

SECOND SUPPLEMENT TO
The London Gazette

Of TUESDAY, the 29th of JUNE, 1915.

Published by Authority.

The Gazette is registered at the General Post Office for transmission by Inland Post as a newspaper. The postage rate to places within the United Kingdom is one halfpenny for each copy. For places abroad the rate is a halfpenny for every 2 ounces, except in the case of Canada, to which the Canadian Magazine Postage rate applies.

WEDNESDAY, 30 JUNE, 1915.

WAR OFFICE,
30th June, 1915.

His MAJESTY THE KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of the Distinguished Conduct Medal to the undermentioned Warrant Officers, Non-commissioned Officers and Men, for acts of gallantry and devotion to Duty whilst serving with the Expeditionary Force in France and Flanders.

This list appeared in the London Gazette dated 23rd June, 1915.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
198	Company Serjeant-Major	Abbott, E. W. ...	1st Battalion, Hertfordshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and marked ability at Cuinchy on 6th February, 1915. He rendered invaluable service in supporting the attack under a heavy shell fire, and showed a fine example to his men, whom he handled with much ability.
9671	Lance-Serjeant	Abbott, G. ...	1st Battalion, Middlesex Regiment	For conspicuous ability and devotion to duty. Lance-Serjeant Abbott has distinguished himself on patrol and reconnaissance work, and has frequently gained information as to the enemy's trenches.
6968	Signalling-Serjeant	Adams, E. A. ...	5th (County of London) Battalion, The London Regiment (London Rifle Brigade) (T.F.)	For conspicuous zeal and devotion to duty in repairing telephone lines both by day and night under continual shell and rifle fire, it being largely due to his personal work and supervision that communication was maintained.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
5615	Private ...	Adams, H. M. ...	Canadian Signal Company	For conspicuous gallantry from 22nd to 25th April, 1915, when telephone lines were down, in carrying orders under heavy shell and rifle fire to the St. Julien-Ypres salient.
13208	Private ..	Adams, W.... ...	2nd Battalion, South Wales Borderers (recently of the 1st Battalion)	For conspicuous gallantry from the 21st to 23rd December, 1914, near Festubert. Difficulties arose in getting necessary supplies to the men in the forward trenches, and the only known communication trench being impassable, he, with another man, carried the rations over a fire-swept zone of 1,100 yards after the ration party had been dispersed by heavy fire. He subsequently returned and took up ammunition to the same trenches.
9067	Acting-Serjeant	Adamson, S. L. ...	3rd Canadian Battalion	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty near St. Julien from 23rd to 26th April, 1915. This Non-commissioned Officer rendered valuable assistance to the Medical Officer during the engagement, going from one station to another, often under heavy rifle fire, and rendering medical assistance to the wounded on the field.
70746	Gunner ...	Addisson, G. ...	45th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry on 22nd October, 1914, at Neuve Chapelle, when he carried messages on a broken down bicycle and guided infantry to the trenches under heavy fire.
9312	Private ...	Allen, C. ...	2nd Battalion, South Staffordshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry, ability and resource throughout the campaign as a scout, bomb-thrower and guide. He has shown great courage and zeal, always ready to volunteer for any hazardous enterprise.
19616	Lance-Corporal	Allan, G. W. ...	10th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the night of 23rd-24th April, 1915, when he fought first one machine gun and then a second, until both were put out of action and their teams either killed or wounded; he then continued to fire with his rifle until killed at his post.
1382	Lance-Corporal	Allison, D. ...	9th (Glasgow Highland) Battalion, Highland Light Infantry (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 25th January, 1915, at Festubert, when, under a very heavy shell fire he, with four men, remained at an observation post in a house, although it was three times hit by direct fire. He continued under most difficult and dangerous circumstances, to send valuable information to his Company Officer.
9811	Corporal ...	Amison, A. ...	1st Battalion, North Staffordshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in taking up and maintaining a machine gun position under shell fire. Corporal Amison was for some time the only man with the gun.
542	Lance-Corporal	Anderson, G. ...	1/5th (Angus and Dundee) Battalion, Royal Highlanders (T.F.)	For coolness and gallant conduct at Neuve Chapelle on the night of 11th March, 1915, in getting ammunition to the trenches under heavy fire. His general bearing was an excellent example to the remainder of his party.
4792	Bandsman	Anderson, J. ...	1st Battalion, Middlesex Regiment	For conspicuous and gallant conduct in the trenches near Armentieres. Bandsman Anderson has constantly, as a stretcher bearer, behaved gallantly and brought in wounded under fire.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
T/13248	Company Serjeant-Major	Anderton, A. A. ...	Army Service Corps	For conspicuous gallantry and continuous good service, especially at Pont Arcy on the 14th September, 1914, where, with great courage, he assisted to bring in the wounded while exposed to a very heavy fire.
8743	Acting Company Quartermaster-Serjeant	Andrews, A. ...	2nd Battalion, Highland Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on numerous occasions throughout the campaign. He frequently personally superintended the repair of telephone wires under very heavy fire and showed great courage, ability, and resource at all times in assisting to keep telephonic communications intact. His services in this direction have been invaluable.
110168	Private ...	Andrews, H. ...	2nd Battalion, Scottish Rifles (Attached to 8th Signal Company)	For conspicuous gallantry and excellent work at great personal risk at Neuve Chapelle.
1588	Serjeant ...	Archibald, A. ..	6th (Banff and Don-side) Battalion, Gordon Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on March 13th, 1915, when he carried despatches and collected wounded under heavy fire.
5580	Company Serjeant-Major	Ariss, F. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Warwickshire Regiment	For great zeal and devotion to duty from the commencement of the campaign, especially in the trenches at St. Yves. Company Serjeant-Major Ariss has set a splendid example to the men of his Company.
5175	Serjeant ...	Arthur, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry on 28th April, 1915, on "Hill 60," when, after his trench had been blown in and both Officers and several men had been buried, he re-organised the defence with great coolness and helped to dig out the buried under rifle fire.
9743	Serjeant ..	Ashworth, W. ...	1st Battalion, Liverpool Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 10th of March, 1915, at Givenchy, and on many previous occasions during the campaign. As Battalion Headquarters Orderly, he has never failed to deliver messages, often under very heavy fire, and has given a fine example of courage and devotion to duty.
4953	Company Serjeant-Major	Asplin, C. ...	2nd Battalion, Northamptonshire Regiment	During the attack on Neuve Chapelle he commanded a half-company with great gallantry and ably assisted his Company Commander, after all the other Officers had been killed.
14231	Lance-Corporal	Austin, E. J. ...	2nd Battalion, Grenadier Guards	For conspicuous gallantry and excellent work throughout the campaign as a Signaller, repairing wires under heavy fire and showing great energy and devotion to duty on all occasions.
11404	2nd Corporal	Austin, G. ...	59th Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry displayed frequently when fixing wire entanglements in front of our trenches under fire.
S/15318	Staff Serjeant Major	Avis, F. C. ..	Army Service Corps...	For gallant conduct and ability at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 13th March, 1915, where he was wounded but continued to work until ordered away. This Non-commissioned Officer has performed consistently good work.
7665	Serjeant ...	Badcock, W. ...	1st Battalion, Shropshire Light Infantry	For great gallantry and ability in erecting wire entanglements on various occasions in front of his Company, often in very dangerous positions. Serjeant Badcock has shown himself as being ever ready to undertake risky patrol work.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
8577	Private ...	Baker, W. H. ...	2nd Battalion, Lancashire Fusiliers	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty as Company Orderly. Private Baker has frequently taken messages up to the front line under heavy fire.
16884	Private ...	Ball, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Grenadier Guards	For conspicuous gallantry under fire as a stretcher bearer on many occasions, particularly at Cuinchy, where, by improvising a tourniquet under shell fire, he saved the life of a wounded man.
7705	Lance-Corporal	Barber, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Essex Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Le Touquet, early in January, 1915, in rescuing a man who had been wounded in front of the trenches while putting up barbed wire, in spite of the fact that the enemy were sending up flares and had opened a rapid fire.
2269	Serjeant ...	Barnes, E. A. ...	26th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and ability from the 20th December, 1914, to the 21st April, 1915. He has shown great zeal and resource and performed continuous good work in the trenches, constantly exposed to a heavy fire.
10142	Private ...	Barry, C. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Munster Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Givenchy on 25th January, 1915, in taking messages between battalion headquarters and the advanced trenches under a heavy fire, after the telephone line was cut.
9760	Acting Corporal	Bartlett, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Bedfordshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry in having three times gone out under heavy fire to bring wounded men into the trench.
22844	Private ...	Batchelor, C. W. ...	2nd Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at St. Julien, on 23rd April, 1915, in bringing in numerous wounded men under a heavy fire.
5824	Serjeant ...	Batty, V. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Lancaster Regiment	For conspicuous courage and resource displayed on 17th February, 1915, when, after his Company Officer had been wounded, he took command of the platoon and handled it with great coolness.
1703	Lance-Corporal	Beagin, J. ...	1/7th Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry displayed near Le Gheer on 19th April, 1915. The telephone wire having been cut at an isolated post which the enemy were shelling, Lance-Corporal Beagin at once voluntarily proceeded 100 yards across an open space, under shell and rifle fire, and connected up the post again with a spare instrument.
T/22608	Serjeant ...	Bean, J. ...	Army Service Corps ...	For great gallantry and devotion to duty in collecting wounded with his ambulance wagons under heavy fire, particularly at L'Épinette, where his conduct and resource were most commendable.
1325	Private ..	Beaney, F. ...	8th Divisional Cyclist Company, Army Cyclist Corps (late Rifle Brigade)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915. When telephonic communication was broken down he went out on several occasions from Brigade Headquarters to different battalions under heavy shell and rifle fire, taking important messages, although not knowing the exact positions of the battalions.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
9187	Acting Company Serjeant-Major	Bell, R. ...	1st Battalion, Highland Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry near Ypres on 25th April, 1915, when he left the advanced trenches under very heavy shell and rifle fire and helped to bring ammunition to the firing line, 9 out of 10 of the men carrying the ammunition being wounded. On another occasion, during the attack near Ypres on 1st May, with great coolness he organized and brought forward reinforcements to the firing line under heavy fire.
48672	Gunner ...	Bennett, E. ..	15th Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry on 17th and 18th April, 1915, near Ypres, in repairing wires and endeavouring to establish visual signalling under heavy fire.
3889	Private ...	Bennett, G. ..	1/5th Battalion, North Staffordshire Regiment (T. F.)	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty on 28th April, 1915, near Kemmel, when he took his turn with a few other men in entering a mine gallery to rescue comrades who had been overcome by gas. The rescuing party persevered till all were saved.
5967	Company Quartermaster-Serjeant	Bennett, J. H. ...	2nd Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness displayed at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March, 1915, in leading his platoon, until dangerously wounded.
1739	Corporal ...	Benton, B. ...	9th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For gallant and meritorious services during a long period with working parties in the front line. Corporal Benton greatly distinguished himself while employed on constant night work in, and in front of, our advanced trenches on the Le Bizet-St. Yves-River Rouve line.
12058	Lance-Corporal	Berry, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Highland Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry and zeal throughout the campaign. He has worked hard and rendered invaluable service under all circumstances, and, by his courage and coolness under heavy shell and rifle fire, has given an example of devotion to duty which has proved of the greatest service.
70266	Acting Bombardier	Beswick, A. ...	73rd Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry near Ypres on 27th April, 1915, in laying out a wire parallel to the front, mostly in the open, under heavy fire, and, after establishing communication, in continually going up and down repairing breaks. He was slightly wounded on two different occasions when performing these duties, and has been conspicuous throughout for gallantry and devotion to duty.
2607	Corporal ...	Bethell, W. H. ...	55th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and determination in putting up entanglements under fire.
48853	Serjeant ...	Biart, R. W. ...	5th Signal Company, Royal Engineers	For consistent good work throughout the campaign, notably during the operations against "Hill 60," when by his skill and energy he rendered great service in maintaining communication.
3899	Private ...	Binks, R. ...	2nd Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For gallant conduct on the 31st December, 1914, and following days at Guinchy in reconnoitring up to a German communication trench. Later, after a detachment had been forced back, he went out in front on two occasions and brought in two wounded men and a wounded Officer.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
22846	Private ...	Birdseye, R. W. ...	2nd Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on 23rd April, 1915, in carrying messages under heavy fire from one trench to another; also for bringing in wounded under fire.
71752	Corporal ...	Bishop, E. ...	54th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and constant good work throughout the campaign with the Forward Observing Officer.
8937	Acting Company Serjeant-Major	Blackman, W. ...	2nd Battalion, East Surrey Regiment	For consistently gallant conduct. This Non-commissioned Officer has set a fine example in continually performing acts of self-sacrifice and devotion to duty under fire, such as bringing in wounded men.
12901	Private ...	Blakeman, R. ...	1st Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, in leaving his trench and bringing in three wounded comrades.
9140	Private ...	Blanton, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Cheshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Moolenacker Farm, in front of Ypres, on 21st February, 1915, in going out to the rescue of a wounded man lying in the open. Being unable to move him, Private Blanton remained with the man until assistance arrived, during which time he was continuously fired on.
8626	Private ...	Bloomfield, T. J. ...	2nd Battalion, West Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry in leaving the trenches and recovering several wounded English and Germans. He has also volunteered for dangerous patrols.
19491	Private ...	Bloxham, C. H. ...	10th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. On the 24th April, 1915, he rescued a wounded comrade and carried him for one mile into safety whilst exposed to heavy shell fire; also on this day he assisted in gathering up and re-forming stragglers under heavy fire. On the night of 25th-26th April, while near Gravenstafel Cross Roads, he accompanied an Officer to Brigade Headquarters and, finding it in the hands of the enemy, escaped under fire.
9400	Serjeant (Acting Company Quartermaster-Serjeant)	Borley, F. W. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Fusiliers	For great gallantry and ability during the campaign, up till the time he was wounded in the Douve trenches. A very valuable Non-commissioned Officer.
7055	Corporal ..	Bowler, F. ...	2nd Battalion, Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment	For conspicuous ability and zeal during the whole period his Battalion has been on active service.
9104	Lance-Corporal	Boxall, E. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Munster Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and ability at Festubert between the 21st and 23rd December, 1914. Owing to the absence of any reports from his Battalion, he was, with two other men, sent out to locate it. This he succeeded in doing, and returned with information which enabled arrangements to be made for extricating it from a precarious position. Subsequently he acted as guide to companies of the Battalion in their withdrawal under a heavy fire through a very difficult country. Had he not displayed great courage, endurance, and marked resource, the successful withdrawal of the Battalion would have been endangered.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
9136	Company Serjeant-Major	Brannan, T. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Scots (Lothian Regiment)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near St. Eloi on 24th February, 1915, on a moonlight night while our trenches were being relieved, and the enemy were pouring in a heavy fire, in attending to wounded in the open. On the 11th March, 1915, while attending a mortally wounded man in an unfinished trench, Company Serjeant-Major Brannan was himself wounded in the head, but, displaying great fortitude, would only leave the trench after being ordered by his Company Commander.
8445	Serjeant ...	Breach, P. ...	2nd Battalion, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry	For gallant conduct and ability, as a Scout Serjeant, chiefly on the Aisne, and in front of Festubert, when, acting mainly at night, he brought in most useful information, and showed throughout the greatest zeal, energy and devotion to duty.
12242	Sapper ...	Brett, W. H. ...	9th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry on the 9th April, 1915, at Givenchy, when, engaged in erecting wire entanglements in front of the trenches, after dark, he assisted in rescuing, under a heavy fire, one of the covering party who had been wounded.
8462	Private ...	Briggs, C. ...	2nd Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty while employed with Brigade Signal Section, especially at Neuve Chapelle during 10th-14th March, 1915, when, singlehanded, he continued to work his station for many hours after the rest of the men at the station had either been killed or wounded.
9105	Private ...	Brooks, C. J. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Scots Fusiliers	For devotion to duty as a stretcher bearer. He has carried out his duties, often of a most arduous and dangerous nature, in a most praiseworthy manner.
8044	Serjeant ...	Brooks, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Munster Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry in the vicinity of Festubert between the 21st and 23rd December, 1914, when he carried a message back from the Officer commanding the Battalion, who was wounded, which greatly assisted in enabling the dispositions of the Battalion to be located. Subsequently, on various occasions, he displayed great gallantry and initiative in leading a scouting party, and in the collection and rescue of wounded men, being the whole time under a very heavy fire.
8021	Company Serjeant-Major	Brown, A. ...	1st Battalion, East Kent Regiment	For conspicuous zeal and devotion to duty. By his untiring energy and his example throughout the campaign Company Serjeant-Major Brown has done much to keep up the spirit of the men of his company. He was severely wounded while repairing a breach made by shells in the parapet.
22623	Sapper ...	Brown, A. C. ...	11th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry on the 6th February, 1915, at Cuinchy, in assisting a wounded man under heavy fire. On the 14th February 1915, near La Bassee, being left to guard the entrance to a trench, he remained there until his Officer returned, although subjected to a heavy fire.
8310	Serjeant ...	Brown, A. S. ...	2nd Battalion, Bedfordshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Ypres on 23rd October, 1914, when he carried back two wounded men to his trench under heavy rifle fire; although wounded himself in doing so, he continued to command his trench till nightfall, when he was ordered back to a dressing station.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
18494	Serjeant ...	Brown, F. C. ...	"N" Cable Section, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous zeal and devotion to duty while employed in laying and maintaining wires during the fighting near Ypres. Serjeant Brown has proved himself a very valuable Non-commissioned Officer.
1276	Lance-Corporal	Brown, O. J. ...	1st Northumbrian Field Company, Royal Engineers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on many occasions in going out over the parapets in close proximity to the enemy to execute work. On the nights of April 17th and 18th, 1915, Lance-Corporal Brown went out several times, filling in a German sap and fixing loopholes.
