Given under my hand at Whitehall, this 23rd day of April, 1913.

R. McKenna,

One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

The Right Honourable Reginald McKenna, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has appointed Leo Ridley Sowerby and Robert William Ball to be Sub-Inspectors of Quarries.

Whitehall, 28th April, 1913.

In pursuance of Section 1 of the Rules Publication Act, 1893, notice is hereby given that the Secretary of State for the Home Department proposes, at the expiration of 40 days from the publication of this notice, to make an Order under Section 59 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, rescinding (1) so much of the Order of the 4th May, 1903, as relates to the night employment of young persons in factories engaged in the refining of loaf sugar, in mineral dressing floors in Cornwall, and in factories and workshops connected with lead and zinc mines, and (2) the following Orders extending the special exception by which a male young person may be employed during the night:—

(a) the Order of 9th August, 1904, relating to the processes of pressing and reeling cordite and nitrating and moulding gun-cotton carried on in non-textile factories:

(b) the Order of 18th February, 1905, relating to the process of continuous wire drawing carried on in non-textile factories:

(c) the Order of 16th April, 1911, relating to the process of making artificial silk fibre carried on in non-textile factories:

subject in each case to a provision that any young person who was lawfully engaged in pursuance of any of the said Orders on the 29th April, 1913, may continue to be so employed as if the rescinding Order had not been made.

Whitehall, 29th April, 1913.
