Rome, November 14.

THe Popes Gallies are returned to Civita-Vicchia, and most of the Officers are come hither; and have given the Pope an account of their Expedition in the Levant; where they lost a great many Men by Sickness. Two days ago passed through this City an Express from the Marquis de Leganes to the Viceroy of Naples, to hasten the Succors, which the latter has Orders to send to the State of Milan.

Venice, Nov. 13. Five Venetian Men of War are arrived in Iffria from the Armada, and are expected here in a day or two to refit. A Convoy will sail with the first fair Wind with 1000 Land Soldiers for the Levant; The last Advices from thence inform us, that the Doge Morofini returned to Napoli di Romania on the 19th of the last Month; That he had sent two Regiments of Foot in 5 Gallies and 2 Galleasses to Winter at Corfu; That he had put the rest of the Troops in Winter-Quarters in the Morea, and was gone himself with a Body of Horse towards the Isthmus of Corinth, to view the two new Forts he had ordered to be built for the greater security of that Pass.

Turin, Nov. 16. Our Army is still encamped at Mascalier to observe the Enemy; who lay, according to our last Advice, about Saluffes, having sent back their heavy Cannon to Pigneroi; Their Troops are very much harrassed; and the Country People kill all the Straglers they meet with; They have not only been disappointed in their design upon Coni; but likewise in that of changing the Garison of Cazal, which is reduced to a very ill condition, by the hardships they have suffered for a long time. The Duke of Savoy came hither this day from the Camp.

Vienna, Nov. 21. The Letters from Hungary give an account, that the Imperial Troops are gone to their Winter Quarters; That they had taken away the Bridge of Boats at Peter-Waradin, because of the danger 'twas in of being broke by the high Winds during the Winter; and that a Party of that Garison had made an Incurion towards the Save, and brought back several Prisoners, who confirmed, that the Tartars were gone home, and the Turks to their Quarters, having left strong Garisons in Belgrade and Temeswaer. By the way of Transilvania, we have advice, that the Grand Visier was returned to Adrianople, and had sent Officers to the several Provinces of the Ottoman Empire to raise Men, and make other preparations for the next Campagne. At this Court the Consultations are continued with great diligence, and application to settle the necessary Fonds for the services of the War; Divers Officers are come hither, who are to be employed in the new Levies, and the Commissions for that purpose will be speedily given out. There are besides Negotiations on foot with several Princes of the Empire about taking some of their Troops into the Emperor's Service; part of which are to be employed on the Rhine, and the rest sent to the assistance of the Duke of Savoy.

Francfort, Nov. 29. The Troops on both sides being now in their Winter Quarters, there is little to be advised from these parts. The General Count Van Thungen, and the Baron Vander Lippe, are now in this City; and Prince Lewis of Baden is expected in few days. Commissaries are come hither from the States of Franconia and Suabia to provide Magazines in this and other places for the service of the next year.

Cologne, Dec. 1. At Hildesheim they are going to choose a Coadjutor; and the Count de Coningsecke has Orders to repair thither, to promote the pretensions of the Archbishop of Cologne, who is in Nomination; his Competitors are the Bishops of Munster and Paderborne. 'Tis said that the French are sending more Troops from Germany to reinforce their Army in Piedmont.

Hamburg, Dec. 1. The Elector of Brandenburg makes Levies, as well for recruiting his Troops, as the forming several new Regiments; We are told likewise that the House of Lunenbourg is going to augment its Forces. 'Tis said that the Bishop of Munster will send several thousand Men to the Emperor's assistance in Hungary against the next Campagne, and a considerable Body of his Troops besides, to the Rhine.

Paris, Nov. 30. The Commissioners continue their meetings to find out Ways for the Relief of the Poorer sort of People, who are under great Extremities. The Magistrates of this City are likewise employed in raising, by a Tax upon the Inhabitants, the 5 Millions of Livres they have given the French King towards the Charges of the War. The Popes Nuncio and the Ambassador of Venice had Audiences on Wednesday last at Versailles about the Affairs of Italy; 'Tis said that the Count de Rabenac will be forthwith sent thither to endeavour to divert those Princes from granting Winter Quarters and Contributions to the Germans; but in all probability he will have no better success now than he had the last year, when he was employed upon the same Errand. The Count de la Vauguyon shot himself some days ago, with a Pistol in his Chamber, having before sent away his Servants, and died presently after. The Letters from Piedmont of the 19th tell us, that the French Army had been encamped at Saluffes since the 14th, being busied in sending back to Pigneroi, the Cannon and Ammunition that was drawn from thence for the Siege of Coni, and that the Detachment which
