A Senior Fellow who for a period of not less than twenty-five years in the aggregate has held one or other of the offices of Tutor, Bursar, Dean, or College Lecturer, whether or not he have during the whole of that period been a Fellow of the College, shall retain his Fellowship for life, discharged of the obligation of holding any such office, and of residence in accordance with § 1, subject however to the conditions in Chapter XIII, § 1, provided however that he shall vacate his Fellowship at any time on his acceptance of any post or ecclesiastical preferment of the net annual value of £750 a year at least.

7. A Senior Fellow who for a period of twenty-five years in the aggregate has either held one of the qualifying offices and employments enumerated under A and B of Chapter XII, § 4, or held a Senior Fellowship on account of the qualification C of that section, provided further that he have for at least fifteen years in the aggregate been a Senior Fellow of the College, shall retain his Fellowship for life, discharged of the obligation of holding any College or University office or of residence in the University, under the like conditions as in § 6 above.

8. If any Senior Fellow is prevented by ill-health or other sufficient cause from fulfilling his duties continuously, he may be allowed by a vote of two-thirds of the Master and Senior Fellows exclusive of himself, to intermit his duties for a period not exceeding one year, and a similar exemption may be granted at the end of such period, and so on from time to time; provided always that the time during which such intermission is allowed shall not be reckoned in computing the periods required in accordance with § 6 and § 7 above for the tenure of his Fellowship for life.

9. In case a Senior Fellow ceases to hold one of the qualifying offices or employments specified in Chapter XII, § 4, A, or B, and is not qualified in accordance with §§ 6, 7 above to retain his Fellowship for life, the Fellowship shall become vacant on the first day of the Term next following that in which such cessation of qualification takes place.

CHAPTER XVI.

Election and Admission of Fellows.

1. The Master and all the Fellows shall be the electors of the Junior Fellows.
2. The Master and Senior Fellows shall be the electors of the Senior Fellows.

3. When a Fellowship becomes vacant the Master shall, as soon as the vacancy is made known to him or on the first day of the following term, according as the vacancy is made known to him in term time or out of term time, give notice thereof to all the Fellows.

4. If by such vacancy the number of Senior Fellows is reduced to less than one-third of the whole number of Fellowships, the Master shall, on the day on which the notice is given, fix a day and hour for the election of a Senior Fellow, such day being not earlier than the fourth day nor later than the eighteenth day next following, so that the election may be completed by the thirtieth day from the date of giving notice, and shall cause notice of such election to be sent to all the Senior Fellows.

5. If by such vacancy the number of Senior Fellows is not reduced to less than one-third of the whole number of Fellowships, but is less than two-thirds of such number, the Master shall fix a day and hour for a meeting of the Master and Senior Fellows, such day being not earlier than the fourth day nor later than the eighteenth day next following and give notice thereof to all the Senior Fellows. At such meeting the majority of the Master and Senior Fellows may, if they think fit, make an order for the election of a Senior Fellow within thirty days, and thereupon the Master shall fix a day and hour of election as above provided and shall cause notice of such election to be sent to all the Senior Fellows.

6. If either (a) the Master and Senior Fellows decide to make no such order, or (b) by such vacancy the number of Junior Fellows is reduced to less than one-third of the whole number of Fellowships, the Master shall in case (a) on the day of such decision, and in case (b) forthwith, fix a day and hour for a meeting of the Master and all the Fellows, such day being not earlier than the fourth day nor later than the eighteenth day next following, and give notice thereof to all the Fellows. At such meeting the majority of the Master and Fellows may, if they think fit, make an order for the election of a Junior Fellow within thirty days, and they shall make such order so that the election may be completed within one year at latest from the date of the vacancy.

7. Provided that if more than one Fellowship be vacant at one time the Master and Fellows may defer the election to one, but not more than one, Fellowship for such a period that not more than one year shall elapse between two successive elections. For the purposes of this section the election of a Junior Fellow to a Senior Fellowship shall not count as an election.

8. Whenever the Master and Fellows shall have made an order for the election of a Junior Fellow, the Master shall fix the day and hour of election as above provided in the case of the election of a Senior Fellow mutatis mutandis, and shall cause notice of such election to be sent to all the Fellows.

9. At any time when the number of Senior Fellows is less than two-thirds of the whole number of Fellowships, the Master and Senior Fellows may elect a Senior Fellow in the manner prescribed in § 5, subject to the provisions of Chapter II.

10. On the day of election the Master and Senior Fellows, or the Master and Fellows, as the case may be, shall meet at the appointed hour; Chapter XII of the Statutes on the "Qualifications of the Fellows" shall be read aloud; and the Master and each of the Senior Fellows or Fellows present shall make the following declaration:—"Ego M.N. polliceor me in socium huius Collegii electurum illum virum, quem Statuto antelecto significari et apertius describi, et optimum esse ad Collegii commodum et honorem promovendum, mea conscientia iudicabit. Ita bona fide polliceor et ita do fidem."

11. The Master shall then write his own vote and receive the written votes of the Senior Fellows or Fellows present. He shall then read the votes aloud; and if a majority of the existing body of Master and Senior Fellows or Master and Fellows as the case may be shall have voted for any one person, the Master shall declare him to be elected; provided however that in the case of an election to a Senior Fellowship under Qualification D of Chapter XII, the majority shall consist of at least two-thirds of the existing body of Master and Senior Fellows. If there be no such majority of votes in favour of any one person, the process of voting shall be repeated as often as the Master and Senior Fellows or Master and Fellows think fit during twelve days reckoned from the beginning of the election; and if at the end of the said twelve days there be no such majority as aforesaid the election of a Fellow qualified according to the Statutes shall for that turn be made by the Visitor of the College.

12. The Fellow elected shall make, as soon as may be, the following declaration:—"Ego M.N. socius huius Collegii electus polliceor me Statuta omnia et singula pro Collegio administrando edita, bona fide observaturum; magistro in omnibus obtemperaturum quaecunque legitime praeceperit; omnia denique, e quibus Collegio commodi vel honoris accessio aliqua fieri possit, pro virili parte propecturum. Ita bona fide polliceor, et haec omnia in me recipio";—and he shall then be admitted in the customary manner.

13. The order of precedence of the Fellows in the College shall be regulated by the date of their admission without regard to their tenure as Senior or Junior Fellows, and Fellows admitted on the same day shall take precedence according to their degrees. A Junior Fellow elected to a Senior Fellowship shall not require re-admission.

14. The Master and Fellows may, in any special case in which the interests of the College seem to them so to require, make it at the time of election a condition of the tenure of a Fellowship that the Fellow shall, if called upon to do so within one year from the date of his election, accept any specified College office and hold it for such time as the Master and Fellows shall require. On any breach of such condition the Fellowship shall become vacant.

CHAPTER XVII.

Emoluments of Fellows.

1. Every Fellow resident in College shall be entitled to the use of rooms rent free and kept in good and substantial repair by the College. The Master shall assign such rooms to the several Fellows, having regard to their order of precedence. The conditions of residence for the purpose of this paragraph shall be defined by the Master and Fellows by College order.

2. Every Fellow in residence shall receive a moderate weekly allowance for commons, the amount to be determined by the Master and Fellows by College order. The conditions of residence for the purpose of this paragraph shall be defined in like manner.

3. The Fellows shall receive dividends from the revenues of the College according to the provisions of Chapter xxx, and in case of the vacancy of a Fellowship in any year, the proportional part of the dividend assigned to that Fellowship for the period during which it is vacant shall not be distributed as provided in Chapter xxx, but shall be disposed of in such way for the permanent benefit of the College as the Master and Fellows may determine.

4. The thirteen Fellows highest in order of precedence except the Supernumerary Fellows, if any, provided for in Chapter xiv, § 2 (b), and in Chapter xix, shall for the purposes of the settlement of Mr Tancred be taken to be "the thirteen Fellows of Christ's College, in Cambridge, upon the Foundations of Margaret Countess of Richmond and King Edward VI." The Fellow thirteenth in order on the list of Fellows shall be called and taken to be the Fellow on the Foundation of King Edward VI. The two Fellows lowest on the list of Fellows shall be called and taken to be Fellows on the Foundation of Sir John Finch and Sir Thomas Baines. All the other Fellows shall be called and taken to be Fellows on the Foundation of the Lady Margaret, Countess of Richmond and Derby, Foundress of the College.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Professorial Fellowship.

1. One of the Fellows shall be deemed to be a Professorial Fellow, and his Fellowship shall be held according to the terms and conditions prescribed for Professorial Fellowships by the Statutes of the University, made under the powers of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877.

2. If the Professorial Fellow shall at any time resign his Professorship and be still entitled in accordance with the provisions of Chapter xv to remain a Senior Fellow, the Master and Senior Fellows may, if they think fit, proceed to elect a Professor of the University as a Senior Fellow, and the Professor so elected shall be the Professorial Fellow, even if at the time of such election there is no vacancy in the Fellowships and even if at the time of such election the number of Senior Fellows is already two-thirds of the whole ordinary number of Fellowships. In such case, however, no further election of a Fellow shall take place until the number of Fellows becomes less than the whole ordinary number of Fellowships in the College, and no further election of a Senior Fellow shall take place until the number of Senior Fellows becomes less than two-thirds of the whole ordinary number of Fellowships.

CHAPTER XIX.

Supernumerary Fellows.

Any Fellow, other than the Professorial Fellow, may declare in writing to the Master his wish to become a Supernumerary Senior or Junior Fellow as the case may be. If the Master and Fellows consent, he shall become a Supernumerary Fellow, and shall thenceforth be a Fellow to all intents and purposes, and hold his Fellowship under the conditions of tenure provided by these Statutes for Senior and Junior Fellows respectively, and shall enjoy all the benefits of the same, except that he shall not be entitled to any dividend. He shall not, however, be counted towards making up the number of Fellows required by these Statutes, and a new Fellow shall be elected in due course.

CHAPTER XX.

Honorary Fellows.

1. The Master and Fellows may at a special meeting to be held for the purpose, and by a resolution in which the votes of three-fourths at least of the existing body of Master and Fellows shall concur, elect as an Honorary Fellow any person distinguished in art, science, or other branch of learning, who is or has been a member of the College. The Master and Fellows may at any time by a like vote terminate the tenure of an Honorary Fellowship.

2. The person so elected shall not have any voice or authority in the affairs of the College, nor be entitled to any dividend or have any claim to presentation to a benefice, but he shall enjoy such other privileges and advantages as the Master and Fellows may from time to time determine.

CHAPTER XXI.

Suspension and Deprivation of Fellows.

1. If, in the opinion of the Master, there are sufficient grounds for preferring a charge against a Fellow of having been guilty of criminal or disgraceful conduct, or of conduct gravely prejudicial to the good order or reputation of the College; or if such a charge be preferred by three Fellows at least in a written notification sent to the Master, it shall be the duty of the Master to summon as early as possible two of the Senior Fellows to act with him as Assessors, and in their presence to investigate the charge, ample opportunity being given to the Fellow in question of being heard in his defence.

2. If, in the judgment of the Master and one at least of the Assessors, the charge be established, the Master shall, with the assent of one at least of the Assessors, either deprive the Fellow so offending of his Fellowship and expel him from the College, or suspend him for a time limited or contingent from the profits and enjoyment of his Fellowship, or admonish him, according as the offence committed seems to require. Provided that in every case either of deprivation or suspension, the Fellow deprived or suspended shall have a right of appeal to the Visitor, who shall be empowered to annul the sentence, or to vary it at his discretion.

3. No Fellow whose conduct is to be investigated shall act as an Assessor.

4. If, in accordance with § 2, a Fellow be suspended from the profits and enjoyment of his Fellowship, the dividends during the time of the suspension shall be disposed of for the permanent benefit of the College in such manner as the Master and Fellows may determine.

CHAPTER XXII.

Election and Admission of Scholars, and their Tenure.

1. The Scholars shall be elected by the Master and Fellows from among the Students of the College or of the University, or according to the result of the examinations instituted for the purpose, from among persons who have not commenced residence at the College or in the University.

2. The maximum emolument of Scholarships (hereinafter called "Entrance Scholarships") awarded to persons who have not commenced residence shall be eighty pounds (£80) a year inclusive of room rent and all allowances. No one shall be allowed to compete for a Scholarship before commencing residence in the University if his age will exceed twenty years on the last day of the Academical year in which the examination is held, provided always that the Master and Fellows may offer not more than two of such Entrance Scholarships for competition in any one year without restriction of age.

3. The tenure of an Entrance Scholarship shall be in the first instance for not more than two years. But the Master and Fellows shall have the power to prolong the tenure of such Scholar till he be of standing to be admitted to the title of Bachelor Designate of Arts, or to elect him to a scholarship of a different value.

4. An election of Scholars shall be made once in every year, or oftener if the Master and Fellows think fit, and the election shall be conducted in the same manner mutatis mutandis as the election of a Fellow. The Scholars elected shall make the following declaration:—"Ego M.N. Scholaris discipulus huius Collegii electus polliceor me omnia Collegii Statuta et Ordinationes, quae ad me pertineant, bona fide observaturum; magistro in omnibus comiter obtemperaturum quaecumque legitime praeceperit: sociis omnibus et singulis reverentiam iustam et honorem debitum praestitutum; Collegio denique ipsi fidelem et benevolum futurum. Ita bona fide polliceor et haec omnia in me recipio." They shall be admitted in the usual manner as soon as may be after election.

5. The Master and Fellows may promote a Scholar from one Scholarship to another of higher value.

6. Every Scholar shall vacate his Scholarship when he is of standing to be admitted to the title of Bachelor Designate of Arts, unless the Master and Fellows shall think fit in case of special merit to prolong the tenure for a further period not exceeding the time when he is of standing to be admitted to incept in Arts. He shall also vacate his Scholarship if he be admitted to a Fellowship, or to a Scholarship or Fellowship at any other College in Oxford or Cambridge, or at Trinity College, Dublin.

7. The Master and Fellows may award out of the Scholars' Fund Exhibitions of value not exceeding forty pounds (£40) a year and tenable for such time as may be fixed in each case by College Order, to candidates for an Entrance Scholarship or Students already in residence, who have sufficiently distinguished themselves in examination. In awarding these Exhibitions the Master and Fellows may take into account the means of the candidates. They may also grant gratuities out of the Scholars' Fund from time to time to poor Students of the College who acquit themselves with credit in the College or University Examinations.

8. An Exhibitioner elected to a Scholarship shall vacate his Exhibition.

9. The Master and Fellows may award out of the Scholars' Fund by a vote in which a majority of the Master and Fellows concur a Bachelor Scholarship to a Scholar or former Scholar of the College who has been admitted to the title of Bachelor Designate of Arts or of an equivalent degree, of such value for such time and under such conditions as may be determined in each case by College Order. A Bachelor Scholar may under special circumstances be exempted by the Master and Fellows from the general obligation to reside during either the whole or a part of his tenure. He shall vacate his Scholarship as soon as he is of standing to be admitted to incept in Arts, or if he be admitted to a Fellowship at this or at any other College. A Bachelor Scholar shall not need to be admitted.

10. The Master and Fellows may also elect as a Bachelor Scholar, a Student of the College who has not before been a Scholar. A Student so elected shall be admitted in due course.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Residence, Duties and Emoluments of the Scholars.

1. A Scholar shall keep by residence such portion of each Academical term as the Statutes and Ordinances of the University direct. He shall receive for each term that he keeps by residence one-third part of the annual value of his Scholarship.

2. He shall diligently pursue his studies, shall regularly attend such Lectures, and when of proper standing pass such Examinations as are prescribed to him by the Rules of the College, or the Statutes and Ordinances of the University; and he shall proceed without loss of time, and in a regular manner, to a degree in the University.

3. Provided however that the Master may, for sufficient cause, excuse a Scholar from any of the provisions of this Statute, except that the consent of the Master and Fellows shall be required if he is allowed to receive any emolument in respect of a term of which he has not kept the major part by residence.

CHAPTER XXIV.

The Scholars' Fund.

1. The Scholars' Fund shall receive the share of the distributable income assigned to it in Chapter xxx, § 2, and it may be augmented from time to time from the revenues of the College at the discretion of the Master and Fellows.

2. The Fund shall be considered as the benefaction of the Foundress and distributed as such: except that it shall be charged with such Scholarships as may be awarded on the Foundation of King Edward VI, and on the Foundation of Sir John Finch and Sir Thomas Baines.

CHAPTER XXV.

Additional Funds for Scholarships.

In addition to the Scholarships mentioned in Chapter xxiv, § 2, there shall be Scholarships as heretofore on each of the following Foundations, that is to say, Mr Bunting, Dr Widdrington, Dr Ward, Bishop of Sarum, of the annual value of fifty pounds (£50), and Mr Rysley, Mr Broadbanke, Archdeacon Clarke, Lady Drury, Mr Tancred, of the annual value of thirty pounds (£30). There shall be from time to time as many Scholars on each Foundation as the income belonging to it will allow. In every case the Fund of the Scholarship shall be deemed a Trust Fund to be administered for the benefit of Scholars, but the Master and Fellows may by College Order alter any of the foregoing amounts if the income of the Trust or other circumstances connected therewith seem to them to render such alteration expedient.

CHAPTER XXVI.

Correction and Removal of Scholars.

1. If, in the opinion of the Master, there are sufficient grounds for preferring a charge against a Scholar of having been guilty of disgraceful conduct, or of conduct gravely prejudicial to the good order and discipline of the College; or if such a charge be preferred by three Fellows at least in a written notification sent to the Master, it shall be the duty of the Master to summon as early as possible two of the Senior Fellows to act with him as Assessors, and in their presence to investigate the charge, ample opportunity being given to the Scholar in question of being heard in his defence.

2. If, in the judgment of the Master and one at least of the Assessors, the charge be established, the Master shall, with the assent of one at least of the Assessors, either deprive the Scholar so offending of his Scholarship and expel him from the College, or suspend him for a time limited or contingent from his Scholarship, or award such other punishment as the offence committed seems to require.

3. A Scholar who is deprived of, or suspended from, his Scholarship shall have the same right of appeal to the Visitor as a Fellow.

CHAPTER XXVII.

College Meetings.

1. The Master shall preside at all meetings of the Master and Fellows, and if on any occasion he is not able to be present he shall appoint one of the Fellows to act as his Deputy.

2. The Master may summon a meeting of the Master and Fellows at any time, and he shall, on the written request of any six of the Fellows, summon a meeting to be held at a convenient time within seven days of the receipt of such request.

3. The Master (or his Deputy) shall put to the vote any motion on a matter falling within the powers of the Master and Fellows which has been duly proposed and seconded.

4. The Master (or his Deputy) and Fellows shall have the power at any meeting of fixing by resolution the time of any future meeting or meetings.

5. No business shall be transacted at a meeting of the Master and Fellows unless a majority of the Master and existing Fellows be present.

6. A resolution shall be deemed to be carried if it receive the votes of a majority of those of the Master and Fellows who are present at the Meeting.

7. If the numbers voting for and against a resolution be equal, the resolution shall be deemed not to be carried.

8. A decision of the Master and Fellows entered in the book called the Agreement Book shall be called a College Order. A College Order shall require for its validity the signature of the majority of those present at the meeting except in special cases in which some larger proportion is required in accordance with these Statutes.

9. The Master shall have power to require at any time the attendance of a Fellow at a College Meeting, if the interests of the College seem to him to require it.

10. Meetings of the Master and Senior Fellows shall be governed by the same rules as are above laid down for the case of the Master and Fellows; the words "Senior Fellows" being substituted for Fellows in §§ 1—6, and the words "An Order of the Master and Senior Fellows" being substituted for the words "a College Order" in § 8.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

The Bursar.

1. The Master and Fellows shall appoint a Bursar, who may be the Master, or one of the Fellows, or other qualified person.

2. The Bursar shall receive the revenues and make payments according to the Statutes and Orders of the College, shall render his account in accordance with the provisions of Chapter xxix, and shall perform all other duties incident to the management of the financial affairs of the College, subject to the control of the Master and Fellows.

3. He shall receive out of the revenues of the College an adequate remuneration determined from time to time by College Order.

4. If the Bursar be the Master or one of the Fellows of the College he shall vacate his office after a tenure of ten years, except that his tenure may be prolonged for a further period of five years by a vote of the Master and Fellows at a College Meeting, provided that a majority of the existing body of Master and Fellows and at least two-thirds of those present at the Meeting concur in such vote. At the expiration of the five years his tenure may be prolonged for a further period of five years under the same condition, and so on from time to time. The appointment of a Bursar who does not belong to the body of the Master and Fellows shall be for one year only, but the appointment may be renewed from year to year.

5. If the Bursar be elected Master of the College during his tenure of office he shall vacate the office of Bursar at the next ensuing Audit unless by a vote in which the majority of the existing Fellows concur he be allowed to complete the period of his tenure. If a Bursar who is a member of the body of Master and Fellows ceases to be a member of that body during his tenure of office, he shall vacate the office of Bursar at the ensuing Audit, but shall be eligible for reappointment in accordance with the provision of § 4 above, which applies to the case of persons who do not belong to the body of the Master and Fellows.

6. The Bursar may at any time be removed from his office by a vote of the Master and Fellows in which at least two-thirds of the existing body concur.

7. Whenever the office of Bursar becomes vacant, and the Master and Fellows have not already appointed a successor to the office, that member of the body of Master and Fellows who is first in order of precedence of those then resident in Cambridge shall as soon as possible summon a meeting of such of the Master and Fellows as are then resident in Cambridge, notice of such Meeting being sent to all those who are absent. Those present at this meeting shall appoint one of the body of the Master and Fellows to manage the financial affairs of the College until such time as a new appointment to the office of Bursar is made by the Master and Fellows.

CHAPTER XXIX.

College Accounts and Audit.

1. One in every year, on some day within forty-five days after the Feast of St Michael, three days' notice at least having been given by the Master to the Fellows, the Bursar shall, in the presence of a majority of the existing body of Master and Fellows, give account in writing of his receipts and expenditure on behalf of the College, together with a statement of the balance in hand and of the financial position of the College.

2. One copy of such accounts shall be placed in the College Chest and another copy shall be kept by the Bursar.

3. One or more Auditors, elected by the Master and Fellows for each Audit, shall examine and verify the said accounts before they are submitted to the Master and Fellows, and sign them, if they be found correct.

4. Each Auditor shall receive an adequate remuneration out of the revenues of the College.

5. If a majority of the existing body of Master and Fellows are satisfied with the accounts, they shall sign them in token of approval. The Bursar shall however not sign the accounts.

6. If they are not satisfied with the accounts in any particular, the question shall be referred to the Visitor for his decision.

7. An abstract of the several accounts of the College relating to funds administered either for general purposes, or in trust, or otherwise, shall be sent on or before the thirty-first day of December in each year to the Vice-Chancellor of the University for publication. The abstract shall be made, as nearly as practicable, in the form contained in the Schedule annexed to these Statutes. The accounts of the receipt and expenditure of money, if any, raised under the borrowing powers of the College shall be sent annually at the same time to the Vice-Chancellor for publication.

CHAPTER XXX.

Distribution of College revenues.

1. On the day of Audit, after providing for the special payments required by the unrepealed wills of benefactors, by College indentures or agreements, and other lawful obligations, together with all payments required by the Statutes and Orders of the College, or by the Statutes of the University, a sufficient sum shall be applied or reserved for repairing and improving the buildings of the College, for defraying the expense of managing the College property, and for any other purpose which the Master and Fellows may consider necessary or advantageous to the College, as a place of education, religion, learning, and research.

2. One-fifth of the remaining income of the College shall be paid to the Scholars' Fund.

3. Out of the four-fifths then remaining there shall be taken a sum sufficient for the weekly allowance for commons to the Master and Fellows in residence. The sum then remaining shall be divided into a number of shares greater by seven than twice the whole number of Fellows, as determined in Chapter II, other than supernumerary Fellows. Seven of such shares shall be paid to the Master, and two to each of the Fellows.

4. Provided, however, that the amount of the dividend of a Fellow in any civil year shall not exceed two hundred and fifty pounds (£250), or that of the Master eight hundred and seventy-five pounds (£875). Such arrangements may be made for the payment by the College of the whole or a part of the income tax on the dividend of the Master and each of the Fellows as the Master and Fellows may think fit. Any such payment shall not be reckoned as part of the maximum of £250 or £875.

5. In case of the vacancy of a Fellowship, the Fellow who vacates it shall receive the proportional part of the dividend declared at the next ensuing audit for the time between the next preceding audit and the day of vacancy; and the Fellow elected and admitted into any Fellowship shall receive in like manner the proportional part of the dividend declared at the next ensuing audit for the time between the day of his admission and the day of the said audit.

6. Within forty-five days after the first day of the Easter Term the Bursar shall pay to the Master and Fellows in the proportion of their shares such sum on account of the dividends which will become due at the following audit as may be determined by College Order.

CHAPTER XXXI.

Payments for University Purposes.

The College shall pay in every year to the University the sum authorized by the Statutes of the University made under the powers of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877, to be levied from the College.

CHAPTER XXXII.

Variation in the number of Fellows:

1. If at any time it shall appear to the Master and Fellows that the revenues of the College are greater than the amount required to afford to every Fellow a dividend of two hundred and fifty pounds (£250) a year, exclusive of rooms and allowance for commons and any allowance made for income tax, but inclusive of all other allowances, they may submit to the Visitor a scheme, approved by a majority of the whole body of Master and Fellows, for increasing the number of Fellowships, or for applying the surplus in some other way for the benefit of the College or of the University, and the said scheme, if approved by the Visitor, shall thenceforth have the same force and effect as if it formed part of these Statutes.

2. The Visitor may from time to time, on a like application of a majority of the Master and Fellows, approve the modification or alteration of any such scheme.

3. If at any time the revenues of the College are fallen so low that the dividend of a Fellow on the average of the three preceding years has been less than one hundred and fifty pounds (£150) exclusive of rooms and allowance for commons and any allowance made for income tax but inclusive of all other allowances, the Visitor may on the application of a majority of the Master and Fellows approve the suspension of one or more Fellowships next falling vacant or already vacant till such time that the dividend on the average of three consecutive years shall be such that the average dividend of a Fellow would have reached one hundred and sixty pounds (£160) if during that time no Fellowship had been suspended.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

The College Seal and Muniments.

There shall be in the Treasury a Chest, called the Common Chest, in which shall be placed copies of the College accounts after every audit, together with a copy of the Statutes of the College, and the College Seal. There shall be two keys of different make for the Common Chest, one of which shall be kept by the Bursar and one by the Steward of the College.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

The Dean.

1. The Master and Fellows shall appoint a Dean, who shall be at least of sufficient standing for the Degree of Master of Arts. He shall be appointed from among the Master and Fellows, if that can be conveniently done, and shall by preference be a Priest in Holy Orders of the Church of England.

2. The Dean shall be responsible for the celebration of Divine Service in the College Chapel according to such rules as may from time to time be made by College Order, or in default of College Order, by the Master, and shall see that all persons conduct themselves decently therein. He shall superintend the conduct of the members of the College in statu pupillari. He shall reside within the precincts of the University during the periods of the year in which Divine Service is celebrated daily in the College Chapel, except for reasonable cause to be approved by the Master, and in case of absence he shall appoint a Deputy to be approved by the Master.