32713	Serjeant...	Brown, T. M. ...	No. 1 Field Ambulance, Canadian Army Medical Corps	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the night of 23rd-24th April, 1915. Being cut off from the collecting station by shell fire, he remained with the wounded near the trenches all day, and then brought all of them in safety to the station on the night of 24th April.
42332	Serjeant...	Brown, W. ...	110th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For great courage and devotion to duty in frequently laying down and repairing telephone wires under shell and rifle fire, performing this work with splendid coolness and daring.
13904	Acting-Lance-Corporal	Brownley, A. ...	1st Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry, notably on the morning of 11th April, 1915, at St. Eloi, when he went out of his trench to bring in a badly wounded man. When unable alone to effect this he came back for assistance, returned and brought the man in, although under fire and within 100 yards of the German trenches.
8380	Lance-Corporal	Brownlow, C. ...	1st Battalion, East Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous courage and ability displayed while employed on patrolling and scouting duties, and also in erecting barbed wire.
8438	Private ...	Bunsell, E. ...	1st Battalion, Royal West Kent Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty on 26th March, 1915, when he went with a Serjeant to a portion of the trench which had been blown in by shell fire, and assisted him in digging out a Lance-Corporal who had been buried. He worked for over an hour, lying on his stomach, within 30 yards of the enemy until the Lance-Corporal had been rescued.
455	Serjeant ...	Burgess, E. C. ...	9th County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (Queen Victoria's Rifles) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on 1st January, 1915, in searching for and tending wounded under heavy shell fire, and remaining in a barn which was being heavily shelled till all the wounded had been got out.
39904	Acting-Serjeant	Burgess, T. ...	116th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and good work with forward observing Officers, and especially in repairing telephone wire, and keeping open communications, generally under a heavy fire.
2536	Acting-Serjeant	Burnett, G. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 25th January, 1915, at Cuinchy, when his Commanding Officer, a Serjeant and Corporal having been killed, he established a line under a heavy fire with nine men, taking charge of the platoon and sending back valuable information.
24070	Pioneer ...	Burns, G. P. ...	1st Signal Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry in constantly volunteering to carry messages and repair lines under heavy fire. On the 31st October, 1914, in carrying a message under a heavy fire, when means of communication had nearly ceased, he was killed.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
1180	Private ...	Burrell, G. ...	7th Battalion, North- umberland Fusiliers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry during the attack on St. Jean, on 26th April, 1915, in carrying up a box of ammunition to the firing line, assisted by Private Martin, across open ground and under a heavy fire from the enemy. These men advanced entirely unsupported and were cheered by their comrades for their bravery.
3503	Private ...	Burridge, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Welsh Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th January, 1915, at Givenchy, in carrying messages to and from Brigade Headquarters under a heavy fire after the telephone lines had been cut.
7882	Serjeant ...	Burrows, E. F. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Berkshire Regi- ment	For conspicuous gallantry and cool- ness, especially at Neuve Chapelle, on 10th March, 1915, when with one of the leading companies engaged with the enemy.
8362	Serjeant ...	Busby, A. ...	2nd Battalion, South Staffordshire Regi- ment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability throughout the campaign, particularly on the 20th February, 1915, at Givenchy, in an attack on the German trench. As commander of a platoon, he has always shewn great capacity as a leader, and been noted for his courage, enterprise, and devotion to duty under fire.
3881	Acting Company Serjeant- Major	Butcher, B. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Sussex Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 29th January, 1915, at Cuinchy. During an attack on the keep, he, while under a heavy machine-gun fire, bombed the enemy, and was large- ly instrumental in defeating the attack. He has, on many occasions throughout the campaign rendered valuable service, and has invariably shewn great courage, resource and devotion to duty.
25783	Gunner ...	Butler, A. ...	1st Siege Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry, ability and resource, on the 25th January, 1915, at Cuinchy, when, the telephone wire from battery to observation post having been cut by shell fire, he went out, voluntarily, by him- self over a mile under heavy shell fire the whole way, and repaired, not only one battery line, but other lines, thereby, at great risk to himself, restoring communication generally.
5991	Serjeant ...	Butler, E. ...	1st Battalion, North Staffordshire Regi- ment	For conspicuous gallantry on 21st March, 1915, in making three successive attempts to bring in an Officer who had been wounded within a few yards of a German advanced post. Serjeant Butler had previously performed valuable recon- naissance work on the 12th March.
9739	Lance- Corporal	Butler, F. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Berkshire Regi- ment	For conspicuous gallantry and untiring zeal in patrol work in front of the trenches, on several occasions locating, under a heavy fire, the enemy's snipers. On the night of the 2nd and 3rd April, 1915, he exploded a Bangalore torpedo under the enemy's wire.
8804	Private ...	Butler, F. R. ...	1st Battalion, North- amptonshire Regi- ment.	For conspicuous gallantry and devo- tion to duty on the 29th December, 1914, at Givenchy, when he made a bold reconnaissance under a very heavy fire, and obtained and brought back valuable information.
6099	Private ...	Button, C. ...	1st Battalion, West Yorkshire Regiment	For great gallantry displayed in going out to the rescue of a man who had been wounded on an open road, under fire of the enemy 200 yards off, and carrying him to safety down a long ditch full of water.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
8860	Company Quarter-master-Serjeant	Bytheway, F.	1st Battalion, South Staffordshire Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty on 29th October, 1914, near Kruseik during a counter attack, when he personally carried a machine gun in the firing line for three quarters of a mile and only ceased firing when his ammunition was exhausted, he then continued to carry the gun till the end of the attack.
9249	Lance-Corporal	Cairns, H.	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Rifles	For conspicuous gallantry and resource at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March, 1915, under very heavy shell and rifle fire, in bringing forward 17 men who had become separated from their Company, and returning several times and collecting small parties of stragglers and leading them to the firing line.
27155	Serjeant	Calder, J. M.	15th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty from 22nd April to 3rd May 1915, in carrying messages and maintaining communication under fire.
9955	Acting Corporal	Carey, A.	1st Battalion Cheshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty as a stretcher bearer notably at Violaines, where, though warned that he would come under fire of a sniper at short range, he went out and fetched a wounded man; also at Wulverghem where he brought a wounded man back from within 35 yards of the enemy, and volunteered to bring another, but was ordered not to do so.
7912	Private	Carr, J.	2nd Battalion, Lancashire Fusiliers	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty as company orderly. Private Carr has frequently taken messages up to the front line under heavy fire.
1370	Serjeant	Carr, R. H.	Royal Flying Corps (Now 2nd Lieutenant Special Reserve)	For the conspicuous gallantry and ability with which he has carried out the duties of a pilot.
6735	Acting Serjeant	Carrington, F.	2nd Battalion, West Riding Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 18th April, 1915, in the assault on "Hill 60." He led his platoon, rallied his men when they wavered under very heavy fire, and subsequently led them in the final successful charge.
12751	Serjeant	Carter, T. B.	19th Field Ambulance, Royal Army Medical Corps	For most conspicuous and gallant conduct and devotion to duty at Honplines in tending the wounded under heavy fire, being often continuously on duty by day and night. This Non-commissioned Officer has previously displayed great gallantry in assisting the wounded under fire.
7685	Private	Cartwright, J.	14th Field Ambulance, Royal Army Medical Corps	For conspicuous devotion to duty since August 1914, in tending the wounded frequently under fire. On 25th February, 1915, he was reported for "most heroic" conduct under shell fire.
5077	Lance-Corporal	Casement, R. J.	1st Field Company, Canadian Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry near Ypres on night of 28th-29th April, 1915, in going to an Officer who lay wounded near the German line, accompanied by three others, and carrying him in on a stretcher, under a heavy shell and rifle fire. Lance-Corporal Casement has also done excellent work in the construction of a bridge over the Yser and in protection of the canal bridges during operations 22nd April to 5th May 1915.
61370	Corporal	Cassell, S.	21st Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct and ability while employed on observation work, especially at l'EpINETTE on 10th March, 1915, when he successfully kept up communication with his battery under a heavy rifle fire.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
5646	Corporal ...	Casstles, E. ...	Canadian Signal Company	For conspicuous gallantry near Ypres from 22nd to 28th April, 1915, in repairing telegraph and telephone lines under heavy shell fire, and maintaining communication.
11929	Sapper ...	Catlin, H. G. ...	15th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, in continuing to make loopholes and block up openings in a wall, under heavy rifle and machine-gun fire, and completing the work though bricks were frequently knocked down after being set in position. Sapper Catlin has previously displayed great steadiness under fire.
1517	Private ...	Chadderton, G. O.	4th Battalion, North-umberland Fusiliers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on 26th May, 1915, during the advance, in volunteering to carry a message across the open and under heavy fire, from St. Julien to Wieltje. He then returned with the answer, and again volunteered for and performed the same duty, showing great courage throughout.
14988	Sapper ...	Chapman, S. M. ...	1st General Headquarters' Signal Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on several occasions near Ypres under heavy shell fire; also on 30th October, 1914, near Klein Zillebeke.
15657	Corporal ...	Charley, A....	42nd Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty while in charge of the telephone cart and signallers of Brigade headquarters since the beginning of the campaign. He has frequently laid and repaired telephone wires under fire.
9837	Private ...	Charman, W. H. ...	2nd Battalion, East Lancashire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Neuve Chapelle on 25th January, 1915, in going out under a heavy fire and rendering first aid to two wounded men. In doing so he was badly wounded.
6070	Serjeant ..	Chart, W. ...	1st Battalion, Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment	For gallant conduct at Neuve Chapelle, on night of 19th-20th February, 1915, in laying a breast-work across a road under heavy rifle fire. On more than one occasion Serjeant Chart has voluntarily carried out dangerous work under fire. He has set a fine example and proved himself a good leader.
10297	Lance-Corporal	Chawk, H. ...	2nd Battalion, Gordon Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March, 1915, when he carried important messages under very heavy fire.
24800	Sapper ...	Chorlerton, W. ...	5th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For gallant conduct when employed in the construction of Fort Boyd redoubt, where he worked in front of the redoubt under a heavy sniping fire for several days. One of the four men employed was killed and one was wounded.
5	Serjeant ...	Christie, A....	1/5th (Angus and Dundee) Battalion, Royal Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous zeal and ability at Neuve Chapelle from 10th-14th March, 1915, when in charge of a working party, for the most part of the time under fire, he set a fine example to the men under him.
8377	Private ...	Church, G. ...	2nd Battalion, Welsh Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th January, 1915, at Givenchy when, under a very heavy shell fire, he went forward to open communications with the Gloucestershire Regiment, and for gallant conduct and devotion to duty on many previous occasions in the firing line.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
7387	Serjeant ...	Clarkburn, J. ...	1st Battalion, North- umberland Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry at St. Eloi, on the night of 14th April, 1915, when, after extricating himself from the ruins of a fortified house which had been blown up by a mine, he assisted to extricate his men and restored order with great coolness.
12237	Private ...	Clarke, G. ...	3rd Battalion, Wor- cestershire Regi- ment (Now No. 34882, Royal Engineers)	For conspicuous gallantry as a lines- man during the battle of Ypres, and for excellent work since on various occasions.
6931	Serjeant ...	Clarke, J. ...	1st Battalion, North- umberland Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and devo- tion to duty on the night of 14th April, 1915, when after a mine had been exploded in front of the house he was in and half the garrison were wounded or buried, he gallantly rallied the remainder to man the trench. It was largely owing to his untiring efforts that so many men were extricated.
513	Serjeant ...	Clarke, J. S. ...	Motor Machine-gun Service	For conspicuous devotion to duty during the attack on "Hill 60" on 17th and 18th April, 1915, especially in assisting to dig out guns and men who had been buried by shell fire.
1126	Company- Serjeant- Major	Clay, G. E....	3rd Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For conspicuous gallantry on 15th February, 1915, in going out by daylight under fire to assist in bringing in wounded men. This Non-commissioned Officer has been noted for consistent good work and has set a fine example to his men when under fire.
4985	Serjeant ...	Clements, S. O. ...	9th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and cool- ness on night of 2nd May, 1915, in leading his section and superintend- ing their work under heavy shell fire in the absence of the section Officer. Also on 1st May, he tried to rescue men from a dug-out in Potijze wood which was struck by shell, during a heavy bombardment, when five men were killed, and three wounded.
6922	Lance- Corporal	Cleveland, A. ..	2nd Battalion, South Lancashire Regi- ment	For conspicuous gallantry on many occasions when acting as stretcher- bearer, and notably near Ypres between 10th and 17th November, 1914, when he led his party several times across a fire-swept zone to bring in the wounded.
48009	Serjeant- Major (formerly Quarter- master- Serjeant, Royal Artillery)	Clifton, A. E. ...	Canadian Army Medical Corps	For conspicuous gallantry, coolness and devotion to duty at Vlamertinghe on 27th April, 1915, in assisting to move wounded from the church to a place of safety whilst under fire.
9359	Private ...	Climpson, S. C. ...	2nd Battalion, North- amptonshire Regi- ment (attached 8th Signal Company)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915. When com- munication was rendered impossible owing to damage to cable by shell and rifle fire, he, in company with another man, repeatedly endeav- oured to repair the line, and on failing to do so they brought back an important message from the trenches under heavy shell and machine-gun fire.
264	Acting Bombardier	Collier, S. D. ...	109th Heavy Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and ability when employed at forward observa- tion posts, especially in frequently repairing broken telephone lines under heavy shell fire.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
1099	Company Quarter-master-Serjeant	Collins, C. H. ...	4th Divisional Cyclist Company, Army Cyclist Corps (late Hampshire Regiment)	For great devotion to duty throughout the whole campaign. The sense of discipline and good example shown by this Non-commissioned Officer greatly assisted in the organisation of his Company.
7659	Private ...	Collins, E. ...	1st Battalion, Hampshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on 26th April, 1915, when defending the end of a trench with a machine gun, and on his company being forced to abandon their trench, he protected their retreat and inflicted much damage on the enemy. Private Collins, with another man, then took steps to save the tripod and gun, and when the other man, who was carrying the gun, had been wounded, he took it from him and under heavy fire carried it back.
68653	Gunner ...	Cooke, C. ...	36th Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry as a telephonist in September, 1914, at Soupir, when under heavy shell fire, and during all the operations on the Aisne. At St. Julien he was continually at work repairing and laying out lines under fire, and afterwards at Givenchy and Festubert, he gave an excellent example of good work and devotion to duty.
8672	Acting Serjeant	Cooke, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Dublin Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness on 25th April, 1915, and the following eight days, patrolling every night up to the enemy's lines. From the top of a farm he killed about ten Germans, and then went out and took prisoner their leader, an officer.
1014	Serjeant...	Coombe, J. ...	5th Battalion Durham Light Infantry (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Fortuin on 25th April, 1915. When no other means of conveyance was available, he carried forward for a considerable distance a machine gun and ammunition under heavy fire.
71755	Bombardier	Coombes, B. ...	27th Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry in repairing telephone wires under heavy rifle fire on 12th March, 1915.
70185	Bombardier	Cooper, E. G. ...	32nd Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry in leading a party in digging out a detachment who had been buried in their pit by the explosion of a heavy howitzer shell, during which time his party was subjected to salvos from these howitzers. On 1st November, 1914, Bombardier Cooper again showed great courage in volunteering for dangerous work when his battery was being enfiladed by shrapnel fire.
8497	Private ...	Copeland, A. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Rifles	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, in repeatedly carrying messages under heavy fire between the firing line and supports, a distance of 80 yards.
26370	Serjeant ...	Cornall, R. H. ...	51st Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry on 6th April, 1915, at Lacouture in removing burning baskets and cartridges which had been set on fire by the enemy's shell fire. On many occasions he has exhibited great courage and resource in the performance of his duties, and has at all times given a fine example of steadiness under fire.
2384	Company Serjeant-Major	Corry, T. ...	1st Battalion, Irish Guards	For conspicuous gallantry and resource throughout the whole campaign. He has frequently performed acts requiring the greatest courage under heavy fire, and has shown a splendid example of zeal and devotion to duty.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
6330	Lance-Corporal	Cotterill, H. ...	2nd Battalion, South Staffordshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and resource on three occasions: (1) On the 9th January, 1915, at Festubert, when, holding with a party an advanced position, he was twice driven out by bombs, and each time led the party back; (2) on the 12th January, when he stayed under a heavy fire dressing the wounds of a man whom he subsequently helped to carry back; and (3) on the 22nd January, near Rue du Bois, when, his platoon Serjeant being wounded in an isolated trench, he ran back under a heavy fire for medical aid and returned with it.
9183	Acting Lance-Serjeant	Coulson, W. ...	1st Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and skill as commanding Officer's observer, notably on 21st October, 1914, when under very heavy fire he twice volunteered to take a message from the Commanding Officer to the firing-trench and fulfilled his task each time successfully.
9437	Bandsman	Counter, J. ...	1st Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty from 8th January to 17th March, 1915, during which period he was employed as a stretcher-bearer. Bandsman Counter was wounded on 17th March.
7423	Corporal ...	Cowan, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders	For most gallant conduct and consistent good work in patrolling; on one occasion especially he brought in a wounded man in daylight and under a heavy rifle fire.
13357	Private ...	Cowell, J. D. ...	5th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Fortuin during 24th to 26th April, 1915, in continually carrying messages under a very heavy shell fire
6427	Serjeant ...	Coyle, J. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Rifles	For conspicuous coolness and ability at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March, 1915, when leading his platoon under heavy fire during the attack; he also skilfully handled two platoons and avoided very heavy casualties.
1489	Private ...	Coyne, J. ...	9th (The Dumbartonshire) Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in carrying back into a trench a wounded comrade under heavy fire, after having dressed his wound. He had to cover a distance of 100 yards to reach the trench.
41122	Private ...	Craig, W. ...	1st Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For conspicuous gallantry on the 6th January, 1915, at Givenchy, when he went out on two occasions under a heavy fire and brought in wounded men.
