The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by section 21 of the Pluralities Act, 1838, after reciting that "Whereas from the increase of population, or from other circumstances, it may be expedient that two or more benefices which have been heretofore united, or which may be hereafter united, under the provisions of this Act should be disunited," it is, amongst other things, enacted "that when two or more benefices shall have been united, or may be hereafter united into one benefice, and with respect to his own diocese it shall appear to the Archbishop of the Province, or the Bishop of any diocese shall represent to the said Archbishop of the Province, that one or more of the benefices within his diocese, of which such united benefice shall consist, may be separated therefrom with advantage to the interests of religion, the said Archbishop shall inquire into the circumstances of the case, and, if on such inquiry, it shall appear to him that such union may be usefully dissolved, so far as respects such benefice or benefices, he shall, six weeks at least before certifying such inquiry to His Majesty as hereinafter directed, cause, with respect to his own diocese a statement in writing of the facts, and in all other cases a copy in writing of the aforesaid Representation to be affixed on or near the principal outer door of the church or in some public and conspicuous place in each of the benefices forming part of the united benefice, with notice to any person or persons interested that he, she, or they may, within such six weeks, show cause in writing under his, her, or their hands to the said Archbishop against any such disunion, and, if no sufficient cause be shown within such time, the Archbishop shall certify the inquiry and consent, when the patron's consent is necessary, to His Majesty in Council, and thereupon it shall be lawful for His Majesty to issue an Order for separating such last-mentioned benefice, or benefices, from such united benefice, and for declaring the rights of patronage of the several patrons, if there be more than one patron, and such Order shall be registered in the Registry of the diocese to which such united benefice shall belong, which Order the registrar of such diocese, immediately on the receipt thereof, is hereby required to register accordingly, and thereupon immediately, if such united benefice shall be then vacant, otherwise on the first avoidance thereof, such union shall be ipso facto dissolved, so far only as regards such benefice or benefices so proposed to be separated from such united benefice, but in all other respects shall remain in full force and effect, and thenceforward such last-mentioned benefice or benefices shall be and be deemed and taken to be a separate and distinct benefice or benefices to all intents and purposes whatever as if no such union had taken place, and the patron or patrons thereof shall and may according to the terms of such Order present or nominate thereto respectively, and so, from time to time, upon each and every avoidance of the same: Provided always, that no benefices which have been united for more than sixty years before the passing of this Act shall be disunited without the consent in writing of the patron or patrons thereof."

And whereas by section 23 of the said Act it is further enacted that "whenever two or more benefices which have at any time been united into one benefice shall be disunited and become separate benefices under the provisions of this Act, whether the Order for disunion shall extend to the whole number of benefices of which such united benefice consisted or to one

"And we do hereby certify the inquiry aforesaid to Your Majesty in Council to the intent that Your Majesty in Council may in case Your Majesty in Council shall think fit so to do make and issue an Order for the disunion of the said united benefice by the separation of the Vicarage of Ferring from the Vicarage of East Preston with Kingston so as to constitute each of such benefices a separate benefice with cure of souls for Ecclesiastical purposes only, and we recommend that after the said disunion shall have been carried into effect the benefice of Ferring and the benefice of East Preston with Kingston shall respectively bear, pay, and discharge all the outgoings which are charged upon the income which they shall respectively hold and enjoy, and that the endowment to be appropriated to the benefice of Ferring shall consist of the income of £1,474 5s. 2d. APPENDIX.

RULES REGULATING APPEALS TO THE FULL COURT OF THE SUPREME COURT OF THE COLONY OF SIERRA LEONE FROM THE SUPREME COURT OF THE COLONY OF THE GAMBIA.

Where Appeal Lies.

1. Any party aggrieved by any decision of the Supreme Court of the Colony of the Gambia (hereinafter called the Court below) may apply to the Court below for leave to appeal to the Full Court of the Supreme Court of the Colony of Sierra Leone (hereinafter called the Appeal Court), and thereupon leave to appeal shall, subject to the limitations and conditions hereinafter contained be granted to the applicant, but not otherwise. Provided always that, in every final judgment, the Appeal Court may give leave to appeal on such terms as that Court thinks fit.

Interlocutory Orders.

