At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 21st day of December, 1907.

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by "The Weights and Measures Act, 1878," it is (among other things) provided that it shall be lawful for His Majesty from time to time, by Order in Council, to define the amount of error to be tolerated in local Standards, when verified or re-verified by the Board of Trade, or when re-verified by such a local comparison as is authorized by section forty-one of the said Act; and to revoke and vary any Order made for the purposes of the Act:

And whereas it is by the same Act provided, that the provisions of the said Act with respect to defining the amount of error to be tolerated in local Standards when verified or re-verified, shall apply to defining the amount of error to be tolerated in any copies of the models of gas-holders verified and deposited in the Standards Department of the Board of Trade, as are provided by any Justices, Council, Commissioners, or other local authority in pursuance of the Act twenty-second and twenty-third Victoria, chapter sixty-six, intituled "An Act for regulating measures used in the sales of gas," and of the Acts amending the same:

And whereas by an Order in Council dated the twenty-ninth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, there were defined the amounts of error to be then tolerated in the local Standards, when verified or re-verified by the Board of Trade, referred to in the Schedule annexed to the said Order:

And whereas it is by section fifteen of "The Weights and Measures Act, 1889," provided that the provisions of that Act and of "The Weights and Measures Act, 1878," as to the verification and re-verification of local and working Standards shall apply to the Standards used by any local authority in testing meters under the Act twenty-second and twenty-third Victoria, chapter sixty-six:

And whereas also by an Order in Council dated the fifteenth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, there were defined the amounts of error to be then tolerated in local Standards when re-verified by a local comparison in the presence of a Justice of the Peace, as referred to in the Schedule annexed to the said Order:

And whereas it has been now made to appear that further amounts of errors should be hereafter tolerated on such Standards and that there should be also defined the amounts of errors to be hereafter tolerated on certain other denominations of local Standards:

And whereas it is expedient that the said Orders so made should be revoked:

Now therefore, His Majesty, by virtue of the power vested in Him by the said Act, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, is pleased to revoke the said Orders of the twenty-ninth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, and of the fifteenth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, respectively, and to define that the amounts of errors set forth in the Schedule hereto may, from and after the date of this Order, be tolerated in local Standards when verified or re-verified by the Board of Trade, or when re-verified by such a local comparison as is authorized by section forty-one of the said Act.