9152	Serjeant ...	Crane, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Munster Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and ability at Festubert between the 21st and 23rd December, 1914. Owing to the absence of any reports from his Battalion, he was, with two other men, sent out to locate it. This he succeeded in doing, and returned with information which enabled arrangements to be made for extricating it from a precarious position. Subsequently he acted as guide to companies of the Battalion in their withdrawal under a heavy fire through a very difficult country. Had he not displayed great courage, endurance and marked resource, the successful withdrawal of the Battalion would have been endangered.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
9711	Private ...	Crawford, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Highland Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry on many occasions in conveying messages under heavy shell and rifle fire, and for zeal and coolness in the performance of his duties.
1930	Lance-Corporal	Critchley, W. H. ...	2nd Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For conspicuous gallantry on the 10th January, 1915, at Cuinchy, when, during a heavy attack, he saw a severely wounded man in danger of drowning in deep water, he at once went out, and, under a heavy fire, brought him into cover.
9304	Serjeant ...	Crook, H. ...	1st Battalion, King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness at Frezenberg on 8th May, 1915, when it was largely due to his efforts that his Commanding Officer was able to hold his position.
5528	Serjeant ...	Cross, F. ...	1st Battalion, West Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in going to the assistance of two wounded men outside of a barricade within 200 yards of, and under fire of, the enemy.
52331	Corporal ...	Cubitt, F. J. ...	3rd Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 13th March, 1915, when employed at a forward observation post, and for repeatedly repairing his telephone wire under heavy fire.
3894	Private ...	Cully, R. ...	1st Battalion, Leinster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 9th April, 1915, in company with another man, in patrolling up to a new trench dug by the enemy and obtaining valuable information as to the German line and obstacles in front of it. They then placed obstacles in front of their own trench, although the enemy's trenches and ours were only 40 yards apart, under a continuous fire.
1406	Serjeant ...	Cumper, J. B. ...	55th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For coolness and gallant conduct under shell fire, and for the energy and resource he displayed in handling his section at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 14th March, 1915, when converting and strengthening the captured trenches.
5247	Company Serjeant-Major	Curtis, A. ...	2nd Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For gallant conduct at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March, 1915. During the attack, when three out of four Officers were wounded, he continued with great ability and fine example to lead the company on.
5908	Company Serjeant-Major	Dallaway, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Sussex Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 30th October, 1914, at Ypres, when he reconnoitred in front of his Company up to the German lines. He has been noted for his courage, resource and ability throughout the campaign, and in the most dangerous situations has always shown a fine example of cheerfulness and devotion to duty.
2882	Lance-Corporal	Dalton, E. ...	3rd Battalion, Coldstream Guards (since transferred to 170th Company, Royal Engineers)	For conspicuous gallantry and good work under very dangerous conditions in charging and tamping mines within five feet of the enemy's mine. On the 21st April, 1915, at Cuinchy, he crawled forward and surprised three Germans behind a sand bag barricade, driving them out and thus enabling a charge to be fired and the gallery destroyed.
3411	Acting Corporal	Daniels, H. J. ...	28th Divisional Cyclist Company, Army Cyclist Corps (late Suffolk Regiment)	For great gallantry and ability in making two separate reconnaissances in the vicinity of Fortuin, on the 25th April, 1915, under a heavy fire, and for sending back useful information.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
37753	Corporal ...	Daniels, T. ...	14th Brigade, Royal Horse Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry in repairing telephone lines under heavy fire, notably near Ypres, during an attack on Klein Zillebeke.
46799	Private ...	Danson, H. ...	13th Canadian Battalion	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty at St. Julien from 22nd to 25th April, 1915, in carrying orders, when the telephone lines were down, under very heavy shell and rifle fire.
8223	Lance-Corporal	Darcy, M. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Rifles	For conspicuous ability and coolness displayed at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, in leading and controlling men under heavy fire. Lance-Corporal Darcy has previously been noted for good work on many occasions.
5007	Lance-Corporal	Davidge, H. C. A.	1st Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry on many occasions between the 28th October, 1914, and the 20th February, 1915, in carrying wounded from the firing line during the day, and in taking messages, generally under heavy fire. Has shown remarkable coolness, courage and presence of mind in the performance of dangerous duties.
699	Serjeant ...	Davidson, H. ...	24th Heavy Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For conspicuous zeal and devotion to duty at all times throughout the campaign, thus setting a fine example.
4594	Serjeant ...	Davies, C. ...	6th Battalion, Royal Fusiliers (attached 4th Battalion)	For conspicuous devotion to duty, notably at Ypres, on 25th February, 1915, when under heavy fire he volunteered and carried out a difficult and dangerous reconnaissance. He has frequently patrolled to the German lines.
16579	Corporal...	Davis, F. ...	11th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry at Givenchy on 9th April, 1915, when engaged in erecting wire entanglements in front of the trenches after dark, he assisted in rescuing, under a heavy fire, one of the covering party who had been wounded.
77	Serjeant-Major	Dawkins, J. J.	2nd Battalion, Royal Warwickshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry, on 18th December, 1914, at Ronges Bancs, where he on three occasions took messages under heavy fire. He also collected and brought in the wounded under difficult circumstances.
8628	Corporal ...	Dawson, C. ...	1st Battalion, Northumberland Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry near Ypres on 28th February, 1915. When the telephone wires had been cut, he voluntarily took a message, at great personal risk, in broad daylight, during a heavy bombardment of his trench, and procured the relief of which his company was in grave need.
8109	Lance-Corporal	Dempsey, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Suffolk Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and skill with machine guns. He has been severely wounded and has lost the sight of his left eye.
7847	Acting Serjeant	Dennington, E. ...	1st Battalion, Royal West Kent Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty on 26th March, 1915, when he went with Private Bunsell to a portion of the trench which had been blown in by shell fire, and together they dug out a lance-corporal who had been buried. He worked for over an hour lying on his stomach within thirty yards of the enemy until the lance-corporal had been rescued.
8073	Company Serjeant-Major	Dingley, W. S. ...	1st Battalion Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry and ability especially in leading patrols. He has bombed the enemy's trenches on several occasions with hand grenades.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
672	Corporal ...	Dobbie, W....	Royal Flying Corps...	For gallant conduct and coolness when carrying out his duties under fire; also for the conspicuous thoroughness and efficiency for which his work has been noticeable.
8200	Private ...	Dodd, J. ...	3rd Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For gallant conduct and ability as a scout. One day during February this man, on his own initiative, crept out close to the German trench beyond St. Eloi and took some compass bearings. Private Dodd always volunteers for dangerous work and has set a very good example under heavy shell fire, and on other occasions.
1154	Private ...	Dodds, J. ...	5th Battalion, Northumberland Fusiliers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and resource during an advance in continually leading the men and encouraging his section under a heavy shell fire, and for subsequently taking charge of men who had lost their units and organizing them into a fighting unit.
44725	Acting Corporal	Doran, W. B.	33rd Battery Royal Field Artillery.	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle on 10th to 12th March, 1915, in working his telephone for three days in the front line and for repeatedly repairing his wire under heavy shell and rifle fire.
23874	Serjeant ...	Dougall, J....	16th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry at St. Julien on night of 22nd-23rd April, 1915. During an attack on a wood, this Non-commissioned Officer placed himself at the head of a party of men belonging to another Battalion who had no Officer or leader with them, and cleared a farm beyond the wood of greatly superior numbers of the enemy.
8489	Private ...	Dove, G. H.	2nd Battalion, West Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 14th March, 1915, as Orderly to the Medical Officer. On 31st March, 1915, at Fleurbaix he assisted the Medical Officer to tend the wounded in a house which was being heavily shelled by the enemy.
68505	Bombardier	Downing, E.	1 "B" Reserve Brigade (formerly 46th Battery, Royal Field Artillery)	For conspicuous gallantry from the 25th to 30th January, 1915, when in charge of a trench mortar, often under heavy fire, during the German attacks.
57648	Acting Serjeant	Drew, T. ...	23rd Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in charge of telephone lines, constantly carrying out repairs under fire.
14463	Lance-Corporal	Driver, G. J.	12th Field Company, Royal Engineers.	For conspicuous ability and devotion to duty. Lance-Corporal Driver has particularly distinguished himself in sapping and mining and getting work out in a most thorough manner.
16120	Serjeant ...	Dryden, W. H.	7th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Keerselaere, on 23rd April, 1915, in going to the assistance of Lieutenant-Colonel Hart-McHarg, who was lying wounded between our own and the German lines.
8287	Serjeant ...	Duddridge, W.	1st Battalion, Gloucestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 21st December, 1914. After his Officer was wounded, he took over the command of a platoon, which was acting as covering party, and remained in position until he was wounded and most of the platoon killed or wounded.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
8690	Lance-Corporal	Duffy, J. W. ...	56th Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry during the attack on Spanbroek Molen on 12th March, 1915, when he led his party up to the enemy's trenches, and collected parties of Infantry which had lost their Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers, and only ceased his efforts when the infantry retired.
2565	Sapper ...	Dugdale, A. J. ...	1st Home Counties Field Company, Royal Engineers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, in volunteering to deliver messages to working parties under heavy rifle fire, and succeeding in the task. Again on 11th March he volunteered to go in search of a working party under a heavy shell fire.
8598	Serjeant ...	Dugmore, W. H. ...	2nd Battalion, Shropshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty in volunteering to carry an important message to Headquarters under very heavy shell fire. Serjeant Dugmore has since been killed at St. Eloi.
51306	Bombardier	Duley, J. F. ...	364th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty while employed as telephonist. Bombardier Duley has carried out consistent good work under very trying circumstances and often under heavy fire at St. Eloi, and has frequently repaired broken wires under shell and rifle fire.
23262	Private ..	Duncan, W. ...	Canadian Signal Company	For conspicuous gallantry from 22nd-25th April, 1915, when telephone lines were down, in carrying orders under heavy shell and rifle fire, to the St. Julien-Ypres Salient.
9078	Private ...	Eade, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Bedfordshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March, 1915. He was one of a party of bomb-throwers who took a German trench after two counter-attacks had failed.
9854	Corporal ...	Earnshaw, T. ...	1st Battalion, King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty in going out under a heavy fire and bringing in a wounded man. Corporal Earnshaw has previously been noted for good work on several occasions.
9946	Serjeant ...	Eccles, F. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Munster Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and ability at Festubert between the 21st and 23rd December, 1914. Owing to the absence of any reports from his Battalion, he was, with two other men, sent out to locate it. This he succeeded in doing, and returned with information, which enabled arrangements to be made for extricating it from a precarious position. Subsequently he acted as guide to Companies of the Battalion in their withdrawal under a heavy fire, through a very difficult country. Had he not displayed great courage, endurance and marked resource, the successful withdrawal of the Battalion would have been endangered.
8269	Acting Corporal	Edwards, J....	1st Battalion, South Wales Borderers	For conspicuous gallantry from the 21st-23rd December, 1914, near Festubert. Difficulties arose in getting necessary supplies to the men in the forward trenches, and the only known communication trench being impassable, he, with another man, carried the rations over a fire-swept zone of 1,100 yards, after the ration party had been dispersed by heavy fire. He subsequently returned, and took up ammunition to the same trenches.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
1352	Private ...	Ellingham, W. ...	1st Battalion, North- umberland Fusiliers	For conspicuous devotion to duty as a linesman, notably near Ypres, between 23rd February and 4th March, 1915. His unvarying cheerfulness and readiness to go up the line, under any conditions of weather and however heavy the sniping, has set a fine example to the other signallers.
	3rd Class Assistant Surgeon	Elloy, K. P. ...	No. 7 British Field Ambulance, Indian Subordinate Medical Department	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Ypres, during operations 24th April-4th May, 1915, in collecting and treating wounded under heavy fire, and especially at St. Jean on 29th April, when, on the advanced dressing station being destroyed by shell fire, he helped to remove the wounded to a place of safety, displaying great coolness and resource.
1078	Sapper ...	Fairless, W. W. ...	1st Northumbrian Field Company, Royal Engineers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in going out and working in front of the parapet in close proximity to the enemy. Sapper Fairless is a man who is always chosen for a dangerous piece of work.
1059	Serjeant	Faithfull, A. E. ...	28th Divisional Signal Company, Royal Engineers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Kruisstraat, on 14th and 15th March, 1915, in repeatedly mending the telephone line under fire. Also near Ypres on 22nd and 27th April, 1915, Serjeant Faithfull remained out day and night laying and repairing lines continuously under fire. To do this he had to carry heavy reels of wire several miles on foot, but accomplished his task.
5871	Acting Regimental Quartermaster-Serjeant	Farrant, G. ...	1st Battalion, Gordon Highlanders	For conspicuous devotion to duty and consistent good work throughout the campaign under very difficult circumstances.
13392	Serjeant	Faulkner, C. E. J.	2nd Battalion, Middlesex Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 10th March, 1915, at Neuve Chapelle, when he reformed his men under heavy fire, and subsequently covered the operations of a bombing party.
6432	Company Quartermaster-Serjeant	Fearnehough, J. ...	2nd Battalion, South Lancashire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and resource shewn on several occasions. He took command of his Company when all the Officers were wounded.
1280	Acting Corporal	Felgate, E. ...	4th Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty when in charge of the snipers. These men have done excellent and dangerous work on many occasions, seven out of sixteen having already been either killed or wounded. Corporal Felgate has always set a most valuable example. At St. Eloi after the man with whom he was working had been killed he remained sniping the whole day, although wounded in the wrist.
7429	Lance-Corporal	Ferguson, H. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Scots Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry as a stretcher bearer. On many occasions he has brought in wounded under heavy shell and rifle fire, notably at Herlies on 21st October, and at Ypres on November 11th, 1914. At Herlies during a German attack having bound up the legs of a wounded man, he carried him back under very heavy fire to the dressing station.
1166	Lance-Corporal	Ferrill, W. ...	2nd Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For conspicuous gallantry on the 10th January, 1915, when, during a partial retirement in face of a strong attack, he, with an Officer and one man, held an advanced post under heavy fire, and stopped the enemy while the line was being rallied.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
22481	Sapper ...	Ferris, H. J. ...	"O" Cable Section, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry during an attack on Point 76 Ridge on 12th March, 1915, when he went out from a forward observation station under fire to find a break in the telephone cable and repaired it.
8953	Corporal ...	Finnigan, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Welsh Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th January, 1915, at Givenchy, in bringing back his machine-gun from a barricade to a Redoubt under a very heavy fire after the barricade had been blown in.
7793	Lance- Corporal	Flanagan, T. ...	1st Battalion, Shrop- shire Light Infantry	For conspicuous ability in carrying out patrol work. Lance-Corporal Flanagan has shown himself ever ready to volunteer and execute dangerous patrols throughout the campaign.
7114	Private ...	Foley, T. ...	1st Battalion, Che- shire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty, notably on the night of March 7th, 1915, when he went out in front of our trenches to bring in some stretcher bearers who had lost their way. Subsequently he went out three times under heavy fire to bring in wounded men, and although wounded more than once himself he continued to carry out this duty.
12391	Company Serjeant- Major	Foster, W. G. ...	4th Battalion, Royal Fusiliers	For conspicuous zeal and devotion to duty throughout the war.
7144	Serjeant ...	Fox, E. ...	2nd Battalion, York- shire Regiment (now Warrant Officer, Class II.)	For conspicuous gallantry during the winter of 1914-1915, when he frequently made daring reconnaissances of the enemy's position at great personal risk.
54744	Driver ...	Foye, T. ...	22nd Brigade, Am- munition Column, Royal Field Artil- lery	For conspicuous gallantry as a signaller in repairing wires under fire. At Neuve Chapelle between 10th and 14th March, 1915, he did good work with an observing Officer under most difficult circumstances.
609	Corporal ...	Frampton, W. N. ...	Honourable Artillery Company (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in laying and repairing telephone wires often under heavy fire both at Kemmel during December, 1914, January and February, 1915, and later on at St. Eloi. He has shown the greatest coolness and indifference to danger.
11153	Lance- Corporal	Francis, W. ...	1st Battalion, South Wales Borderers	For conspicuous gallantry from the 21st to 23rd December, 1914, near Festubert, notably when he worked his way close up to the enemy's trenches in daylight under fire and sniped, thereby securing superiority of fire.
10690	Private ...	Frazer, E. ...	1st Battalion, Worces- tershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on 10th and 11th March, 1915, in volunteering to go and procure ammunition under a heavy fire, and returning with it.
742	Lance- Corporal	French, S. ...	2nd Home Counties Field Company Royal Engineers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during the attack on "Hill 60" on 17th-18th April, 1915. He assisted Lieutenant Challoner, R.E. (T.F.), to carry on the wiring in spite of heavy losses.
373	Serjeant ...	Fulton, A. G. ...	16th (County of Lon- don) Battalion, The London Regi- ment (Queen's West- minster Rifles) (T.F.)	For great devotion to duty and consistent good work during the whole period his battalion has been engaged.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
7587	Serjeant ...	Gambling, C. ...	1st Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment	For marked gallantry and ability displayed throughout the campaign. When in command of a machine-gun section from October 22nd to December 20th, 1914, he shewed the greatest coolness when serving his gun under fire and at all times has set an admirable example to his men.
9055	Private ...	Gardner, C. ...	2nd Battalion, Scottish Rifles	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle, from 10th to 14th March, 1915, as stretcher bearer, especially when tending wounded in the open under a very heavy fire.
7525	Company Serjeant-Major	Garrett, G. ...	1st Battalion, Bedfordshire Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty and gallantry under fire. He has set an example of cheerfulness and zeal under difficulties.
3360	Lance-Corporal	Gascoyne, H. ...	1st Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For conspicuous gallantry throughout the campaign in continually volunteering for dangerous patrol work, and bringing in valuable information.
6658	Company Serjeant-Major	Gates, C. ...	2nd Battalion, Suffolk Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty throughout the campaign, notably at Le Cateau, where he showed great gallantry in fetching ammunition.
16255	Corporal ..	Gedge, H. W. ...	55th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous devotion to duty often under very trying circumstances. He has shewn great coolness under fire and did good work at Neuve Chapelle between March 10th and 14th, 1915.