2. The Court below shall not give leave to appeal from an interlocutory order, unless it shall consider such Appeal to be reasonable and proper, and in such case it shall transmit to the Appeal Court, along with the Record of Appeal, a brief statement of the grounds upon which the Appeal has been allowed. Any doubt which may arise as to what decrees or orders are final, and what are interlocutory, shall be determined by the Appeal Court.

Exparte Orders.

3. An Appeal does not lie from an order made "exparte." Any person aggrieved by such an order may apply to the Court by which it is made to vary or discharge it, and an Appeal lies from the decision on that application in like manner as from other orders or decisions.

Order as to Costs or by Consent.

4. No order as to costs only, or order made by consent of parties, shall be subject to any appeal, except by special leave of the Court below or the Appeal Court.

Conditions of Appeal.

5. In no case shall leave to appeal be granted, unless within one month after his application for leave to appeal the Appellant shall have given security to the satisfaction of the Court below, in terms of the form of bond contained in the Schedule A hereto, for payment of all such costs as may be awarded to any Respondent by the Appeal Court and shall have paid into the Court below the amount of the expense of making up and transmission to the Appeal Court of the Record of Appeal, and shall have given notice of the Appeal to all parties directly affected by the Appeal and to such others as Respondents, as the Court below thinks fit to direct, and unless within 7 days after the expiration of such month he shall have filed a further application for leave to appeal.

Provided that where the conditions of appeal have not been perfected within such period as aforesaid, or where the Appeal shall for any reason have lapsed, or been abandoned, and the Appellant shall again make application for leave to appeal the Court may either refuse to grant leave or may impose any terms that it thinks proper, in addition to the terms above mentioned.

Limitation of Time for Appeals.

6.—(1.) After fourteen days from the date of an interlocutory order, application for leave to appeal shall not be entertained.

(2.) After three months from the date of a final judgment, application for leave to appeal shall not be entertained by the Court below.

(3.) After six months from the date of a final judgment, application for leave to appeal shall not be entertained by the Appeal Court: Provided that if there shall be no sitting of the Appeal Court within six months from the date of a final judgment, and notice to move the Appeal Court shall have been given within such period, the motion may be dealt with, and leave to appeal granted at the next sitting of the Appeal Court whenever the same may be held.

Execution.

7. An Appeal shall not operate as a stay of execution or of proceedings under the decision appealed from, except so far as the Court below or the Appeal Court may order; and no intermediate act or proceeding shall be invalidated, except so far as the Court below may direct.

Grounds of Appeal to be Filed.

8. The Appellant shall, within seven days after obtaining leave to appeal, file in the Court below the grounds of his appeal, and shall cause a copy of such grounds of appeal to be served on the Respondent.

9. On the Appellant failing to file such grounds of appeal within the prescribed time, unless the time for so doing shall have been extended by the Appeal Court or the Court below, he shall be deemed to have abandoned the appeal.

Appeal Court may Amend.

10. The Appellant may at any time, by leave of the Appeal Court, amend or add to the grounds of his Appeal.

Record of Appeal.

11. On the expiration of fourteen days after leave to appeal has been given, the Court below shall, without the application of any party, make up the Record of Appeal, which shall consist of the Writ of Summons, the Pleadings (if any), a certified copy of all documents admitted as evidence or tendered as evidence and rejected, and of the Court's Notes of Evidence, and the Grounds of Appeal. The several pieces shall be consecutively numbered and fastened together, and, along with a list thereof, authenticated by the signature of the Judge of the Court below, shall be forthwith forwarded by that Court to the Registrar of the Appeal Court.

Appeal Case.

12. Along with the Record of Appeal the Court below shall transmit to the Appeal Court a case, which may be agreed on between the parties, but shall be settled by the Court. The case shall state the cause of action, the facts found by the Court, and the Court's determination thereon in point of law.

Original Documents.

13. The Court below shall not, except for some special cause, take upon itself the charge of transmission of original letters or documents produced in evidence. They shall be returned to the parties producing them, and they must be prepared to produce the originals, if required by the Appeal Court, before or at the hearing of the Appeal.

Control over Suit while Appeal pending.

14. Notwithstanding that the Record of Appeal has been transmitted to the Appeal Court, until the Appeal is disposed of, every application in the suit or matter shall be made to the Court below: Provided that after the sitting during which the Appeal is set down for hearing has commenced to be held, then the Appeal Court shall be in possession of the whole suit or matter as between the parties to the Appeal, and every application in the suit or matter shall be made to the Appeal Court and not to the Court below.

