Rome, June 19.

ON Wednesday last died here Cardinal Howard of No Juk, in the 65th year of his Age: There are now Eleven Places vacant in the Colledge of Cardinals. The Matter about the late Ecclesiastical Liege is not yet determined. The Popes Gallies designed for the Levant are still at Civita-Vecchia.

Viena, June 28. The Duke of Savoy, being accompanied with the two Princes of Brandenburg, took a Review this day of 3 Brandenburg Regiments near this place, as also of the Regiment of Montauon; who are ordered to march, together with the Troops in Garrison here, to the Rendezvous at Gaxdorf, where several other Regiments are already arrived. The Imperial Troops and those of the Militia are likewise on their march. The French Forces under the Command of the Marechal d'Antraim: Encamp near Fuchsbach. The Vaudois defeated some days ago a Convoy of Provisions that was going from Briancou to Pignerol, and got a great Booty.

Viena, June 19. The Treaty between the Emperor and the Elector of Saxony being finally Concluded and Ratified on both sides, General Sevinow was in possession of it, restored to his Liberty on the 17th of this month; and the next day he was to visit some of the Imperial Ministers. The Advices from the Frontiers confirm that Monsieur Hamkeke, the Dutch Ambassador, who was returning thither from Adrianople, is Hoop'd at Belgrade, by Order from the Port, till the new Grand Viceray arrives there. The Imperial Forces continue to assemble at Biva on the Drave.

Viena, June 25. The Emperor has named the young Count of Winditzgratz to go in the Quality of his Envoy to the Court of Saxony, to make the Compliments of Condolence upon the Death of the late Elector, and of Congratulation upon his present Electoral Highness's Succession to that Government. The Baron d'Eck is going to assist on the part of his Imperial Majesty at the Election of a new Great Master of the Teutonic Order, which will be shortly made at Mergensal. The last Letters from Transylvania say, that the Turks had not yet been able to relieve Gula; The Garrison whereof is reduced to very great necessities.

Viena, June 26. General Caprara arrived here on Wednesday last from Piacenza; and he will part again from hence in few days to Command the Emperor's Army against the Turks: Here is a Discourse, that the Duke of Croj will accept of the Command of General of the Foot, and that he is preparing his Equipage accordingly. Things continue very quiet on the Frontiers of Hungary; but some Advices say that the Enemy are making Bridges over the Danube and the Save.

Viena, June 30. The Count de Caprara has been present at several Councils of War, and will set out in a day or two, together with the Count de Heydtsheim, General of the Horse, for Hungary; where the Imperial Forces are in the mean time drawing together at their Rendezvous on the Drave. We have a Report from Peter Waradin, that 6000 Turks had pass'd the Save, and begun to intrench themselves at Semlyn; 'Tis added that the Enemy will have a numerous Army this Summer, but their Troops consist mostly of Raw Undisciplin'd Men, and of New and Unexperienced Officers. The Imperialists have laid a Bridge over the Danube near Peter-Waradin; and we reckon the Campaign will be opened on our side by the middle of the next month.

From the Confederate Army under the Command of Prince Lewis of Baden near Sinzheim, June 25. We Encamp'd here on the 17th; and the French at Lingenbrucken. The 18th we had Advice that the Enemy were march'd towards Vifloch; which was confirm'd the next day, and that the Marechal d' Lorge had sent a Detachment of 4 or 5000 Men, under Monsieur de Melac, towards the Neckar. The 20th and 21st we heard that they had possess'd themselves of Ladzburg, and some other little places on that River, and that their Parties were gone into the Bergstraet, to consume the Forage on that side. A Party of 200 Hussars, who was sent out two days ago, is returned to our Camp with several French Prisoners. The French Army is advanced nearer to the Neckar; and lies at present between Weiblingen and Edingen. We stay only for the coming up of the Saxon Forces, and shall then advance towards the Enemy.

From Prince Lewis's Camp near Vifloch, June 27. The 24th by break of day we decamp'd from Sinzheim, to follow the Enemy; In our march 6000 Saxons joined us, being commanded by Lieutenant General Neufsch; We had several Defiles to pass, so that we did not arrive here till the Evening. Prince Lewis sent out several Parties of Horse to get Intelligence of the Enemies Motions; and the next morning we understood, that our unexpected march had so alarmed them, that they decamp'd about midnight in great haste, and with some precipitation, without giving time to their Parties that were in the Bergstraet to rejoin them, warning them only by a Signal of 10 Guns of our approach; and leaving several Wagons, Arms, and other things behind them in their Camp. This was afterwards confirm'd by divers Deserters, and 'twas thought that the reason of the Enemies sudden Retreat was, that they apprehended we should get between them and the Rhine, and cut off their Communication with Philipburg. Our Hussars pass'd the Neckar, and attack'd some of the Enemies Parties, of whom they kill'd about 60, and took divers Prisoners. On the 25th there happened a sharp Encounter between our Advanced Guard and some of the Enemies Troops who came from Hydberg; The former being inferior to the French in number, retir'd to a Bridge upon a little River that passes near Vifloch, where they kept their ground; The Enemy brought two Battalions of Foot, and a Regiment of Dragoons to force them, but the Germans being supported by a Detachment from our First Line, beat back the Enemy, and made them give way in much disorder; Of the French the Count d'Arverne Brigadier, and the Marquis d'Esromme Colonel of Dragoons, with 5 or 6 Captains, and other Officers, and about 200 Private Soldiers, were kill'd; On our side we lost about 80 Men, and the Baron d'Esromme Adjutant-General, was wounded and taken Prisoner. Yesterday another Regiment of Saxons joined us, and the rest a few within 2 or 3 days march of us. Divers Deserters come over to us every day; who are form'd into Companies in order to go and serve in Hungary. The Marechal d' Lorge is now encamp'd at Ruth, but his design seems to be to repass the Rhine, having already sent away his heavy Baggage towards Philipburg. Prince Lewis has sent out several Detachements to observe the Enemy, and to attack such of their Parties as they find abroad.