7380	Serjeant ...	George, E. H. ...	2nd Battalion, Yorkshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous devotion to duty since the commencement of the campaign.
21254	Serjeant ...	Gibbs, H. ...	23rd Battery Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty throughout the campaign when in charge of telephones, frequently carrying out repairs under fire with great coolness.
914	Private ...	Gill, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Sussex Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 27th January, 1915, at Cuinchy, when he volunteered to remain, for observation purposes, in a forward post, which was being heavily shelled. Later in the day he rescued a wounded man under heavy fire.
2880	Battery Quarter-Master-Serjeant	Gillard, W. H. ...	56th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry, ability and resource under fire throughout the campaign. His example and devotion to duty under all circumstances have been invaluable.
3303	Serjeant ...	Glynn, J. J. ...	1st Battalion, Irish Guards	For conspicuous gallantry and resource in charge of a machine gun detachment. He has invariably shewn the greatest courage under fire, and has given a splendid example of devotion to duty to all under his command.
8427	Acting Serjeant	Golder, W. ...	1st Battalion, Norfolk Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on several occasions, notably near Festubert.
8743	Serjeant ...	Gordon, D. ...	2nd Battalion, The Royal Scots (Lothian Regiment)	For conspicuous devotion to duty when his platoon was shaken by the enemy's fire in the open during the relief of his trench. Serjeant Gordon rallied his men and brought them in in perfect order and then returned over the open and brought in a wounded man.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
8794	Lance-Corporal	Gormley, E. M. ...	1st Battalion, Middlesex Regiment	For conspicuous ability and continuous good service as a company scout. Lance-Corporal Gormley has distinguished himself in obtaining good and reliable information, that furnished on the night of 27th-28th January, 1915, being particularly valuable.
9912	Lance-Corporal	Grainge, F. ...	3rd Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For conspicuous gallantry on the 9th April, 1915, at Givenchy, in bringing in under a heavy fire three wounded men from the front of our line, who had all been wounded at the same time, when covering a working party.
7137	Serjeant ...	Gray, J. ...	2nd Battalion, York and Lancaster Regiment	For conspicuous ability as a platoon commander. Serjeant Gray has distinguished himself in the carrying out of many valuable reconnaissances.
3/7968	Private ...	Gray, W. ...	1st Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and intelligence when carrying messages under fire, and for exceptionally good work in the trenches, notably between 1st January and 31st March, 1915.
5576	Serjeant ...	Green, E. G. ...	1st Battalion, Norfolk Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty as Platoon Serjeant from the commencement of the war. He has attended to the wounded under fire on frequent occasions.
6243	Company Serjeant-Major	Green, L. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Warwickshire Regiment	For great zeal and devotion to duty from the commencement of the campaign, especially in the trenches at St. Yves. Company Serjeant-Major Green has set a splendid example to the men of his company.
13745	Serjeant ..	Greenhill, G. F. ...	4th Battalion, Royal Fusiliers	For conspicuous devotion to duty as Battalion Signalling Serjeant since the beginning of the war, notably at Ypres during February, 1915. He has frequently laid and repaired lines under fire.
8513	Company Serjeant-Major	Greenwood, F. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Fusiliers	For consistently good work and devotion to duty. Company Serjeant-Major Greenwood has shown himself as ever ready to volunteer for any dangerous duty.
164	Company Serjeant-Major-	Gregory, C. ...	2nd Battalion, Lancashire Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and ability from the commencement of the campaign. During the fighting this Company Serjeant-Major has displayed the greatest coolness and courage, and has frequently been brought to notice for good work.
8884	Company Quartermaster-Serjeant	Griffin, A. J. ...	23rd Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and ability throughout the campaign, and especially from the 20th December, 1914, to the 21st April, 1915. He has shown constant zeal and fortitude under heavy fire and in the most trying circumstances, and performed invaluable work with the greatest courage and devotion to duty.
3167	Private ...	Griffiths, R. ...	4th Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For conspicuous gallantry at St. Eloi on 1st March, 1915, in crawling out alone from his trench towards a German saphead, using an old disused French trench he came upon two Germans, one of whom he shot. This reconnaissance was carried out on his own initiative. Later in the day, when accompanied by another man, he again went out to see if the sap was occupied, and was immediately fired on by the enemy.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
9019	Serjeant ...	Griggs, P. ...	1st Battalion, East Surrey Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on " Hill 60," when, during a heavy bombardment by the enemy preceding an attack, he moved about to all the most heavily shelled parts of the trench occupied by his platoon, and superintended repairs with the utmost coolness.
16045	Acting Company Serjeant-Major	Grimes, E. ...	Royal Field Artillery (4th Division)	For conspicuous zeal and devotion to duty throughout the campaign, both in the field and in the office. During the action at Le Cateau, this Non-commissioned Officer performed excellent work on a bicycle taking orders under fire, at times pushing his bicycle across country under heavy shell fire.
3542	Private ...	Grimwood, F. ...	1st Battalion, East Surrey Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on " Hill 60," when he continually built up his parapet under heavy machine-gun fire, standing exposed in the gap while the sandbags were handed up to him.
9284	Company Serjeant-Major	Groggins, T. ...	2nd Battalion, Border Regiment	For conspicuous ability and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle, from 10th to 14th March, 1915, when he commanded his company after his Officers were wounded. He himself was also wounded.
49395	Corporal ...	Hager, J. E. ...	11th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty while employed on telephone work, having, often under heavy shell fire, enabled uninterrupted communication between his battery and the infantry firing line to be maintained throughout the campaign.
7860	Private ...	Hainge, A. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Berkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and untiring zeal in patrol work in front of the trenches, on several occasions locating, under a heavy fire, the enemy's snipers. On the night of 2-3rd April, 1915, he exploded a Bangalore torpedo under the enemy's wire.
2978	Serjeant ...	Hales, W. ...	15th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle, under rifle and machine-gun fire when in command of a party employed in erecting wire entanglements. He persisted in his work in spite of casualties, notwithstanding that during part of the time no infantry fire was covering his party.
6554	Serjeant ...	Harding, T. ...	1st Battalion, Gloucestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 21st December, 1914, at Festubert, when, being the only Non-commissioned Officer surviving in his platoon, he remained for two days under a heavy fire within fifty yards of the German trenches.
9806	Acting Corporal	Harding, W. H. ...	1st Battalion, East Surrey Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on " Hill 60," when he beat off the enemy's assault by throwing hand grenades, freely exposing himself though the trench was being heavily bombed.
671	1st Class Air Mechanic	Harper, W. ...	Royal Flying Corps ...	For gallant conduct and coolness when carrying out his duties under fire; also for the conspicuous thoroughness and efficiency for which his work has been noticeable.
1131	Corporal ...	Harris, W. H. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Warwickshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on March 12th, 1915, when he laid a telephone line under heavy fire close to the enemy.
232	Serjeant	Harrison, F. ...	2nd Battalion, Manchester Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty, notably when on reconnaissance duty at La Petite Douve and on many patrols.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
2506	Lance-Corporal	Hart, D.	1st Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry on 20th February, 1915, when he, with two private soldiers, left his trench under heavy fire in order to assist an officer who was wounded.
9623	Acting Company Serjeant-Major	Hawkins, A.	1st Battalion, Bedfordshire Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty throughout the war. He has continuously set an example of gallantry, cheerfulness and zeal.
5072	Bandsman	Hay, J.	2nd Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders	For gallantry, devotion to duty, and continued good work as stretcher bearer, in attending wounded near St. Yves on the River Douve.
5924	Acting Serjeant	Hayden, W. J.	1st Battalion, Hampshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry in volunteering for and carrying out duties involving great personal risk in front of Ploegsteert Wood, all of which work he has performed with great success.
8297	Private ...	Hayes, J.	3rd Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment (since transferred to Royal Engineers)	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty near Kemmel on 23rd April, 1915, when he and a few others entered in turn a mine gallery to rescue comrades who had been overcome by gas and persevered till all had been rescued.
5885	Serjeant ...	Hayman, C. F.	1st Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 25th January, 1915, in defence of Cunchy Keep. When heavily attacked he rallied men of different regiments and brought them into action, showing a splendid example of devotion to duty on this as on several other occasions.
255	Flight-Serjeant	Hayward, W. C.	Royal Flying Corps ...	For conspicuous zeal, devotion to duty, and the noticeably efficient manner in which he has carried out his responsible duties.
817	Lance-Corporal	Hazell, W.	1st London Field Company, Royal Engineers (T.F.)	For conspicuous devotion to duty throughout the whole time he has been on active service, frequently under a heavy fire.
1608	Private ...	Hemmings, W.	2nd Battalion, Monmouthshire Regiment (T.F.)	For great gallantry and devotion to duty as stretcher-bearer throughout the campaign, thereby setting an excellent example to his comrades.
7671	Piper ...	Henderson, A.	1st Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 22nd October, 1914, near Bixschoote, when he went out under a heavy machine-gun fire to dress the wounds of an Officer, carrying him back to the Battalion headquarters, and subsequently returning at once to the firing line.
8590	Corporal ...	Henson, T.	1st Battalion, Northamptonshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 29th December, 1914, at Givenchy, when he performed excellent reconnaissance work under a heavy fire and obtained valuable information.
1637	Private ...	Herd, W.	Royal Army Medical Corps (T.F.) (attached 6th Battalion, Royal Scots)	For conspicuous devotion to duty on 26th January, 1915, when he left his trench and went to the rear across the open, at great personal risk in order to obtain some morphia for a wounded man.
3/10024	Private ...	High, J.	1st Battalion, Norfolk Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on 17th April, 1915, near Ypres, when he built up by himself a portion of the parapet of his trench which had been blown in by a shell, which wounded several men. Before he had finished it was blown in again by another shell, but he continued and succeeded in building it up successfully, although knocked over by the force of the explosion.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
7980	Private ...	Highstone, A. S. ...	2nd Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry at St. Julien on 24th April, 1915, in bringing in wounded under heavy fire, and for his personal bravery under fire.
2023	Corporal ...	Hill, J. B. ...	16th Battalion, The London Regiment (Queen's Westminster Rifles) (T.F.)	For great devotion to duty and consistent good work during the whole period his Battalion has been engaged.
791	Private ...	Hill, M. ...	Honourable Artillery Company (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in laying and repairing telephone wires, often under heavy fire, both at Kemmel during December, 1914, January and February, 1915, and later on at St. Eloi. He has shown the greatest coolness and indifference to danger.
1301	Private ...	Hill, R. ...	1/6th Battalion, North Staffordshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty on 28th April, 1915, near Kemmel, when he took his turn with a few other men in entering a mine gallery to rescue comrades who had been overcome by gas. The rescuing party persevered till all had been saved.
16558	Serjeant ...	Hoar, W. G. ...	65th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct and conspicuous ability while in charge of a subsection throughout the campaign. During December, 1914, the section to which he belongs was detached to a forward position near Wulverghem, and the Officer commanding being continuously away observing, Serjeant Hoar was left in command of the guns, which responsible duty he performed with marked success.
9426	Lance-Corporal	Hodgson, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Border Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle from March 10th to 14th, 1915, when he constantly took messages under heavy fire.
10621	Acting Serjeant	Hogg, J. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Scots (Lothian Regiment)	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty. Serjeant Hogg has displayed great coolness and initiative on more than one occasion when in charge of an isolated trench in close proximity to the enemy.
5678	Private ...	Hoggarth, W. ...	3rd Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For conspicuous gallantry as a machine gunner, showing constant bravery in working his gun in exposed positions. On the 6th February, 1915, he remained in a very exposed position, firing until his gun was blown to pieces by a shell and he himself was wounded.
1086	Driver ...	Hook, A. J. ...	British Red Cross Society, No. 4 Motor Ambulance Convoy	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on 21st April, 1915, when returning from dressing station, in carrying a wounded man on his back for a mile to the nearest ambulance wagon, his own wagon having broken down, the road being under heavy shell fire at the time.
5794	Company Serjeant-Major	Hopkins, C. ...	2nd Battalion, Gloucestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry displayed in undertaking in daylight a reconnaissance in front of the enemy's trenches, and advancing to within 10 yards of the German lines.
8138	Private ...	Horner, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle from March 10th to 14th, 1915, when he repaired telephone wires under heavy fire and was wounded in doing so.
7153	Serjeant ...	Horner, W. ...	2nd Battalion, West Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and efficiency as Signalling Serjeant, notably during the fighting at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 14th March, 1915, under very heavy fire.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
8263	Private ...	Hotz, A. ...	1st Battalion, East Surrey Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on "Hill 60," when he placed himself in front of a communication trench occupied by the enemy, and, on the enemy advancing, attacked them with hand grenades and dispersed them.
11441	Serjeant ...	Howarth, C. T. ...	2nd Battalion, Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment.	For conspicuous ability and zeal during the period his battalion has been on active service. Serjeant Howarth has also distinguished himself while employed with the stretcher-bearers.
10115	Serjeant-Piper	Howarth, J. S. ...	6th (Banff and Don-side) Battalion Gordon Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 14th March, 1915, when he tended the wounded, often under very heavy fire.
3298	Private ...	Howarth, W. W. ...	10th Scottish Battalion, Liverpool Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry in going out in front of his trench after dawn under aimed fire, and bringing in a wounded Non-commissioned Officer.
587	Private ...	Howitt, A. W. ...	Royal Army Medical Corps	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty from December, 1914, to March, 1915, when in charge of an ambulance wagon. On more than one occasion he has volunteered for exceptionally dangerous duty, and during an action at Neuve Chapelle in October, 1914, was able to bring away two wagon-loads after the troops had withdrawn from their positions.
8656	Corporal (Acting Serjeant)	Huddart, W. ...	2nd Battalion, York and Lancaster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on patrol work. Acting Serjeant Huddart has proved himself an exceptionally good and daring leader of patrols.
6970	Acting Colour-Serjeant	Hudson, T. ...	2nd Battalion, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry on the 4th October, 1914, on the Aisne, when, the telephone wire having been cut, he volunteered to carry a message under heavy shell fire, and subsequently removed a severely wounded man from the trenches under the same fire.
15	Flight-Serjeant	Hughes, T. ...	Royal Flying Corps ...	For conspicuous zeal and devotion to duty, and the noticeably efficient manner in which he has carried out his responsible duties.
9836	Acting Corporal	Hughes, T. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry displayed on night patrols, particularly on the night of 27th-28th March, 1915, when he was wounded.
34263	Gunner ...	Humphrey, T. ...	"O" Battery, Royal Horse Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle on 15th March, 1915, in twice going out under heavy fire to repair the telephone wire. He has previously been noted for good work during the last four months at the forward observation station.
11077	Private ...	Hunt, F. N. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on night patrols, particularly on the night of 12th-13th March, 1915, when he brought a wounded man back to our trenches, under a heavy fire.
6874	Acting Corporal	Hunt, J. ...	2nd Battalion, South Staffordshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 10th March, 1915, near Givenehy, when, during an attack on the German position, he stood on the enemy's parapet throwing bombs, into the trench and using his rifle, remaining there for about 15 minutes under heavy fire until severely wounded. Subsequently he directed an attack of reinforcements from a shell hole.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
5/4731	Private ...	Hyles, D. ...	1st Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty, when he, with other men, captured an enemy's trench. His Officers being wounded early in the morning, he held it from 8.15 a.m. to 2 p.m., in spite of a heavy fire and severe losses, refusing to leave until ordered to do so by a wounded Officer.
551	Serjeant ...	Ingram, C. ...	84th (2nd London) Field Ambulance, Royal Army Medical Corps (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty, in visiting the trenches and removing the wounded under heavy fire on the nights of 28th February and 4th March, 1915. He was severely wounded on 5th March, 1915.
4641	Lance-Corporal	Ingram, J. J. ...	3rd Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For conspicuous gallantry in the trenches. He has set a fine example of devotion to duty.
9862	Serjeant ...	Ives, P. ...	3rd Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry at St. Julien from 23rd to 25th April, 1915, when, returning from reconnaissance work, he brought to safety several wounded men. His general conduct and confidence have set a fine example to others.
11430	Serjeant ...	Jackson, G. W. ...	1st Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For conspicuous gallantry on 11th April, 1915, at Rue du Bois, when he went out under a heavy fire, reconnoitred throughout the night, and brought back valuable information.
29568	Bombardier	James, H. ...	32nd Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct on 25th January, 1915, in laying telephone wire under fire. This Non-Commissioned Officer has proved himself indefatigable and resourceful, and has done exceptionally well during the time he has been on active service.
10190	Lance-Corporal	James, E. G. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry on 12th March, 1915, at Neuve Chapelle, when he, on four occasions, took messages under heavy fire.
1082	Corporal ...	Jameson, H. ...	Royal Flying Corps	For conspicuous coolness and gallantry on several occasions in connection with wireless work under fire.
363	Serjeant ..	Jardine, J. ...	1/1st Lowland Field Company, Royal Engineers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on numerous occasions between the 10th January and the 21st April, 1915. He displayed great courage and energy in the execution of his duties, frequently under heavy fire, and under dangerous and trying conditions. He showed a fine example of devotion to duty.
3539	Serjeant (Acting Company Serjeant-Major)	Jeffrey, W. ...	3rd (attached 1st Bn.), Battalion, Loyal North Lancashire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability at La Quinque Rue, on the 21st December, 1914, when he led a night attack on the enemy's trenches. By his power of leadership, courage and fine example, he succeeded in turning the enemy out of their trench for a considerable distance.
6460	Company Serjeant-Major	Johnson, J. H. ...	2nd Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For conspicuous courage and coolness displayed at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, when, in the face of a heavy fire, he reorganized the men under his command.
10101	Corporal ...	Johnstone, J. ...	1st Battalion, King's Shropshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on patrol and reconnaissance work. Corporal Johnstone has constantly volunteered for these dangerous duties.