Additional Security.

15. The Appeal Court may, where requisite, require security for costs or for performance of the Orders to be made on Appeal, in addition to what the Court below has thought fit to direct, and may make any interim order or injunction which the Court below is authorized to make, and which may be necessary.

Notice to Parties in Interlocutory Appeals.

16. If the Appeal is from an interlocutory order, the Court shall not cause notice to be given to the parties of the day when the Appeal will be disposed of, unless under special circumstances it thinks fit to do so; but where a party to the Appeal notifies to the Court below his desire to attend, he shall be at liberty to do so, and to be heard, and shall be entitled to have not less than 21 days' notice through the Court below of the date of the Session of the Appeal Court at which the Appeal will be set down for hearing.

Notice in Appeals on Merits.

17. If the Appeal is from a final decision or Order after trial or hearing of any suit or matter, the Registrar of the Appeal Court shall, after receiving the Record of Appeal, give not less than 21 days' notice through the Court below to the parties to the Appeal of the date of the commencement of the Session of the Appeal Court at which the Appeal will be set down for hearing.

Appearance of Parties.

18. The Appeal Court may, if it thinks fit, require the parties to an Appeal to appear personally before it on the hearing of the Appeal, or on any occasion pending the Appeal; otherwise personal appearance shall not be obligatory.

Evidence.

19. It is not open as of right to any party to an Appeal to adduce new evidence in support of his original case; but for the furtherance of justice the Appeal Court may, where it thinks fit, allow or require new evidence to be adduced. A party may, by leave of the Court, allege any facts essential to the issue that have come to his knowledge after the decision of the Court below, and adduce evidence in support of such allegations.

No Interlocutory Order to prejudice the Decision on Appeal.

20. No interlocutory order from which there has been no Appeal shall operate so as to bar or prejudice the Appeal Court from giving such decision upon the Appeal as may seem just.

General Powers of Appeal Court.

21. The Appeal Court may, when it is in possession of the whole suit or matter, from time to time make any order necessary for determining the real question in controversy in the Appeal, and may amend any defect or error in the Record of the Appeal; and may direct the Court below to inquire into and certify its finding on any question which the Appeal Court thinks fit to determine before final judgment in the Appeal, and generally shall have as full jurisdiction over the whole suit or matter as if the same had been instituted and prosecuted in the Appeal Court as a Court of First Instance and may re-hear the whole case, or may remit it to the Court below to be re-heard, or to be otherwise dealt with as the Appeal Court directs.

Judgment in Appeal.

22. The Appeal Court shall have power to draw inferences of fact and to give any judgment, and make any order which ought to have been made, and to make such further or other order as the case may require. These powers may be exercised by the Court, notwithstanding that the Appellant may have asked that part only of the decision may be reversed or varied, and may also be exercised in favour of all or any of the Respondents or parties, although such Respondents or parties may not have appealed from or complained of the decision.

Transmission of Decrees.

23. All decrees and orders made by the Appeal Court shall be embodied in a certificate under Seal of the Appeal Court and the hand of the presiding Judge, and such certificate shall be transmitted by the Registrar of the Appeal Court to the Registrar of the Court below, who shall forthwith acknowledge its receipt, and thereupon every such decree or order shall be carried out and enforced by the Court below in like manner as original decrees and orders of that Court are carried out and enforced.

Point Reserved or Special Case.

24. The Court below may, without the consent of parties, direct judgment to be entered provisionally for the Plaintiff or Defendant, subject to any point of law which it may reserve for further argument or consideration, or subject to a special case for the opinion of the Appeal Court.

Special Case.

25. Every such special case shall be jointly agreed upon by the parties whenever practicable, and settled by the Court below. Every such special case shall state concisely such facts and documents as shall be necessary to enable the Appeal Court to decide the questions raised thereby. The Appeal Court shall be at liberty to draw any inference, whether of fact or law, which might have been drawn on the trial. The Appeal Court may send back such case for amendment, if necessary, with any instruction it may deem requisite, and may require the Court below to certify its finding upon any question of fact arising in the suit or matter, and to receive further evidence, if necessary, and may make such order as it shall deem fit, and judgment in such suit or matter shall be entered in terms of such order. But such judgment shall not, unless the parties shall so agree, preclude any of the parties to a suit or matter from bringing any Appeal which he might otherwise under these rules have brought from such judgment.

