Privy Council Office, November 27, 1914.

Notice is hereby given, in pursuance of the University of London Act, 1898, that the following amendments of Statutes 119 and 125 of the Statutes of the University of London have been made by the Senate, and that copies can be obtained on application to the Secretary to the Senate, University of London, South Kensington, S.W.

Statute 119 of the Statutes of the University to be amended by adding thereto a Proviso, the said Statute as so amended running as follows:—

“ 119. The Senate shall make provision for holding intermediate examinations for Internal Students or External Students in such subjects and at such periods and under such conditions as may be prescribed, and the Senate may if in its discretion it think fit to do so make arrangements to hold any intermediate examination or some part thereof for the Students of any School of the University jointly with the Governing Body of such School. Provided that during the continuance of the War begun in 1914 and a period of two years after the conclusion of such War the Senate shall have power to prescribe in special cases for Students of the University and of foreign Universities and foreign Institutions of similar rank whose studies have been interrupted owing to the War special examinations in lieu of the intermediate examinations for Internal or External Students.”

November 18th, 1914.

Statute 125 of the Statutes of the University to be amended by adding thereto two Clauses numbered (3) and (4), the said Statute as so amended running as follows:—

“ 125. Except as hereinafter provided no person shall be admitted to a first degree in the University as an Internal Student unless and until he has completed an approved course of study comprising all the subjects in which he presents himself and extending over not less than three years. Such three years shall be calculated from a date not earlier than matriculation unless the Senate shall either generally by regulation or in special cases allow the same to be calculated from a date not exceeding four months before matriculation. Any person who has passed the intermediate examination before he is registered as an Internal Student may be allowed to take the final examination for the first degree before the end of a three years' course provided that subsequently to passing the intermediate examination he shall have attended for two years an approved course of study for the final examination. If he passes that examination he shall be admitted