4534	Acting Corporal	Jones, D. T. ...	Honourable Artillery Company (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on 6th January, 1915, near Kemmel, when he crawled out of his trench and gave water to a wounded man who was in great pain, and remained lying beside him all the afternoon under heavy fire.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
26425	Bombardier	Jordan, A. H. ...	35th Heavy Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry on the 23rd March, 1915, at Festubert when he continued to observe the fire of the battery after his observation station had been heavily shelled and destroyed.
21855	Private ...	Joslyn, R. W. ...	5th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty, while employed as Battalion runner, in carrying despatches under fire.
24519	Sapper ...	Judd, T. ...	5th Signal Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry during a critical period of the attack on "Hill 60," on May 1st, 1915, when he assisted an officer to repair the telephone wires under such heavy shell fire that messengers were unable to get through.
10857	Serjeant ...	Kaye, A. W. ...	4th Canadian Battalion	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty at Pilekem Ridge from 23rd to 26th April, 1915, in dressing and assisting the wounded throughout the action.
9766	Lance-Corporal	Keenan, R. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in going out in broad daylight and bringing to safety four wounded men under shell and rifle fire. This Non-Commissioned Officer has previously been reported on for good service.
24693	Sapper ...	Keevil, F. ...	5th Signal Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry on several occasions when repairing cable under shell and rifle fire since the commencement of the campaign.
2162	Bandsman	Kelly, W. ...	1st Battalion, Northumberland Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty, notably near Ypres on 24th February, 1915, when his battalion suffered heavy casualties; though wounded in the hand, he on five occasions brought in wounded men under fire. He has shown the same devotion to duty whenever the battalion has suffered casualties.
5696	Corporal ..	Kennedy, B. E. ...	Canadian Signal Company	For conspicuous gallantry in carrying messages between Brielen, Ypres, St. Jean Weltje and St. Julien. During the whole action this road was being continuously shelled and he ran a great risk while performing this duty.
12209	Serjeant ...	Kent, B. ...	2nd Battalion, West Riding Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the evening of 18th April, 1915, during the assault on "Hill 60." When his platoon Commander and platoon Serjeant had been wounded he rallied his men and successfully occupied the portion of the enemy's trench allotted to the platoon. He has shown great gallantry on several previous occasions.
9852	Private ..	Killen, T. ...	1st Battalion, Somerset Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness displayed on several occasions, in volunteering to put up wire in front of Ploegsteert Wood. Once Private Killen successfully erected wire within 70 yards of the German trenches, although constantly under a heavy fire.
524	Corporal ...	Kimber, W. J. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal West Surrey Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 19th December, 1914, when, seeing a wounded man trying to crawl to the trench he went out in broad daylight and helped him in. Corporal Kimber has also done good work in keeping his men in hand under shell fire.
36532	Acting-Bombardier	King, J. D. ...	27th Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous devotion to duty in training telephonists and maintaining telephone lines. He has been constantly under fire during six months.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
3/7912	Acting Corporal	King, T. C....	1st Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the morning of 13th April, 1915, near Ypres, when he volunteered to bring in the body of an Officer which was lying about 10 yards in front of the German trenches. Having found it impossible to remove the body by daylight owing to the heavy and constant fire of the enemy, Corporal King made a second attempt in the evening and succeeded in his object though continuously fired at.
7690	Serjeant ...	Kirk, W. ...	1st Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For devotion to duty since the beginning of the war. Although three times wounded he has remained at duty continuously.
6511	Private ...	Lambie, J. ...	1st Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders	For conspicuous courage and resource on the night of 10th-11th April, 1915, while engaged in operations in a mine gallery full of poisonous air, in going to the assistance of a man at the head of the gallery who had been rendered unconscious, and, although nearly overcome himself, he dragged him along to the shaft, thereby undoubtedly saving his life.
2885	Private ...	Landon, L. ...	1/5th Battalion, North Staffordshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty on 28th April, 1915 near Kemmel, when he took his turn with a few others in entering a mine gallery to rescue comrades who had been overcome by gas. The rescuing party persevered till all had been saved.
2682	Private ...	Langford, E. ...	1/6th Battalion, South Staffordshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty on 28th April, 1915, near Kemmel, when he took his turn with a few others in entering a mine gallery to rescue comrades who had been overcome by gas. The rescuing party persevered till all had been saved.
4848	Serjeant ...	Leach, A. ...	2nd Battalion, Devonshire Regiment (Attached 8th Signal Company)	For conspicuous gallantry and excellent work, at great personal risk, at Neuve Chapelle.
3220	Lance-Serjeant	Ledsham, W. ...	4th (Denbighshire) Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry at Givenchy on 25th January, 1915. After affording gallant support to an Officer in his attack on a trench under heavy fire, he unearthed a buried machine gun, mounted it and opened fire on the enemy.
4335	Acting Serjeant	Lee, S. J. ...	1st Battalion, Hampshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry in reconnoitring several times and at great personal risk the enemy's wire entanglements in front of La Gheer and Ploegsteert Woods, thereby obtaining much valuable information.
59924	Acting Bombardier	Leicester, E. E. ...	11th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty while employed on telephone work, having, often under heavy shell fire, enabled uninterrupted communication between his battery and the infantry firing line to be maintained throughout the campaign.
8073	Company Serjeant-Major	Lelliot, F. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Lancaster Regiment	For gallant conduct and excellent work throughout the winter in the trenches. Company Serjeant-Major Lelliot's zeal, enterprise and example have had great effect on the men, and he has shown himself as always ready for any dangerous work, such as laying out wire entanglements, repairing parapets, etc.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
7657	Company Serjeant-Major	Lemon, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Manchester Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty during the campaign. His coolness and resource under fire set a fine example to his subordinates.
8892	Acting Serjeant	Lever, H. M. ...	2nd Battalion, The Royal Scots (Lothian Regiment)	For conspicuous gallantry with his machine gun section. During a minor enterprise Serjeant Lever himself shot two of the enemy and wounded a third.
9178	Lance-Corporal	Lewis, R. ...	1st Battalion, South Wales Borderers	For conspicuous gallantry from the 21st to 23rd December, 1914, near Festubert, in organising the stretcher bearers and removing wounded under heavy fire. He has shown great bravery and presence of mind on many occasions during the campaign.
7033	Acting Corporal	Liddell, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry on various occasions, notably on 23th April, 1915, on "Hill 60," when he dug out a buried man in daylight, though fully exposed to the enemy's rifle fire.
7059	Serjeant (now War-rant Officer, Class II)	Liddle, H. ...	2nd Battalion, Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when commanding a platoon, notably at Neuve Chapelle on March 12th, 1915, when under heavy fire.
1337	Serjeant ...	Lishman, R. ...	4th Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For great gallantry and devotion to duty as Signalling Serjeant. This Non-Commissioned Officer has done consistently good and most valuable work in maintaining telephonic communication between the trenches, and has always been ready by day or night to go out and repair wires.
7471	Private ...	Little, J. ...	1st Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For gallant conduct and exceptionally good work throughout the campaign, as orderly to Head Quarters, 1st Corps. He has exhibited remarkable coolness and presence of mind in the performance of dangerous duties, often under severe shell fire, and has shown throughout great devotion to duty, and a splendid example, which was of the utmost value.
8380	Drill-Serjeant (now War-rant Officer, Class II)	Littler, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Grenadier Guards	For conspicuous gallantry throughout the campaign. He has rendered invaluable services on all occasions, and has never failed in any duty allotted to him, nowever dangerous.
2603	Serjeant ...	Llewellyn, C. H. ...	"D" Air Line Section, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous zeal and devotion to duty, and for performing excellent technical work while Superintendent of an advanced Signal Office.
77643	Gunner ...	Lock, A. J. ...	1st Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty in repairing telephone lines under a heavy fire.
7358	Lance-Corporal	Lockwood, T. ...	2nd Battalion, Yorkshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry on several occasions. He has continually volunteered for any dangerous enterprise and has on more than one occasion been behind the enemy's lines.
2058	Acting Serjeant	Love, C. ...	2nd Battalion, Monmouthshire Regiment (T.F.)	For great gallantry in going to the rescue of a wounded comrade at night under a heavy rifle and machine gun fire near Le Touquet. Also for conspicuous good work since 5th November, 1914.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
213	Serjeant ...	Lowe, N. M. ...	1/14th County of London Battalion. The London Regiment (London Scottish) T.F.	For conspicuous gallantry and marked ability and resource consistently shown throughout the campaign, when he constantly acted as a scout in front of the entrenchment, often under a heavy fire from snipers and machine guns. He supplied sketches and much invaluable information in connection with the enemy's trenches and wire entanglements.
8077	Lance-Corporal	Lucy, S. ...	1st Battalion, East Kent Regiment	For conspicuous and unselfish devotion to duty in attending to the wounded throughout the campaign. Lance-Corporal Lucy has twice previously been brought to notice in this connection.
7909	Private ...	Luddington, E. ...	2nd Battalion, Northamptonshire Regiment (Attached 8th Signal Company)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, when, on communication being rendered impossible owing to damage to cable by shell and rifle fire, he, in company with another man, repeatedly endeavoured to repair the line, and, on failing to do so, they brought back an important message from the trenches under heavy shell and machine gun fire.
757	Private ...	Ludgate, R. ...	South Irish Horse	For conspicuous gallantry and good work throughout the campaign as a Dispatch Rider, particularly during October and November, 1914, at Ypres. During this period he was constantly employed day and night frequently under fire, and gave a fine example of devotion to duty.
59909	Bombardier	Luke, F. C. ...	37th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous courage and ability while employed as a Battery telephonist. Bombardier Luke has carried out a large amount of difficult and dangerous work while repairing telephone wires under fire.
29519	Serjeant ...	Lunn, C. ...	16th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion near St. Julien on the morning of 23rd April, 1915, following a night attack, in twice going out under fire and dressing a man who was badly wounded in the arm and covering him with a blanket.
28776	Private ...	MacArtair, A. ...	Canadian Signal Company	For conspicuous gallantry on 22nd to 25th April, 1915, when telephone lines were down, in carrying orders, under heavy shell and rifle fire, to St. Julien-Ypres Salient.
7614	Serjeant ...	MacDonald, A. W. ...	1st Battalion, East Lancashire Regiment	For conspicuous zeal and ability, and for consistent good work from the commencement of the campaign.
30004	Serjeant ...	Macdonald, J. ...	Canadian Divisional Train	For conspicuous ability and coolness while employed in carrying rations to the troops, and in picking up wounded and bringing them back to dressing stations under heavy shell fire.
9740	Lance-Corporal	Mackenzie, J. D. ...	2nd Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For gallant conduct at St. Eloi, on 20th February, 1915, after leading a relieving party to his trench, in going back under a heavy fire which had been opened by the enemy, killing and wounding eight men, to look for these men. Finding none, he returned and assisted to safety an Officer who had been wounded. On 6th April, 1915, Lance-Corporal Mackenzie went out in the evening with a reconnoitring patrol and, having lost his bearings, remained inside the enemy's wire entanglements all the following day, returning after dark with useful information.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
9640	Private	Macnamara, L. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Scots Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Ypres, when he kept up fire at the enemy, who were only 70 yards away, and set a fine example to the four men who alone were left in his section.
8669	Lance-Serjeant	MacWalter, C. C. ...	1st Battalion, East Kent Regiment	For gallant conduct in performing hazardous reconnaissances of the enemy's lines, for which he was always ready to volunteer. On the last occasion he undertook this duty he was severely wounded.
26354	Private	Mallette, J. R. ...	14th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at St. Julien, although painfully wounded himself, in rescuing a wounded comrade under heavy fire, carrying him back a considerable distance.
8802	Private	Mander, W. H. ...	1st Battalion, North Staffordshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 14th February, 1915, in going out three successive times under shell fire to repair telephone wires. Private Mander had previously been noted for good work in carrying messages under fire.
7861	Corporal ...	Mann, E. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Lancaster Regiment	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty. Corporal Mann has repeatedly carried out dangerous repairing work at the Railway Barricade, Le Touquet, and his fearlessness has set a fine example.
23317	Serjeant ...	Mansell, T. ...	5th Signal Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous ability and devotion to duty since the commencement of the campaign. He has shown on many occasions that he can be absolutely trusted to carry out any work, however difficult or dangerous, that he may be ordered to do.
8388	Private ...	Mardell, A. ...	1st Battalion, Scottish Rifles	For gallant conduct on 25th March, 1915, in assisting a wounded Non-commissioned Officer back to the trenches from against the enemy's wire entanglements under a severe fire. Private Mardell has also taken part in, and led, repeated patrolling enterprises.
7501	Acting Serjeant	Markham, W. ...	1st Battalion, Royal West Kent Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 18th April, 1915, on "Hill 60," when, after his platoon commander had been killed, he took command and acted with great coolness and resource.
310	Company Serjeant-Major	Marnie, J. ...	1/5 (Angus and Dundee) Battalion, Royal Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous zeal and ability. The general bearing of this Non-commissioned Officer and the devotion to duty shown by him have set a fine example to the men.
1330	Serjeant ...	Marsh, F. W. ...	1st Battalion, Loyal North Lancashire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness on many occasions, especially during the operations at Givenchy and Cuiuchy from the 27th December, 1914, to the 29th January, 1915, when he gave a fine example of courage, resource, and cheerfulness at a time when much needed, and of great devotion to duty.
28930	Serjeant ..	Marshall, G. H. ...	9th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous ability and devotion to duty while in charge of working parties. Serjeant Marshall greatly distinguished himself while employed on constant night work in, and in front of, our advanced trenches on the Le Bizet-St. Yves-River Douve line.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
7783	Acting Company Quartermaster - Serjeant	Mart, S.	2nd Battalion, Bedfordshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty throughout the campaign, notably near Ypres on 23rd October, 1914, when he, at great personal risk, ran across an open space under heavy fire to give directions to a machine gun team.
991	Acting Serjeant	Martin, A.... ..	1st Battalion, Scots Guards	For conspicuous gallantry and resource throughout the campaign when in charge of the stretcher bearers. He has on many occasions picked up wounded men and carried messages under a heavy fire, and has shown the greatest devotion to duty.
2188	Private ...	Martin, C.	7th Battalion, Northumberland Fusiliers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry during the attack on St. Jean, on 26th April, 1915, in carrying up a box of ammunition to the firing line, assisted by Private Burrell, across open ground and under a heavy fire. These men advanced entirely unsupported and were cheered by their comrades for their bravery.
6233	Company Serjeant-Major	Martin, E.	2nd Battalion, Lancashire Fusiliers	For conspicuous courage and ability displayed from the commencement of the campaign. Company Serjeant-Major Martin has shown great bravery under fire and has been most devoted to his duties.
57115	Bombardier	Martin, F. J.	29th Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty while employed as telephonist. Bombardier Martin especially distinguished himself just before Christmas, 1914, during the attack on Ploegsteert Wood, when he continued going up and down the line under heavy fire and kept his battery in communication.
10499	Private ...	Martin, F. S.	1st Battalion, East Surrey Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry throughout the campaign, notably near Lorgies on a day in October, 1914, when, after repeated failure by other men, he got ammunition up to his machine gun under heavy rifle and shell fire.
9200	Corporal ...	Martin, G.	2nd Battalion, Durham Light Infantry	For great zeal and devotion to duty, and for excellent work in connection with transport.
42478	Driver ...	Mason, R. E.	4th "B" Reserve Brigade (formerly 146th Battery), Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry in volunteering to bring water and driving his cart into Ypres three times a day along shell-swept roads. By his devotion to duty he provided many troops and wounded with water.
57958	Bombardier	Mayo, H. F.	365th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty under fire, especially on 14th March, 1915, when, after being blown over by the explosion of a shell, he finished the repairing work on which he was engaged before leaving the spot.
4438	Company Serjeant-Major	Mayston, A.	2nd Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability throughout the campaign. At Mons he brought in a wounded man under a heavy fire. On the 18th September, 1914, on the Aisne he, under a heavy fire, after digging out a soldier buried by a shell, applied artificial respiration, thereby saving his life, and on the 20th September, 1914, also on the Aisne, he collected, re-organised, and took the command of two Companies, all the Officers having been killed, and performed invaluable services.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
4314	Company-Serjeant-Major	McCallum, G. ...	2nd Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry and resource while in command of a trench. At La Brasserie on 15th March, 1915, he displayed great courage and resource in extinguishing a petrol fire by rolling on it, saving a building from destruction, and being severely burned in the act.
17962	Sapper ...	McClosky, M. ...	56th Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry during the attack on Spanbroek Molen on 12th March, 1915, when he, with a pioneer of his company, showed great coolness and devotion to duty in getting the wounded men of an advanced party into temporary cover. Later when it was dark they went out again from the trench and brought in several more.
8664	Lance-Corporal	McCormick, P. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Irish Fusiliers	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty at St. Eloi on 14th March, 1915, when, during an attack and after being wounded, he continued to command his section, and when finally unable to do so he assisted in distributing ammunition.
8586	Serjeant ...	McFarland, T. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and ability in leading his platoon and carrying out, under heavy fire, the duty allotted to him until all his platoon had been killed or wounded. He has invariably shown great courage and zeal in his work, and has always been ready to volunteer for any dangerous duty.
6722	Private ...	McFarlane, W. ...	2nd Battalion, The Royal Scots (Lothian Regiment)	For conspicuous gallantry as a stretcher bearer, notably on the night of 28th February, 1915. When a company was heavily shelled on this bright night he, with three others, went to the rescue of a wounded man, and although one of the stretcher bearers was killed and Private McFarlane himself was wounded they succeeded in bringing the man in.
30345	Serjeant ...	McGowan, P. ...	34th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous zeal and ability while employed on observation work. Serjeant McGowan has proved himself indefatigable in the performance of his duties, and has done excellent work both by day and night.
672	Serjeant ...	McGuire, J. ...	1/5th Battalion, Liverpool Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the morning of the 23rd March, 1915, at Cuinchy, when he crawled out of his trench, with another soldier, under a heavy fire, to assist a severely wounded man. He succeeded in returning, but whilst doing so the wounded man was again twice hit, and died while being lifted into the trench.
