

Distinguished Conduct Medal.—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
7441	Private ...	Merry, H. ...	2nd Battalion, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous good work on 3rd November in advancing from his own trench and assisting in driving away a party of the enemy, who were commencing to dig a new trench within 30 yards of his own. 30 of the enemy were killed on this occasion.
3282	Private ...	Meston, J. ...	6th Dragoon Guards	For great gallantry near Messines on 31st October when he went out repeatedly under very heavy shell and machine gun fire, dressed the wounds of the men of the London Scottish and carried them out of action. At the same place, during the night attack which followed, he displayed the greatest gallantry, especially in walking up alone to the trenches and shooting 5 Germans.
8574	Lance-Serjeant	Milward, A. ...	2nd Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For gallant conduct. Has always volunteered and carried out successfully duties of an extraordinarily dangerous character, such as sniping and patrol work. Has shewn great qualities of nerve and resource in difficult situations.
6828	Serjeant ...	Moore, A. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers	For many instances of gallantry during the engagement on 21st October.
6457	Corporal ...	Moreby, W. H. ...	1st Battalion, Leicestershire Regiment	For gallantry on 25th October in the engagement at the railway crossing near the factory south of Rue de Bois.
13128	Corporal of Horse	Moulson, C. E. ...	2nd Life Guards	Led his troop on 6th November, after his Officer was shot, with great resolution and gallantry under heavy fire, and assisted materially to restore confidence amongst the troops.
552	Company Serjeant-Major	Munns, A. ...	Irish Guards ...	For conspicuous gallantry on 6th November. At a critical moment he collected some men and formed a new firing line which materially helped to keep the enemy in check, and later boldly led his men in the attack with the Household Cavalry.
60522	Bombardier	Murphy, J. ...	70th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry in laying and repairing telephone wires generally under rifle as well as shell fire. Four out of the seven men employed on this work have become casualties, including himself.
4991	Serjeant ...	Nash, H. E. ...	20th Hussars ...	For coolness, gallantry and exceptionally good work during the operations of 23rd October to 4th November, near Messines.
30199	Saddler-Corporal	Newton, G. ...	15th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallantry and great coolness in handling a single gun which had been brought up into firing line, to assist infantry in demolishing a house occupied by the enemy.
6488	Private ...	Nix, W. ...	1st Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For gallantry at Le Cateau, when he left the trenches and assisted a wounded officer, who was under a heavy shell and rifle fire, to a place of safety, and then returned to the trenches.
9494	Private ...	Norfolk, F. ...	2nd Battalion, Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous courage on 26th October in continuing to work a machine gun alone, after the remainder of the party had been killed or wounded.
23111	Lance-Corporal	Nowell, F. H. ...	3rd Signal Company, Royal Engineers	For gallantry in working and repairing telephone wires to advanced trenches under heavy fire. On one occasion he continued this work after half the house he was in had been demolished by a shell.
