improper character, and shall impose sufficient fines, not exceeding fifty pounds, for the breach of any bye-law, and that whenever His Majesty in Council orders that in any district or any part thereof, none but persons duly licensed in pursuance of bye-laws under this section shall keep seamen's lodging-houses or let lodgings to seamen from a date therein named, a person acting in contravention of that Order shall for each offence be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds:

And whereas it is also provided by the said section that the expression "Local Authority" means in the administrative county of London the County Council and elsewhere in England the Local Authority under the Public Health Acts, and the expression "district" means the area under the authority of such Local Authority:

And whereas the Council of the County Borough of Swansea is the Local Authority under the Public Health Acts and a Local Authority within the meaning of the said section:

And whereas the said Local Authority have with the approval of the Board of Trade made the bye-laws set out in the Schedule hereto:

Now, therefore, His Majesty in Council, by virtue of the powers vested in Him by the said