8563	Private ...	McGuire, T. ..	2nd Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in carrying despatches under fire.
2413	Private ...	McInroy, J. ..	1st Battalion, Royal Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry between the 22nd December, 1914, and the 14th January, 1915, at Givenchy, in constantly carrying messages for over a mile between the 1st Battalion, Cameron Highlanders, and the 1st Battalion, Royal Highlanders, under a very heavy fire, also for gallant conduct and devotion to duty on the 25th January, 1915, at Cuinchy.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
6333	Private ...	McKenna, J. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry on 2nd January, 1915, when, on the River Douve, near Messines, he carried wounded men to safety through water up to his waist. Private McKenna has since continually volunteered for dangerous enterprises, and has shown remarkable coolness under fire.
14337	Sapper ...	McLaren, J. ...	57th Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry during the attack on Spaubroek Molen on 12th March, 1915, when he, together with a man of the East Surrey Regiment, went out in the face of a heavy fire and brought in a wounded man who was lying 10 yards beyond the entanglement.
7761	Private ...	McManus, J. P. ...	2nd Battalion, King's Own Scottish Borderers	For conspicuous gallantry on the morning of 18th April, 1915, on " Hill 60," when he volunteered to carry ammunition during the fighting, and also for a time held single-handed a part of the trench until assistance arrived.
885	Private ...	McNeill, J.	8th Battalion, The Royal Scots (Lothian Regiment) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry during an attack on the enemy's trenches on the night of December 18th, 1914, when he carried messages from Battalion to Brigade headquarters, frequently under heavy fire.
20853	Serjeant ...	McOmie, V. J. ...	105th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and efficiency, notably on the Ypres-Menin road, on 2nd November, 1914, when he commanded his gun with great coolness in the infantry firing line, and also on 29th and 30th October, 1914, under heavy fire near Zandvoorde.
7659	Sapper ...	Mephram, S. W. ...	57th Company, Royal Engineers	For consistent coolness and courage whenever there was any dangerous work to be done.
9527	Serjeant ...	Middleton, S. H. ...	2nd Battalion, King's Shropshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty while employed as scout and orderly, especially at St. Eloi, when, after being wounded in the thigh, he completed the journey he had undertaken and delivered his message.
19890	Corporal ...	Mildenhall, J. W.	36th Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and ability as a Signaller throughout the campaign. On the Aisne, and at St. Julien, he was continually under fire repairing lines. In front of Ypres, he carried messages backward and forward under heavy shell fire, and at Givenchy and Festubert he showed great ability in his work and devotion to duty.
11755	Private ...	Miles, C. ...	1st Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty, when he, with other men, captured an enemy's trench. His Officers being wounded early in the morning, he held it from 8.15 a.m. to 2 p.m., in spite of a heavy fire and severe losses, refusing to leave until ordered to do so by a wounded Officer.
33226	Serjeant ...	Millington, G. ...	40th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and ability as a telephonist, especially on the 25th January, 1915. He has always shown the greatest courage, zeal and resource in the performance of his duties, frequently carried out under a heavy fire.
6654	Private ...	Mills, C. W. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal West Surrey Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 8th January, 1915, when, seeing Private Wright, who was carrying a message to an isolated trench, fall, he ran out across the open and brought him into safety.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
7888	Serjeant ...	Mills, E. E....	15th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For gallant conduct and coolness at Neuve Chapelle, in collecting live bombs and conveying them to a place of safety. Also for directing defence work under fire, and for carrying a wounded man to a dressing station under heavy shell fire.
14707	2nd Corporal	Milne, C. H. ...	23rd Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry from the 20th December, 1914, to the 21st April, 1915, and continuous good work and resource frequently under heavy fire.
905	Corporal ...	Minnery, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on patrol work. Corporal Minnery has done valuable work and his boldness has set a fine example to other patrol leaders.
30988	Battery Quarter- master- Serjeant	Mitchell, G. ...	32nd Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous courage and resource at Paissy on 21st September, 1914, in taking command of a gun on his own initiative and keeping the gun working until ordered to withdraw. This gun was put out of action by a direct hit half a minute after the detachment had withdrawn. Battery Quartermaster - Serjeant Mitchell again showed fine example at the shelling of the wagon line on 10th April, 1915.
897	Serjeant ...	Moffat, J. ...	9th (Glasgow High- land) Battalion, Highland Light Infantry (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 25th January, 1915, at Festubert, when, on three separate occasions, he went out alone and repaired a telephone wire under a very heavy fire.
9945	Serjeant ...	Montgomery, F. T.	1st Battalion, Royal Warwickshire Regi- ment	For great courage and determination displayed while with a small party of men who had been cut off from our forces during a retirement. The party was in the area occupied by the Germans from August 26th to September 5th, 1914, but succeeded in escaping.
T/28938	Driver ...	Moran, J. O. ...	Army Service Corps...	For gallant conduct and ability on many occasions, particularly at Eksternest on the 22nd November, 1914, where he volunteered to drive a wagon to bring in a wounded man under a very heavy fire.
5814	Lance- Serjeant	Morgan, B. ...	5th Battalion, Scot- tish Rifles (T.F.)	For conspicuous ability and devotion to duty. Lance-Serjeant Morgan has also distinguished himself on reconnoitring patrols.
2287	Serjeant ...	Morley, J. ...	5th Battalion, Loyal North Lancashire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous ability and devotion to duty in connection with the training and efficiency of the machine-gun detachments of his battalion.
3138	Private ...	Morrison, J. ..	8th Battalion, Dur- ham Light Infantry (T.F.)	For gallant conduct and resource near Ypres on 25th April, 1915, when the parapet of the trench had been blown in and all the Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers in the vicinity had been killed or wounded, in organizing the men near him with great coolness and continuing to fight until ordered to withdraw.
3/4346	Private ...	Mullins, J. ...	1st Battalion, Dorset- shire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on several occasions, notably on the night of 12th-13th February, 1915, when he carried two wounded ration-carriers into safety under heavy fire; also on the night of 12th-13th April, 1915, when he reconnoitred up to the wire close in front of the German trenches. He has frequently volun- teered for dangerous patrol work.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
16576	Private ...	Mullins, T. M. ...	7th Canadian Battalion	For gallant conduct and resource near Gravenstafel on 17th April, 1915, in assisting an Officer to extinguish a lighted torch which had fallen in an open box of fused bombs.
8308	Private ...	Mumby, N....	1st Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Zillebeke on 14th March, 1915, when, after a trench had been completely destroyed by the explosion of a German mine, he, in company with another man, went down the crater three times during the night voluntarily, close up to the enemy's trenches, to see if they had occupied it. On one occasion they were heavily fired at by a German patrol.
821	Lance-Serjeant	Murphy, J. ...	4th Battalion, Middlesex Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 26th February, 1915, when he crossed an open space of 50 yards within 150 yards of the enemy, who were firing heavily, in order to re-establish order in a trench, the garrison of which had been thrown into confusion by the enemy's bombs. Serjeant Murphy, after re-establishing order, returned across the open space and reported to his Officer.
8828	Private ...	Murphy, M. ...	1st Battalion, Leinster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 9th April, 1915, in company with another man, in patrolling up to a new trench dug by the enemy and obtaining valuable information as to the German line and obstacles in front of it. They then placed obstacles in front of their own trench, although the enemy's trenches and ours were only 40 yards apart, under a continuous fire.
8765	Serjeant ...	Murray, S. ...	1st Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For great gallantry and devotion to duty. Has at all times shown great courage, and exposed himself to the enemy's fire when necessary without hesitation, thereby setting an excellent example to his men.
14503	Serjeant ...	Murrell, E. ...	2nd Battalion, Grenadier Guards	For conspicuous gallantry as Signalling Serjeant throughout the campaign. In the day or night, in all conditions of weather, and in spite of heavy shell or rifle fire, he has been out repairing wires whenever broken, regardless of danger. He has always shown great courage, zeal and resource in the performance of dangerous and difficult duties.
24774	Corporal ...	Mutimer, J. ...	24th Heavy Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For great gallantry and devotion to duty on the Aisne, on 27th September, 1914, while his battery observation post was being shelled and many casualties were occurring, in crossing an open space under heavy fire to obtain assistance for the wounded.
10689	Lance-Corporal	Neal, H. ...	1st Battalion, Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry while employed as stretcher bearer; he showed great devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle in searching for and bringing in wounded, even close to the enemy's line.
10543	Private ...	Needham, J. ...	1st Battalion, Cheshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on March 10th, 1915, when he volunteered to take up a Medical Officer by daylight to attend to an Officer who was reported to be bleeding to death in the trenches. Subsequently he assisted in an attempt to remove the Officer by daylight which proved impossible, but another attempt by night by Private Needham and the Medical Officer was successful, although the latter was wounded while getting the wounded Officer away.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
8353	Serjeant ...	Neideraner, G. ...	3rd (attached to 2nd) Battalion, Royal Sussex Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 29th January, 1915, at Cuinchy. In command of a platoon, when the Germans made an attack and established themselves behind a small bank, he, with great courage, bombed them out of their position and they were shot down.
8506	Private ...	Nelson, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry on various occasions, notably on 23rd April, 1915, when, after the parapets and communication trenches on "Hill 60" had been blown in, he, with another private soldier, carried a wounded man under shell, bomb and machine gun fire, from "Hill 60" to a dressing station.
105	Serjeant ...	Newman, F. ...	Royal Army Medical Corps	For conspicuous coolness and gallantry displayed during the periods 16th to 20th November, 1914, and 12th December, 1914, to 31st March, 1915, when in charge of advanced dressing stations. In the presence of danger this Non-Commissioned Officer has carried out his duties with great ability.
1836	1st Class Air Mechanic	Newns, L. S. ...	Royal Flying Corps	For gallant conduct and coolness when carrying out his duties under fire; also for the conspicuous thoroughness and efficiency for which his work has been noticeable.
8895	Serjeant ...	Noble, J. L. ...	2nd Battalion, Shropshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty on 18th April, 1915, in assisting to bring in a wounded officer in daylight, being constantly fired on by the enemy's snipers.
2760	Private ...	O'Connor, J. ...	1st Battalion, Irish Guards	For conspicuous gallantry and resource. He has performed valuable services on patrol duty throughout the campaign, no work being too dangerous for him to undertake.
26051	Bombardier	O'Shaughnessey, O.	2nd Mountain Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty at Ploegsteert Wood on 19th December, 1914, and following days, in repairing telephone wire under fire; on one occasion he received a shot through his cap but continued his work cheerfully and methodically. Bombardier O'Shaughnessey was shot through both legs later on.
9633	Lance-Corporal	O'Sullivan, M. ...	2nd Battalion, Leinster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 3rd February, 1915, in assisting to remove wounded from billets which were being shelled. He twice entered the building under fire, bringing out wounded each time.
8192	Serjeant ...	O'Toole, D. P. ...	1st Battalion, South Wales Borderers	For conspicuous gallantry from the 21st to the 23rd December, 1914, near Festubert. Both during and after the action he performed excellent service in carrying messages under a heavy fire, and subsequently volunteered and brought water and ammunition to the forward trenches.
7788	Company Serjeant-Major	Owens, E. ...	1st Battalion, Cheshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty throughout the campaign, notably at Ypres on 16th November, 1914, when he brought back under heavy fire from the enemy, only 80 yards away, an abandoned machine gun which had been left in a trench.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
9932	Acting Serjeant	Packhard, W. E. ...	1st Battalion, East Surrey Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry throughout the campaign, notably in October, 1914, near Richebourg l'Avoué, when in charge of a machine gun enfilading a German attack in advance of the trenches. A party of the enemy got within 20 yards of him under cover, but with great coolness he swung round his gun and annihilated them.
6365	Acting Serjeant	Parker, F. E. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Berkshire Regiment	For conspicuous courage and coolness at Neuve Chapelle during 10th to 14th March, 1915, when laying out telephone wire and maintaining communication under fire.
12820	2nd Corporal	Parker, F. H. ...	7th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For great courage and devotion to duty in performing consistent good work in exposed positions, often under fire. Corporal Parker greatly distinguished himself while employed on constant night work in and in front of, our advanced trenches on the Le Bizet—St. Yves—River Douve line.
30115	Driver ...	Pate, S. A. ...	Canadian Divisional Train	For conspicuous ability and coolness while employed in carrying rations to the troops, and in picking up wounded and bringing them back to dressing stations under heavy shell fire.
1479	Company Serjeant-Major	Pattison, J....	1/5th (Angus and Dundee) Battalion, Royal Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous zeal and ability. The general bearing of this Non-Commissioned Officer and the devotion to duty shown by him have set a fine example to the men.
5684	Corporal ..	Paul, E. ...	2nd Battalion, Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry in carrying out all kinds of dangerous work, for which he has shown himself as always ready to volunteer.
8601	Acting-Corporal	Pavitt, J. J. ...	1st Battalion, Leinster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Ypres on 5th and 6th April, 1915, in erecting wire entanglements on two occasions under close fire of the enemy, whose main trench was within 60 yards. Corporal Pavitt has done consistent good work, volunteering to go out sniping by day and night, and has previously been noted for gallant conduct at St. Eloi on 14th March, 1915.
836	Corporal ..	Paynter, R. E. P. ...	Royal Flying Corps	For gallant conduct and coolness when carrying out his duties under fire; also for the conspicuous thoroughness and efficiency for which his work has been noticeable.
536	Serjeant ..	Pearce, G. ...	4th Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For conspicuous gallantry and ability. On the night of 28th February, 1915, when it was very bright, he went out to look after a Corporal who had been wounded. The Corporal was again hit, but Serjeant Pearce remained looking after him until a stretcher could be brought. Serjeant Pearce has since been wounded.
16246	Serjeant ...	Pearless, H. N. ...	7th Canadian Battalion	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty near Keerselaere on 24th April, 1915, in operating his machine gun on the enveloped right flank of his Battalion until he and his gun were blown up.
3/9321	Acting Serjeant	Pearson, T. R. ...	1st Battalion, Northamptonshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry, especially between the 27th and 29th January, 1915, at Cuinchy. He formed one of a party which drove the Germans out of a trench they had occupied, and gave throughout the action an example of great courage and devotion to duty.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
9020	Private ..	Penwill, C. ...	1st Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For conspicuous gallantry on the 22nd December, 1914, at Givenchy, and on the 25th January, 1915, at Cuinchy, and on many occasions throughout the campaign.
11344	Private ...	Peverley, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Durham Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry and ability in carrying messages. Has proved himself a cool and reliable soldier.
2047	Serjeant ..	Phillips, E. J. ...	26th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and ability throughout the campaign, notably from the 20th December, 1914, to the 21st April, 1915. He has shown constant courage and devotion to duty in the performance of his work generally under a heavy fire.
9468	Lance-Corporal	Phillipson, T. ...	2nd Battalion, Northamptonshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle, while under heavy shell fire, in dressing and attending to wounded. Although other men who were assisting were hit, he still continued until all the wounded were dressed and then placed them in safety under cover.
M/17553	Company Serjeant-Major	Phipps, A. ...	Army Service Corps...	For conspicuous zeal and devotion to duty at all times, and for valuable assistance in connection with the training and discipline of his column.
4058	2nd Corporal	Pim, W. A. ...	43rd Wessex Divisional Signal Company, Royal Engineers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry in repairing telephone lines, especially at Hooge, on night of 24th April, 1915, when he made no fewer than eight separate journeys, repairing the lines under very heavy and continuous shell fire.
1308	Private ...	Pollitt, L. ...	1/5th Battalion (Earl of Chester's) Cheshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry during the night of March 24th, 1915, when he assisted in bringing into safety a Non-Commissioned Officer and two men who were lying in the open under fire.
6605	Company Serjeant-Major	Port, E. G. ...	2nd Battalion, East Kent Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry near Ypres on 3rd May, 1915, in holding on to a trench to the last, covering the retirement of his men to another position. The enemy, of whom he killed many, were only a few yards away.
9338	Serjeant ...	Pothecary, W. F. .	5th City of London Battalion, The London Regiment (London Rifle Brigade) (T.F.)	For great gallantry and resource on several occasions in reconnoitring the enemy's front near Le Gheer, and obtaining valuable information. On one occasion he crawled up to within ten yards of the German trench and investigated a supposed mine.
849	Company Serjeant-Major	Potter, H. ..	1st Divisional Cyclist Company, Army Cyclist Corps. (Late Royal West Surrey Regiment)	For conspicuous gallantry and marked ability. The efficiency of his Cyclist Company owes much to the zeal and energy he has displayed in the performance of his duties. On many occasions he showed great coolness and bravery under a heavy fire.
2159	Private ...	Ponchot, J. H.) ...	16th County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (Queen's Westminster Rifles) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on 8th January, 1915, in going, in the face of a heavy fire, to the assistance of Corporal Roche and Private Tibbs, who had both been mortally wounded.
26757	Gunner ...	G. Powley ...	26th Heavy Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For gallant conduct on 10th January, 1915, when, being look-out man on the Cinder heap, he was wounded by a high explosive shell, which burst within two yards of him, but continued his work.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
26648	Company Serjeant-Major (now Lieutenant)	Price, C. B.	14th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at St. Julien, in going to the assistance of a man who, while on patrol, had been wounded by Germans whom he had encountered. Company Serjeant-Major Price went out, and shooting the two Germans who had wounded him, brought in the man, undoubtedly saving his life. His conduct all through the action was of the most meritorious and self-sacrificing kind.
7942	Private	Prince, R. L.	1st Battalion, Somerset Light Infantry	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty on the 8th March, 1915, in continuing to operate the telephone in an advanced trench in front of Ploegsteert Wood, after being hit in the mouth by shrapnel.
34209	Serjeant	Prior, G.	26th Heavy Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty between the 23rd December, 1914, and the 2nd January, 1915, at Annequin, when, by his coolness and courage, he kept the men of the battery steady while under a heavy shell fire.
6738	Serjeant	Quantrill, H.	1st Battalion, Suffolk Regiment	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty in carrying messages under a heavy fire. Serjeant Quantrill was twice wounded through the thigh, but succeeded in bringing in his messages.
21190	Private	Quigley, H. S.	2nd Infantry Brigade, Staff, Canadian Contingent	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when acting as linesman during the action of 22nd to 27th April, 1915, during which time he repaired at least 100 breaks under heavy shell fire. Private Quigley also assisted a wounded officer to a place of safety. He was himself wounded when repairing a line under fire on 2nd May.
767	Gunner	Rafferty, J....	Motor Machine Gun Service	For conspicuous devotion to duty during the attack on "Hill 60" on April 17th and 18th, 1915. He continued working his gun under heavy shell fire until he was severely wounded.
6756	Serjeant	Rastall, G. H.	1st Battalion, Royal Lancaster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry near Le Touquet on 20th April, 1915, in volunteering to accompany an officer and another non-commissioned officer in entering a mine gallery, which had been pierced by the enemy. Serjeant Rastall was the leading man of the party, who exchanged shots with the enemy and forced them to retire.
6754	Private	Rawlinson, J.	1st Battalion, Royal Lancaster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in mending telephone wires under fire, in the open, behind the trenches near Le Touquet.
2108	Serjeant	Rayment, F.	1st Battalion, Hertfordshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness on the 7th February, 1915, when he led his platoon to support under a very heavy fire. He showed a fine example of courage and devotion to duty.
43790	Gunner	Reece, J. E.	33rd Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle on 10th to 12th March, 1915, when employed at a forward observation post, and for repeatedly repairing his telephone wire under heavy fire.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
6346	Serjeant ...	Rees, H.	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Rifles	For conspicuous gallantry and ability at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, in handling his platoon, on one occasion going under very heavy fire to his Company Commander for orders. Again on 12th March he kept his platoon well in hand during very heavy shelling. Serjeant Rees' conduct throughout has been most gallant. He was severely wounded on 12th March, 1915.
11935	Lance-Corporal	Reeve, L. H.	1st Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty, when he, with other men, captured an enemy's trench. His Officers being wounded early in the morning, he held it from 8.15 a.m. to 2 p.m. in spite of a heavy fire and severe losses, refusing to leave until ordered to do so by a wounded Officer.
9291	Bandsman	Regan, G. P. W.	2nd Battalion, Leinster Regiment	For great courage and devotion to duty on 14th March, 1915, in dressing the wounded under a very heavy fire.
6847	Acting Corporal	Reid, J.	1st Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry at Bixchoote on the 22nd October, 1914, when, by his courage and devotion to duty, he retained, with his men, a hold on a trench, although under a very heavy machine gun fire from two directions. Subsequently he went back and brought up ammunition along a road swept by machine gun fire, and thereby prevented any advance by the enemy.
1290	Lance-Corporal	Rendall, J.	2nd Battalion, Welsh Regiment (attached to 170th Company, Royal Engineers)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 1st April, 1915, when, at about 1 a.m., under a bright moon, he went out in front of the advanced trenches and brought in a wounded man from within 40 yards of the German trenches, being fired on heavily the whole time.
24503	Corporal ..	Revell, E. G.	2nd Signal Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and resource in charge of a telephone detachment throughout the campaign. On several occasions he volunteered to go out and repair telephone lines under shell fire. On the 10th March, 1915, at Cuinchy, the wires between Brigade Headquarters and Battalions being frequently cut by shell fire, he mended them, thus maintaining telephonic communication without a break throughout the day.
9937	Corporal ...	Rickard, S. G.	"C" Air Line Section, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous zeal and devotion to duty when carrying out his work as Chief Linesman with his Company.
7573	Private ...	Riddlestone, F.	1st Battalion, Suffolk Regiment	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty in continually carrying messages under a heavy fire.
5379	Serjeant-Major	Rigby, D. A.	5th Battalion, Scottish Rifles (T.F.)	For conspicuous ability and devotion to duty. Serjeant-Major Rigby has performed excellent work.
7017	Company Serjeant-Major	Robb, F.	1st Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry on 17th February, 1915, in taking an important message to the firing line in daylight under a heavy fire at close range. Company Serjeant-Major Robb, who was wounded on 6th April, 1915, has performed most valuable work in the trenches.
12536	Lance-Corporal	Roberts, A. C. G.	2nd Battalion, Middlesex Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and skill at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, when he used bombs to repel a counter-attack by superior numbers of the enemy, who were thereby forced to retire losing several of their number.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
28151	Gunner ...	Roberts, A. J. ...	1st Siege Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th January, 1915, at Cuinchy, when he went out from an observation station with an Officer and rescued a wounded man in the open under a heavy fire. Later he volunteered to repair the battery telephone wire under heavy shell fire.
1947	Private ...	Roberts, J. ...	5th Battalion, South Lancashire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Le Touquet in getting out of his reserve trench on his own initiative and going to the assistance of a man who had been wounded behind No. 1 trench. Private Roberts had to run about 80 yards in daylight, and under a heavy fire, to reach the man, whom he bandaged, and remained with him until assistance arrived.
139	Serjeant ...	Robertson, H. R. ...	1/5th Battalion, Liverpool Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the morning of 23rd March, 1915, at Cuinchy, when he crawled out of his trench under heavy fire, with another soldier, to assist a severely wounded man. He succeeded in returning, but, whilst doing so, the wounded man was again twice hit, and died while being lifted into the trench.
11589	Lance-Corporal	Robertson, R. ...	2nd Battalion, Highland Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry during the campaign. He has always volunteered for night patrolling or any dangerous work, and has shown a splendid example of devotion to duty in the performance of it.
12921	Corporal ...	Rogers, E. D. J. ...	5th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness under fire. He has frequently had the entire responsibility for the work of his section during the shortage of Officers, and has invariably carried out his duties with great zeal, resource, and ability.
19910	Corporal ..	Ross, T. O. ...	10th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the night of 24th-25th April, 1915, in carrying to safety three wounded men in succession under heavy machine-gun and rifle fire.
5168	Corporal (Acting Serjeant)	Rouse, W. J. ...	12th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous courage and resource while leading his section. He has particularly distinguished himself while employed by night in the construction of breastworks.
7276	Lance-Corporal	Rumfitt, W. F. ...	2nd Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty while employed as stretcher bearer. Lance-Corporal Rumfitt's name has been brought to notice as representative of a number of courageous and devoted stretcher bearers.
8724	Serjeant ...	Russell, H....	7th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty. Serjeant Russell greatly distinguished himself while employed on constant night work in, and in front of, our advanced trenches on the Le-Bizet-St. Yves-River Douve line. He has always been ready to undertake a dangerous piece of work, and has set the men of his section a splendid example of keenness and hard work.
6867	Lance-Serjeant	Rutherford, P. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry on the 23rd December, 1914, at Givenchy, and on the 25th January, 1915, at Cuinchy, in charge of the stretcher bearers, when, under a heavy fire, he successfully brought in over 50 men from various corps from the front of German lines.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
7967	Private ...	Salisbury, E. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and determination on night patrols, particularly on the night of the 17th-18th March, 1915, when he accompanied an officer and brought in a flag from just in front of the German lines.
8940	Lance-Corporal	Sawyer, A. S. ...	2nd Battalion, West Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 14th March, 1915, as orderly to the Medical Officer. On 31st March, 1915, at Fleurbaix, he assisted the Medical Officer to tend the wounded in a house which was being heavily shelled by the enemy.
8276	Company Serjeant-Major	Sayers, M. ...	1st Battalion, East Lancashire Regiment	For great gallantry displayed at various times in taking out wiring and scouting parties at Le Gheer. Company Serjeant-Major Sayers has shown himself always ready to volunteer for any dangerous work.
64917	Corporal ...	Scales, J. ...	30th Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty as Brigade Staff Signaller and telephonist. Since November, 1914, he has been continuously at work in the communication system day and night, and constantly under heavy fire away from cover.
1376	Serjeant ...	Scholefield, E. R. C.	(Now 2nd Lieutenant in Special Reserve of Officers) Royal Flying Corps	For the conspicuous gallantry and ability with which he has carried out the duties of a pilot.
19637	Corporal ...	Schultz, S. ...	10th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion while acting as medical orderly on the night of 24th-25th April, 1915, when he remained at the dressing station after it had been practically blown to pieces, and took charge until every wounded man had been removed, displaying great courage throughout.
8384	Company Serjeant-Major	Scott, T. H. ...	2nd Battalion, Welsh Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th January, 1915, at Givenchy, when he took up reserve supplies of ammunition under a very heavy fire.
9879	Company Serjeant-Major	Scrase, A. ...	1st Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For conspicuous gallantry on all occasions. His great courage under fire and untiring energy have been the means of setting an excellent example.
7977	Acting-Corporal	Sear, A. W. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Berkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th December, 1914, at Givenchy, when he assisted in bringing in from the front of the trenches, and under a heavy fire, a wounded man and also a wounded German.
9726	Private ...	Searle, J. H. ...	1st Battalion, Devonshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 10th March, 1915, when he went voluntarily under heavy shell fire to another trench to obtain shovels with which to dig out buried men.
845	Serjeant	Selby, E. ...	1st Battalion, Hertfordshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and efficiency displayed throughout the campaign, and particularly for much excellent work as Platoon Serjeant, when he frequently showed great courage and ability under heavy fire.
2087	Corporal ...	Selwood, J. A. ...	1/4th (City of Bristol) Battalion, Gloucestershire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry displayed at Le Gheer on 20th April, 1915, in volunteering to go out in the mist at 2.30 a.m. and ascertain the truth of a report that some of the enemy were near our wire. On a flare being sent up, Corporal Selwood discovered several of the enemy close to our entanglements and at once opened fire, to which they replied, severely wounding him in the arm. He then returned to our lines with his report.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
8737	Private ...	Shalliker, J. E. ...	2nd Battalion, Manchester Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty in bringing up ammunition to the firing line at Le Cateau and at Festubert on 27th October, 1914, after two men had been killed in the attempt.
2080	Corporal ...	Shanks, J. ...	9th (The Dumbartonshire) Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry in twice crossing over open ground under heavy fire to collect small parties whose leaders had either been killed or wounded, and in reorganizing and leading them forward.
5542	Company Serjeant-Major (now 2nd Lieutenant)	Sheay, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty. He commanded his Company with great skill and resource from 30th October to 15th November, 1914, after all the Officers had been killed or wounded.
1677	Private (Temporary Corporal)	Sheil, B. R. ...	1/8th Battalion, Royal Warwickshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous courage and resource displayed on the night of 18th-19th April, 1915, at Steenbecque, near Wulverghem, when, while forming one of a listening patrol of four men, on encountering a listening patrol of the enemy, he seized one of the latter and made him prisoner. The enemy's patrol immediately opened fire, killing one of our men.
10574	Lance-Corporal	Sinclair, J. ...	1st Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders	For great gallantry and zeal while employed as a sniper. Lance-Corporal Sinclair has also been of great assistance in first-aid work, and altogether his services in the trenches have proved invaluable.
16174	Corporal ...	Skinner, S. P. ...	56th Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry on many occasions, notably on 12th March, 1915, when in the attack on Spanbroek Molen he got into the enemy's trench and did good work with hand grenades.
7284	Company Serjeant-Major	Slim, T. F. ...	3rd Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry during the campaign, notably on 15th October, 1914, near Richebourg St. Vaast, when he went out and brought in a severely wounded Officer under very heavy fire, being himself wounded in doing so.
2950	Serjeant ...	Slorance, J. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry and resource on the 25th January, 1915, at Cuinchy, when, although wounded, he took up reinforcements under a heavy fire, and subsequently collected more men and pushed forward with them still under fire.
7858	Private ...	Smith, C. F. ..	1st Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Zillebeke on 14th March, 1915, when, after a trench had been completely destroyed by the explosion of a German mine, he, in company with another man, went down the crater three times during the night voluntarily close up to the enemy's trenches to see if they had occupied it. On one occasion they were heavily fired at by a German patrol.
2039	Corporal ...	Smith, E. ...	1st Battalion, King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness at Frezenberg on 8th May, 1915, being largely instrumental in enabling his Commanding Officer to maintain his position. Corporal Smith carried an important message under fire, and to do this had to crawl along outside a trench for its whole length, it being full of dead and wounded.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
19344	Sapper ...	Smith, G. ...	15th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle, on 10th March, 1915, in continuing to make loopholes and block up openings in a wall, under heavy rifle and machine gun fire, and completing the work though bricks were frequently knocked down after being set in position. Sapper Smith has previously displayed great steadiness under fire.
1584	Acting Corporal	Smith, H. ...	6th Battalion, Northumberland Fusiliers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry in action, and for his devotion to duty in finally assisting at the end of the engagement in carrying a wounded Officer from the firing line, although wounded himself.
9987	Private ..	Smith, H. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal West Surrey Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry during an attack on the German trenches on November 1st, 1914, when he took a message from his Commanding Officer under heavy fire to a platoon that had lost its direction.
3329	Battery Serjeant-Major	Smith, J. ...	43rd Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous courage and coolness at Houplines Mairie Tower on 28th February, 1915, while employed on observation work. In spite of the fact that the Tower was several times hit by shell fire, this Warrant Officer stuck to his post in the Tower top.
445	Private ...	Smith, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Gordon Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on March 12th, 1915, when he carried important messages under very heavy fire.
8373	Private ...	Smith, J. W. ...	1st Battalion, East Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous courage and ability displayed while erecting barbed wire, and on patrol duty. Has done consistently good work.
8926	Serjeant ...	Smith, V. R. ...	2nd Battalion, East Kent Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry displayed near Ypres on night of 15th-16th February, 1915, during the re-capture of a trench. Also on 13th April, 1915, for advancing single-handed along a sap, and bombing a German barricade.
5565	Serjeant ...	Smith, W. ...	1st Battalion, Gloucestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th January, 1915, at Givenchy. With great coolness and courage at a critical moment, he did much towards steadying the men, and in maintaining the fire, which brought the attack to a standstill.
R 7689	Lance-Corporal (Acting Serjeant)	Spanton, T. H. ...	3rd Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For conspicuous gallantry on 15th February, 1915, in going out by daylight under fire to bring in wounded men; also for consistent good work and gallant conduct.
55663	Bombardier	Spence, A. ...	25th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on 14th March, 1915, when he went out under heavy fire and repaired the telephone wire.
8874	Corporal	Stead, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Scots Guards	For conspicuous gallantry on 18th December, 1914, when he left his trench under heavy machine gun fire and dragged two wounded men into safety.
9896	Lance-Corporal	Stead, R. ...	1st Battalion, West Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous courage and resource displayed when one of a basket of six bombs became ignited in his dug out, in extracting it and throwing it over the parapet, when it immediately exploded in the air, the fuze being only a five-seconds one.
9163	Lance-Corporal	Stevens, A. E. ...	2nd Battalion, Gloucestershire Regiment	For gallant conduct and coolness in taking urgent messages to and from the trenches in daylight, while under a heavy fire.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
1607	Lance-Corporal	Stewart, D. A. ...	1/14th County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (London Scottish) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and marked ability consistently shown throughout the campaign. He was constantly employed as a Scout in front of the entrenchments, often under a heavy fire from snipers and machine guns. He supplied sketches and much invaluable information in connection with the enemy's trenches and wire entanglements.
6000	Company Serjeant-Major	Stewart, J. J. ...	2nd Battalion, King's Own Scottish Borderers.	For conspicuous ability and devotion to duty since the beginning of the War. On October 13th, 1914, he took command of a half-company and acted with great judgment; also on 20th December, 1914, when all the Officers of his Company had been killed or wounded, he rallied and took command of the Company.
6853	Acting Serjeant	Stewart R. ...	2nd Battalion, Gordon Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on March 12th, 1915.
D. 16	Drummer...	Stiffin, A. J. ...	Honourable Artillery Company (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on 6th January, 1915, near Kemmel, when, at great risk, he crawled out of his trench and applied first-aid dressing to two wounded men under heavy fire.
2320	Private ...	Stokes, A. P. ...	5th Battalion, Northumberland Fusiliers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in taking messages under a very heavy shell fire and, although twice wounded, in continuing until he had completed his task.
1826	Private ...	Storer, A. ...	1/6th Battalion, North Staffordshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty on 28th April, 1915, near Kemmel, when he took his turn with a few other men in entering a mine gallery to rescue comrades who had been overcome by gas. The rescuing party persevered till all had been saved.
717	Corporal ...	Stott, J. S. ...	1/14th County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (London Scottish) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and marked ability and resource consistently shown throughout the campaign. He was constantly employed as a Scout in front of the entrenchments, often under a heavy fire from snipers and machine guns. He supplied sketches and much invaluable information in connection with the enemy's trenches and wire entanglements.
75	Lance-Corporal	Stransom, T. H. ...	5th City of London Battalion, The London Regiment (London Rifle Brigade) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on all occasions. Lance-Corporal Stransom has shown himself quite without fear and has set an excellent example to his men.
2635	Private	Sturch, C. J. ...	2nd Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For conspicuous gallantry displayed at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March, 1915, during the first attack, in advancing in front of his platoon and keeping up a steady fire to help the remainder on.
5913	Regimental Serjeant-Major	Sutherland, A. ..	1st Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders	For gallant conduct and ability while in command of a platoon; also when at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 13th March, 1915, he took charge of the ammunition supply, under heavy shell fire, with marked success.
2907	Serjeant ...	Swain, W. ...	2nd Field Company, Royal Engineers	For gallant conduct and resource at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, when the section officer was wounded, in taking and remaining in command until the close of operations. He handled the section with conspicuous coolness, carrying out work under heavy fire with the utmost devotion to duty.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
6740	Acting Company Serjeant-Major	Tabb, E. ...	1st Battalion, Devonshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness in the trenches, notably on 10th March, 1915, when under heavy shell fire he dug out men who had been buried.
10056	Lance-Corporal	Tanner, W. G. ...	2nd Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders	For consistently gallant conduct as stretcher bearer throughout the campaign.
