There is in the county of Surrey and my diocese of Southwark the vicarage of Mortlake, the parish whereof lies adjoining to the ecclesiastical parish of Kew and the consolidated chapelry of St. Luke, Richmond, and contains, according to the census of one thousand nine hundred and one, a population of eight thousand one hundred and seventy-seven, but now contains a population of seventeen thousand.

"2. The net annual value of the benefice of Mortlake arising from tithe rentcharge, dividends from the Ecclesiastical Commissioners and Queen Anne's Bounty, surplice fees, pew rents, and Easter offerings is four hundred and twenty-five pounds.

"3. In the same county and diocese is the vicarage of Kew, the ecclesiastical parish whereof contains, according to the census of one thousand nine hundred and one, a population of two thousand six hundred and ninety-nine.

"4. The net annual value of the benefice of Kew arising from tithe rentcharge and other sources is four hundred and eighty pounds.

"5. In the same county and diocese is the consolidated chapelry of St. Luke, Richmond, which contains, according to the census of one thousand nine hundred and one, a population of three thousand six hundred and eighty-five.

"6. The net annual value of the benefice of St. Luke, Richmond, arising from pew rents, dividends from the Ecclesiastical Commissioners and Queen Anne's Bounty, Easter offerings, surplice fees, and other sources is three hundred pounds.

"7. It appears to me (1) that a certain district of the ecclesiastical parish of Mortlake, being contiguous to the ecclesiastical parish of Kew, may under the provisions of the said Act of the first and second Victoria, cap. 106, and of the Act of the second and third years of the same reign, cap. 49, be advantageously separated from the said ecclesiastical parish of Mortlake and united to the said ecclesiastical parish of Kew, and also (2) that a certain other district of the said parish of Mortlake, being contiguous to the said consolidated chapelry of St. Luke, Richmond, may, under the provisions of the said Acts, also be advantageously separated from the said ecclesiastical parish of Mortlake and united to the said consolidated chapelry of St. Luke, Richmond.

And I do hereby submit the same to your Grace, together with the consents in writing of the said patrons and of the said Reverend Horace Granville Monroe and the said Reverend William Henry Bliss, and in case you shall, on full consideration and inquiry, be satisfied therewith, I request that your Grace will be pleased to certify the same and the consents of the patrons thereto to His Majesty in Council."