26. It shall not be necessary for the Appeal Court to hear any argument upon the special case; but if any of the parties so desire he may be heard thereon. If at or before the special case being settled in the Court below any party to the suit or matter shall intimate to the Court his desire to be heard thereon in the Appeal Court, the Court below shall inform the Registrar of the Appeal Court, and the Registrar of the Appeal Court shall in such case cause notice to be given to the parties through the Court below, or otherwise, as may seem most convenient, of the time and place at which they may be heard, and shall hear any of the parties who may then and there appear, and thereafter shall give judgment upon such special case, whether all or any of the parties shall have appeared or been heard or otherwise.

Fees.

27. The fees specified in the Schedule B shall be paid by the party prosecuting the cause or proceeding, and may be afterwards recovered as costs of cause if the Court shall so order.

Costs of Improper Appeals.

28. If in any Appeal it shall appear to the Appeal Court that such Appeal has been made improperly or without any reasonable cause, the Appeal Court may call on the Solicitor of the Appellant to show cause why all costs occasioned by the Appeal should not be disallowed as between the Solicitor and the Appellant, and also (if the circumstances of the case require) why the Solicitor should not repay to the Appellant any costs which the Appellant may have been ordered to pay to any other person, and thereupon may make such order as the justice of the case may require. Such notice (if any) of the proceedings shall be given to the Appellant in such manner as the Appeal Court may direct.

Practitioners.

29. Every person admitted to practise as a barrister or solicitor in the Court below shall, upon proof of his admission as aforesaid, be entitled to practise before the Appeal Court so far as relates to Appeals in that Court from the Court below, but not further or otherwise.

Publication of Rules, Decrees, &c., of Appeal Court by the Court Below.

30. The Court below shall publish in like manner as its own notifications are published all Notices, Rules, Decrees, Orders, and such other matters as shall be transmitted to it by the Appeal Court for that purpose.

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the Burial Act, 1853, as amended by the Burial Act, 1900, it is enacted that, in case it appear to His Majesty in Council, upon the Representation of the Local Government Board, that, for the protection of the public health, the opening of any new burial ground in any city or town, or within any other limits, save with the previous approval of the Local Government Board, should be prohibited, or that burials in any city or town, or within any other limits, or in any burial grounds or places of burial, should be wholly discontinued, or should be discontinued subject to any exception or qualification, it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order that no new burial ground shall be opened in any city or town, or within such limits, without such previous approval, or (as the case may require) that, after a time mentioned in the Order, burials in such city or town, or within such limits, or in such burial grounds or places of burial, shall be discontinued wholly, or subject to any exceptions or qualifications mentioned in such Order, and so from time to time as circumstances may require: Provided always that notice of such Representation, and of the time when it shall please His Majesty to order the same to be taken into consideration by the Privy Council, shall be published in the London Gazette, and shall be affixed on the doors of the churches or chapels of, or on some other conspicuous places within, the parishes affected by such Representation, one month before such Representation is so considered: Provided also that no such Representation shall be made in relation to the burial ground of any parish until ten days' previous notice of the intention to make such Representation shall have been given to the Incumbent and the Vestry Clerk or Churchwardens of such parish:

And whereas by the Burial Act, 1855, it is, amongst other things, enacted that it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, from time to time to postpone the time appointed by any Order in Council for the discontinuance of burials, or otherwise to vary any Order in Council made under any of the Acts recited in the said Act, or under the said Act (whether the time thereby appointed for the discontinuance of burials thereunder, or other operation of such Order, shall or shall not have arrived), as to His Majesty, with such advice as aforesaid, may seem fit:

And whereas by an Order in Council, dated the 11th day of January, 1859, it was (amongst other things) ordered that burials should be discontinued in the parish church and the churchyard of Kirby Misperton, in the North Riding of Yorkshire, with certain exceptions in the said Order mentioned:

And whereas by an Order in Council, dated the 29th day of November, 1859, the said Order in Council of the 11th day of January, 1859, was varied in certain particulars:
