

CHAPTER XLV.

Members not on the Foundation.

1. The Master and major part of the Fellows in residence at any time may admit persons, of whose good character and sufficient learning they have assurance, to be members of the College.

2. It shall be the duty of every person so admitted to obey the Master in all things lawful and honest, to show due respect to the Fellows, behave himself in a becoming manner, and observe the Statutes and Ordinances of the College in all things.

3. He shall pursue the course of study provided for him in the College and in the University; shall attend the required lectures and examinations, and proceed to the degree which he seeks when he is of sufficient standing for it.

4. He shall be subject to the provisions of Chapter xxvi, as to the Correction and Removal of Scholars, in all respects except that he shall have no right of appeal to the Visitor.

5. The Master and Fellows shall have power to determine from time to time the payments to be made by all such persons for the use of rooms, for commons, and for all other advantages which they may be allowed to enjoy in College.

CHAPTER XLVI.

College Servants.

1. The Butler, the Cook, the Porter, the Gardener, shall be chosen by the Master and Fellows; the rest of the Servants shall be appointed by the Master. The amount of money to be paid out of the College revenues, or by the Fellows, Scholars, and Students individually, to each of these Servants as fair wages for their work, shall be determined by the Master and Fellows as they think right and equitable.

2. If the Master or a majority of the Fellows so determine a Servant shall be removed from his post by the Master; and a Servant so removed shall have no right of appeal to any authority whatsoever.

CHAPTER XLVII.

Presentation to Benefices.

In presenting to the several Benefices in the patronage of the College, the Master and Fellows shall have regard to the Master and Fellows, the former Fellows, the Chaplain or former Chaplains, and other present or former Officers, or former Scholars of the College, but it shall not be necessary to present one of such persons, and none of them shall have any claim to any such presentation on the ground of seniority or any other ground.

CHAPTER XLVIII.

Commemoration of Benefactors.

The Commemoration of the Foundress and other Benefactors shall be celebrated according to the following manner:—

Quotannis, die et hora congruis per magistrum assignandis, magister, socii, discipuli, pensionarii in capellam convenient, et commemoratio fiat dominae Margaretae, Collegii fundatricis, principis illustrissimae et eximia pietate insignitae, aliorumque benefactorum, quorum munificentia Collegium locupletatum fuerit vel exornatum; et cuncti Deo gratias agant, qui tanta per illos beneficia contulerit, et Eundem orent ut ipsorum quoque corda ad Dei gloriam illustrandam, honorem Christi Iesu amplificandum, et in Eius fidei incrementum Divini Spiritus gratia incendat.

CHAPTER XLIX.

Notice of Address.

Every Fellow shall leave with such person as the Master and Fellows may appoint an address at some place within the United Kingdom to which notices intended for him should be sent; and in all cases in which by these Statutes notice is required to be given to any Fellow, it shall be sufficient that a notice be sent to such address by post or otherwise.

CHAPTER L.

Change in the Value of Money.

No alteration in the specific sums mentioned in these Statutes shall be made in consequence of any change in the value of money or for any other reason, except by Statute made in accordance with the provisions of the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth sections of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877.

CHAPTER LI.

Interpretation of Statutes.

If any doubt shall arise with respect to the true intent and meaning of any part of the Statutes it shall be lawful for the Visitor on the application of the Master or of any of the Fellows to declare in writing the intent and meaning on the matter submitted to him, and the intent and meaning so declared shall be deemed the true intent and meaning thereof.

CHAPTER LII.

Preservation of Interests.

1. The conditions of tenure of the Fellowship or of the College Office held by any person elected to a Fellowship or appointed to any College Office before the date of the approval of these Statutes by the King in Council shall be regulated by the Statutes approved by the late Queen Victoria in Council on the 29th day of June, 1895, or by the Statutes similarly approved on the 3rd day of May, 1882, as the case may be, as if those Statutes had remained unamended, subject however to the provisions here below.

2. Any person referred to in § 1 may signify to the Master and Fellows within one year after the approval of these Statutes by the King in Council by writing under his hand that he wishes to be placed under the operation of these Statutes. The conditions of tenure of his Fellowship or of any College Office he may hold shall be thenceforth governed by these Statutes and shall accordingly be the same as if these Statutes had been in operation at the time of his election or appointment.

3. The dividends of the Master and of all the Fellows shall be as in accordance with these amended Statutes.

4. Any person who at the time of the approval of these Statutes by the King in Council is