3. He shall receive out of the revenues of the College an adequate remuneration determined from time to time by College Order.

4. If the Dean is not the Master or a Fellow he shall have the same privileges as a Fellow in respect of rooms and commons.

5. If the Dean be the Master or one of the Fellows of the College he shall vacate his office after a tenure of ten years, except that his tenure may be prolonged for a further period of five years by a vote of the Master and Fellows at a College Meeting, provided that a majority of the existing body of Master and Fellows and at least two-thirds of those present at the Meeting concur in such vote. At the expiration of the five years his tenure may be prolonged for a further period of five years under the same condition, and again for a third such period, after which he shall no longer be eligible for reappointment. The appointment of a Dean who does not belong to the body of the Master and Fellows shall be for one year only, but the appointment may be renewed from year to year.

6. If the Master or a Fellow of the College be appointed Dean the appointment shall be subject to confirmation by a majority of the Master and Fellows before the end of the year next after his appointment. In default of such confirmation he shall at once vacate his office.

7. If the Dean be elected Master of the College during his tenure of office he shall vacate the office of Dean at the end of the current academical year, unless by a vote in which a majority of the existing Master and Fellows concur he be allowed to complete the period of his tenure. If a Dean who is a member of the body of Master and Fellows ceases to be a member of that body during his tenure of office he shall vacate the office of Dean at the end of the current academical year, but shall be eligible for reappointment in accordance with the provision of § 5 above, which applies to the case of persons who do not belong to the body of the Master and Fellows.

8. The Dean may at any time be removed from his office by a vote in which not less than two-thirds of the existing body of Master and Fellows concur.

CHAPTER XXXV.

Divine Service and Religious Instruction.

1. Whereas by the fifth and sixth sections of the Universities Tests Acts, 1871, it is enacted as follows:—

“The Morning and Evening Prayer according to the Order of the Book of Common Prayer shall continue to be used daily as heretofore in the chapel of every college subsisting at the time of the passing of this Act in any of the said universities; but notwithstanding anything contained in the statute thirteenth and fourteenth Charles the Second, chapter four, or in this Act, it shall be lawful for the Visitor of any such college, on the request of the governing body thereof, to authorize from time to time in writing the use on week-days only of any abridgment or adaptation of the said Morning and Evening Prayer in the chapel of such college instead of the order set forth in the Book of Common Prayer:”—

2. The Master and Fellows shall, so long as the enactment cited in § 1 remains in force, appoint some one or more persons to give religious instruction to members of the College in statu pupillari who belong to the Established Church and some one or more persons to act as Chaplains, and shall, if necessary, provide stipends for these persons from the revenues of the College, and shall also make such regulations as they may deem expedient for the due celebration of Divine Service and for the due maintenance of religious worship and discipline.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

[No. 700 of the year 1915.]

CAUTION WHEN APPROACHING BRITISH PORTS.

PART I.

Closing of Ports.

Former Notice.—No. 274 of 1915; hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

Examination Service.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.

(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph

(7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the Examination Anchorage. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

By night the steamer will carry:—

- (a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
- (b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, when approaching a British port where the Examination Service is in force, they must have the distinguishing signal of their vessel ready to hoist immediately the Examination Steamer makes the signal.

(9) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty Charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer.

(10) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(11) Merchant vessels when approaching ports are especially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night: the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(12) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

PART IV.

H.M. Vessels are constantly engaged in sweeping operations off ports in the United Kingdom.

Whilst so engaged, they work in pairs connected by a wire hawser, and are consequently hampered to a very considerable extent in their manœuvring powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which these vessels are engaged, they will show the following signals:—

A black ball at the foremast head and a similar ball at the yardarm, or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous for vessels to pass.

For the public safety, all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying this signal, and should especially remember that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair.

Note.

This Notice is a repetition of Notice No. 274 of 1915, with the addition of Sunderland to the list of ports mentioned in Part III.

Authority.—The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.

By Command of their Lordships,