66136	Gunner ...	Taylor, R. ...	104th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on March 12th, 1915, when he made his way alone along a heavily shelled road and showed great courage and coolness all day in repairing telephone wires under heavy fire.
7604	Serjeant ...	Tector, W. ...	1st Battalion, Leinster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability at Ypres between 2nd and 15th April, 1915, in patrolling up to the enemy's trenches by day and night, thereby gaining most valuable information as to his saps and advanced posts, also as to machine gun positions.
1629	Serjeant ...	Thompson, A. ...	1st Battalion Northumberland Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry on various occasions, notably at Kemmel on 26th January, 1915, when he bombed the enemy's trench with good effect in front of a detached post; and near Ypres on 4th March, 1915, when he showed great coolness in command of a detached trench after more than half its garrison had been killed or wounded by shell fire.
8823	Private ...	Thompson, F. ...	1st Battalion, Cheshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Ypres on March 4th, 1915, when he was wounded in the trenches but refused to be taken away as he knew that his battalion was short of telephone operators. He remained there 24 hours on duty till his company was relieved and then was taken to hospital.
7229	Acting Corporal	Thompson, J. ...	2nd Battalion, King's Own Scottish Borderers	For conspicuous gallantry on "Hill 60" on the night of 17th April, 1915, when he superintended his section digging a communication trench under heavy fire, and set a fine example to his men.
9669	Private ...	Thorburn, T. ...	2nd Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders	For consistently gallant conduct as stretcher bearer throughout the campaign. Private Thorburn's cheerful energy during the severe weather in the trenches set a great example to the younger soldiers.
8645	Corporal ...	Tibbets, G. ...	2nd Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment	For gallant conduct on 1st January, 1915, at Rue du Bois, when he brought in, under a heavy fire, from a post in front of the trenches, a wounded Serjeant of his Regiment.
5638	Company Serjeant-Major	Tighe, J. P. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Regiment	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty displayed at St. Eloi, on the night of 14th February, 1915, in leading out a party of stretcher bearers under a heavy fire, to bring in wounded.
306	Flight-Serjeant	Tindale, T. G. ...	Royal Flying Corps ...	For conspicuous zeal and devotion to duty, and the noticeable efficient manner in which he has carried out his responsible duties.
20543	Private ...	Tooke, W. J. ...	1st Battalion, King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry at Frezenberg on 8th May, 1915, when, on volunteering to take a message under heavy fire, and having carried the message, he crawled back through a wood and having found the enemy in possession, remained there until dark, when he returned and reported to his Commanding Officer.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
8341	Serjeant ...	Trasler, H. ...	1st Battalion Bedfordshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty, notably on April 20th, 1915, during the action at "Hill 60."
8307	Acting Company Quartermaster-Serjeant	Turl, G. F. ...	2nd Battalion Essex Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in remaining with an Officer and a few men, when practically the whole of the men of his Company had been overcome by asphyxiating gas and had fallen back, and driving back the advancing enemy.
1850	Private ...	Turnbull, J. ...	9th (The Dumbartonshire) Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders (T.F.)	For gallant conduct and initiative in collecting a party of twelve men, there being no Non-commissioned Officer near by, and in taking charge of, and leading them forward, being himself severely wounded.
33191	Private ...	Turner, F. ...	Canadian Army Medical Corps	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Wieltje on 24th April, 1915, when attending to wounded. When the dressing station had been heavily shelled, he carried his wounded to a neighbouring ditch and continued to tend them under heavy shell fire for the greater part of the day, remaining until all had been removed.
607	Serjeant ...	Utting, C. ...	2nd Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, when seven of his men had been killed or wounded by a shell, in going back under machine gun fire, improvising stretchers, and getting three of the wounded under cover. Serjeant Utting has also done much good work in the trenches since November, 1914.
7844	Corporal ...	Vallis, A. S. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Scots Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty throughout the campaign as a stretcher-bearer, notably on October 30th, 1914, near Zandvoorde, and on December 18th and 19th at La Beutillerie, when he brought in wounded men under heavy fire.
7951	Serjeant ...	Venn, H. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Berkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle while in charge of a machine-gun section and blocking parties, after the Officer in command had been wounded.
59574	Corporal ...	Venters, B. ...	364th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty while employed as telephonist. Corporal Venters has carried out consistent good work under very trying circumstances and often under heavy fire at St. Eloi, and has frequently repaired broken wires under shell and rifle fire.
11656	Serjeant ...	Voisey, H. J. V. ...	Royal Army Medical Corps	For conspicuous gallantry throughout the campaign. He has displayed great coolness when collecting wounded at night, and has shown excellent initiative on many occasions under fire. Serjeant Voisey performed very good work at the dressing station at Vailly in September, 1914, under very trying circumstances.
2373	Private ...	Waghorn, O. ...	5th (Cinque Ports) Battalion, Royal Sussex Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 18th to the 20th March, 1915, at Festubert, when he remained at his sniping post doing effective work, although it had been located by the enemy, and subjected to a heavy and continuous fire.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
6972	Lance-Corporal	Wakelin, F. B. ...	1st Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry at Pilckem Ridge on 23rd April, 1915, in taking his platoon up into the firing line after all the senior Non-commissioned Officers had been killed or wounded, under heavy shell and rifle fire.
7394	Acting Corporal	Wallace, T. ...	1st Battalion, The Royal Scots (Lothian Regiment)	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty. Corporal Wallace has been continually employed either as a guide or a sniper, and has displayed great coolness at his work. He has always been an early volunteer for any dangerous work.
508	Private ...	Walters, H. ...	8th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on 24th April, 1915, although wounded in the head and in the thumb, in remaining at the parapet and using his rifle against an attack.
9624	Acting Serjeant	Ward, E. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Berkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 20th February, 1915, at Givenchy, when he went out several times under a heavy fire and brought in wounded men.
10831	Lance-Corporal	Warner, C. ...	1st Battalion, Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry as stretcher bearer, showing great devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle in searching for and bringing in wounded, even close to the enemy's line. Also, during 10th to 14th March, 1915, this Non Commissioned Officer was commended for tending the wounded while exposed to the fire of snipers. He was severely wounded, but volunteering again, rejoined his unit after seven weeks.
60716	Corporal ...	Watson, A. ...	72nd Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty while employed as telephonist, he having repeatedly repaired and buried the wire under fire. On 26th January, 1915, at Water Farm, Corporal Watson continued telephoning, though wounded, under a heavy fire of high explosive shell.
10199	Lance-Corporal	Watson, H. ...	2nd Battalion, East Lancashire Regiment	For gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle in going out and rescuing a wounded man who was entangled in barbed wire in front of our trenches.
10732	Private ...	Watt, W. R. ...	6th (Banff and Don-side) Battalion, Gordon Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry, notably in tending the wounded under shellfire at Neuve Chapelle on 13th and 14th March, 1915, and in going out alone on 2nd March, 1915, and bombing the enemy's trenches under heavy fire.
8059	Lance-Corporal (Acting Corporal)	Watts, H. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Lancaster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry near Le Toquet on 20th April, 1915, in volunteering to accompany an Officer and another Non-Commissioned Officer in entering a mine gallery which had been pierced by the enemy. Shots were exchanged, and the enemy were forced to retire.
9182	Company Serjeant-Major	Webb, H. ...	1st Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle on 11th and 12th March, 1915, in continually carrying messages to all companies and Brigade Headquarters, under fire, and always getting his messages through.
5796	Company Serjeant-Major	Webb, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Suffolk Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty throughout the campaign, notably at Le Cateau, where he showed great gallantry in fetching ammunition.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
9262	Serjeant ...	Webb, W. J. ...	119th Heavy Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry on the night of 6th-7th March, 1915, in demolishing the front of a house with trench howitzers which had to be placed in position in bright moonlight at a range of 40 yards, under heavy rifle fire. The house was occupied at the time by snipers.
1214	Serjeant ...	Webster, J. ...	1/5th (Angus and Dundee) Battalion, Royal Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous zeal and ability. The general bearing of this Non-Commissioned Officer and the devotion to duty shown by him have set a fine example to the men.
6252	Company Serjeant-Major	Weeks, W. ...	1st Battalion Welsh Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Ypres on 18th April, 1915, in voluntarily going out after an attack and bringing in the body of Lieutenant Davis. Company Serjeant-Major Weeks has previously been noted for his courageous behaviour.
8249	Sergeant ...	Wells, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability throughout the campaign as Signalling Serjeant. He has been constantly laying and repairing wires under heavy fire, and always showed great courage and zeal and devotion to duty.
11124	Private ...	West, A. J. ...	1st Battalion, Middlesex Regiment	For conspicuously gallant conduct near Armentieres on 3rd January, 1915, in carrying a wounded man, under a hot sniping fire, across the open, the communication trench at the time being impassable. Private West has constantly brought in wounded men under fire.
4423	Company-Serjeant-Major	Westcott, W. F. ...	2nd Battalion, West Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty on 10th March, 1915, at Neuve Chapelle, when, after his Officers were wounded, he performed their work as well as his own with great zeal.
2283	Private ...	Weston, A. T. ...	1/6th Battalion, North Staffordshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty on 23th April, 1915, near Kemmel, when he took his turn with a few others in entering a mine gallery to rescue comrades who had been overcome by gas. The rescuing party persevered till all had been saved.
2286	Lance-Corporal	Wheeldon, H. P. ...	1/8th Battalion, Royal Warwickshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty displayed at Steenbeque, near Wulverghem, on the night of 19th-20th April, 1915 in going, with an Officer, to the assistance of Private Holman, who lay mortally wounded close to the enemy, and whom they carried in. Lance-Corporal Wheeldon then returned with the Officer and searched, without success, for another man who had been shot at the same time.
13204	Private ...	White, G. A. ...	5th Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in volunteering for, and carrying on, the Medical Officer's work after that Officer was missing. During 26th April to 5th May, 1915, Private White was continuously attending to wounded under fire.
46567	Bombardier	Whiting, J. G. E. P.	8th Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and ability in repairing telephone wires under heavy fire. This was notably the case on two occasions during March near Kruisstraat; on one of these occasions a heavy howitzer shell burst within ten yards of him, but notwithstanding this he continued repairing the wire and re-established communication.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
9834	Lance-Corporal	Whiting, W. G. ...	2nd Battalion, Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 26th October, 1914, on the Ypres-Menin road, when he brought forward his machine gun 200 yards under very heavy fire and endeavoured to mount it single-handed in the trench when all the team had been wounded and he himself hit. He also succeeded in bringing two wounded men into the trench.
7097	Lance-Corporal	Whitla, W.... ...	1st Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Pilekem Ridge on 23rd April, 1915, in carrying Captain Lockhart to cover, when wounded, under heavy artillery and rifle fire.
9009	Corporal ...	Wibberly, J. J. ...	55th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and determination in erecting wire entanglements under fire. Corporal Wibberly also performed excellent work at Neuve Chapelle during 10th to 14th March, 1915.
7368	Acting Serjeant	Wicks, H.	1st Battalion, Leinster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability at Ypres between 2nd and 15th April, 1915, in patrolling up to the enemy's trenches by day and night, thereby gaining most valuable information as to his saps and advanced posts, also as to machine gun positions.
10646	Company Quartermaster-Serjeant	Widdowson, F. ...	1st Battalion, Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment	For gallant conduct at Neuve Chapelle on 11th April, 1915, in going out on his own accord and binding up a wounded man who had been left. This Non-commissioned Officer has previously distinguished himself for his readiness in volunteering for dangerous services, reconnoitring enemy's trenches, erecting barbed wire, etc.
9132	Lance-Corporal	Wilkie, T.	2nd Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For gallant conduct in patrol work. On the 3rd February, 1915, he reconnoitred a trench to within a short distance of the German lines, and returned with German rifles and equipment which had been abandoned in the trench.
R. 1701	Private ...	Wilkinson, R. ..	1st Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty, when he, with other men, captured an enemy's trench. His Officers being wounded early in the morning, he held it from 8.15 a.m. to 2 p.m., in spite of a heavy fire and severe losses, refusing to leave until ordered to do so by a wounded officer.
4940	Acting Lance-Corporal	Williams, G. ...	1st Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For devotion to duty and ability on the night of 21st February, 1915, at Ypres. When a German patrol of about 20 men approached his trench from the rear and opened fire, he collected a few men and dispersed them at point blank range.
10089	Acting Corporal	Williams, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty as an orderly. Acting Corporal Williams has frequently carried messages across the open under heavy fire, showing an absolute disregard for his personal safety.
10179	Private ...	Williams, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Scottish Rifles	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle, on 10th March, 1915, in leading a bombing party successfully.
2143	Private ...	Wilson, R.	1st Battalion, Royal Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry at Givenchy on 25th January, 1915, when, under a very heavy and continuous fire, he carried messages throughout the fighting from the Company Commander to all the platoons.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
10362	Private ...	Wilson, T. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Scots (Lothian Regiment)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near St. Elloi on 24th February, 1915, while employed as stretcher bearer, in attending to wounded men in the open, in bright moonlight, and under a heavy fire. On another occasion Private Wilson crawled 80 yards in daylight to attend to a wounded man in an isolated trench. He has continually displayed marked bravery.
6983	Corporal ...	Wilson, W....	1st Battalion, Leicestershire Regiment	For great gallantry and coolness displayed on 31st March, 1915, in digging out from a shelter, while under heavy shell fire, a man who had been buried by the bursting of a shell. Corporal Wilson has also done consistent good work throughout the campaign as a Platoon Commander.
958	Acting Corporal	Windebank, A. ...	2nd City of London Battalion, The London Regiment (Royal Fusiliers) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on 15th March, 1915, in crossing open ground under heavy fire to go to the assistance of a wounded comrade. Acting Corporal Windebank lay out in the open, with the wounded man, from 8 a.m. till dusk, thereby saving the man's life.
6622	Company Serjeant-Major	Withers, C. ...	1st Battalion, South Staffordshire Regiment	For conspicuous energy and devotion to duty since November, 1914, in the work of reorganising the battalion.
11990	Corporal ...	Wood, J. ...	9th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For gallant and meritorious services during a long period with working parties in the front line. Corporal Wood greatly distinguished himself while employed on constant night work in, and in front of, our advanced trenches on the Le Bizet—St. Yves—River Douve line. He was wounded on 26th February, 1915.
8286	Serjeant ...	Wood, J. E. ...	1st Battalion, East Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous and consistent zeal and devotion to duty displayed as a Platoon Commander.
1793	Corporal ...	Wood, R. J. ...	1st Wessex Field Ambulance, Royal Army Medical Corps (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty while in command of stretcher bearers under heavy fire at Neuve Chapelle, from 10th to 14th March, 1915.
7624	Private ...	Woodroff, W. G. ...	1st Battalion, Wiltshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry in the fighting at Neuve Chapelle in October, 1914, and for consistent good work as an Orderly.
8133	Company Serjeant-Major	Worsley, A. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Lancaster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability throughout the winter in the trenches. Company Serjeant-Major Worsley's zeal, enterprise and example have had great effect on the men, over whom he has kept good command.
78550	Gunner ...	Wray, H. ...	366th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry in volunteering to go out to an observation station in a very exposed position under a heavy shell fire. On arrival he found an Officer and the telephonist there killed.
7261	Acting Serjeant	Wright, D. ...	1st Battalion, Royal West Kent Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on many occasions, notably on October 25th, 1914, at Neuve Chapelle, when he volunteered to carry out a dangerous reconnaissance of a trench dug by the enemy. Finding it unoccupied he took forward a covering party while the trench was being filled in.

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
9483	Company Serjeant-Major	Wright, H. ...	3rd Battalion, Middlesex Regiment	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty at Ypres on 13th February, 1915, when, after being wounded in the head, he refused to leave his trench but remained until his company was relieved. During the whole of the night 13th-14th February the trench was subjected to a very heavy fire from artillery, machine gun and infantry.
28939	Serjeant ...	Wyatt, W. E. .	57th Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness displayed on several occasions under trying circumstances. He has done consistently good work and given a fine example to his men.
10277	Serjeant ...	Yearsley, J. ..	1st Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders	For great gallantry and devotion to duty in keeping up telephonic communication, having been constantly employed from 8th January, 1915, in repairing broken wires under a heavy fire.
8892	Lance - Corporal	Yorke, S. ...	2nd Battalion, South Lancashire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on October 21st, 1914, when he returned under heavy fire to a house to see if it contained a wounded Serjeant. He has since shown great bravery on many occasions as stretcher-bearer, notably at Ypres between 12th and 17th November, 1914.
18946	Sapper ...	Young, C. ...	2nd Field Company, Royal Engineers	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915, when, while working with a party engaged in loopholing a house and the enemy had opened fire, he continued his work until wounded, although the remainder of the party had taken cover.
10658	Lance - Serjeant	Young, H. ...	2nd Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For conspicuous gallantry on the 10th January, 1915, when, during a partial retirement in face of a strong attack, he, with an Officer and one man, held an advanced post under heavy fire and stopped the enemy while the line was being rallied.
241	Lance - Serjeant	Young, J. ...	1st Battalion, Royal West Kent Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 17th April, 1915, when he picked up a German hand grenade which had fallen among his men and threw it back at the Germans. The grenade exploded almost immediately after it had left his hand. Throughout the action Serjeant Young behaved with great gallantry.
636	Serjeant ..	Young, W. ..	2nd Battalion, Scots Guards	For conspicuous devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle between March 10th and 14th, 1915, when he did excellent work as Battalion Signalling Serjeant under very difficult circumstances.
1898	Private ..	Yourston, J. ...	7th Battalion, Northumberland Fusiliers (F.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. While advancing towards Fortuin on 25th April, 1915, the party to which he was attached came under heavy machine-gun fire, several being killed and wounded. Private Yourston safely reached a trench, but noticing a Serjeant lying wounded in the open, ran out, pulled off his equipment and brought him into safety. During the whole time the ground was swept by machine-gun fire.