From Prince Lewis's Camp at Genzberg near Manheim, June 30. The 27th our Parties cut off about 100 of the Enemy, and brought in 74 Prisoners. Prince Lewis detach'd some Horse towards Durmiz to cover the Country of Wirtemberg against the Incursions of the French Parties. The 28th we had Advice that the Marechal de Lorge decamp'd from Ruth that morning, and retir'd towards the Rhine. Yesterday we understood that the Enemy had begun to repass that River at Philipburg. The same day we decamp'd from Vifloch and came to this place, where we have now a free Communication with the Forces of Hesse and Munster, who are encamp'd along the Rhine near Gernsheim.

From Prince Lewis's Camp at Genzberg, July 4. The 30th past we were inform'd that the whole French Army had repass'd the Rhine the day before at Philipburg; and the next day we understood that they were encamp'd between Worms and Spire. The 3d Instant were brought into our Camp 88 French Prisoners, 4 of which were Officers. The Troops of Hesse lie now not far from Hydberg, and can soon join us, whenever 'tis thought necessary.

Cologne, July 9. The Letters from the Palatinate inform us, that the French, having given over the great designs they pretended to have not long ago of attacking Hydberg and Halbron, and of insuling the Confederates in their Camp, had on a sudden, upon Prince Lewis's marching towards them, quitted Ladenburg and all the other Posts they lately made themselves Masters of on the Neckar, and had repass'd the Rhine at Philipburg the 29th past; their Army being weaker by 5000 Men than it was when it went lately over that River, many of them having been taken Prisoners, and many more having desert'd. The Marechal de Lorge had sent some of his Troops to Oppenheim, and others to Gernsheim, to destroy the Forage thereabouts, and by our last Advice, he was marching back towards Frankendal. Prince Lewis was Encamp'd between Manheim and Hydberg; The Saxons and other Troops of the Allies that had not yet join'd him, were on their march towards his Camp; And he had order'd a Bridge to be laid over the Rhine near Manheim.

Paris.

Paris, July 2. The Advices from Catalonia tell us, that the Marschal de Noailles had, on the 19th of the last month, made a Detachment of Horse and Dragoons to invest Gironne, and the next day he marched thither with the whole Army to form the Siege of that place. The last Letters from Pignorel tell us, that the Marschal de Catinat was Encamped near Finesrelles; and that on the other side, the Force of the Duke of Savoy, the Imperialists, and Spanish Troops; were marching to their General Rendezvous; except a Detachment that was made to block up Cazal.

Paris, July 9. On the 6th Instant arrived here an Express with the news of the surrender of Gironne after 4 days of open Trenches, the Garrison Capitulating on the 29th, and marching upon the 30th of the last month. The Marschal de Noailles designed to possess himself of a Castle not far from Gironne, in which was 3 or 400 Men, and after that would put his Army in Summer Quarters. The Letters from Pignorel on the 29th say, that the Duke of Savoy assembled his Troops at L. monte, and had made a Detachment of 10 Men out of a Company for the Blockade of Cazal.

From his Majesty's Camp at Roonbeck, July 1. The two Armies continue in the same Camps; and are both strongly entrenched. On Tuesday last his Majesty took a review of the Hanover Troops. Yesterday morning 4 Spies were taken in our Camp, 3 of them being Priests.

From the Camp at Roonbeck, July 5: The Elector of Bavaria joined his Troops yesterday near Louvain, and marched with them to Florival; They consist of his Troop of Guards, two Regiments of Cuirassiers, two of Dragoons, and four Battalions of Foot; and in the Evening his Electoral Highness, accompanied by the elector of Cologne, came hither to wait upon His Majesty.

From the Camp at Roonbeck, July 8. Our Parties that are sent abroad have frequent skirmishes with the Enemy; yesterday were brought in 20 Foot and 14 Troopers; and this morning two other Parties took and brought in 114 Foot, and 48 Troopers, with their Horses and Accoutrements; and several others were killed in the Encounter. The Deferters continue to come over to us in great numbers, and according to the best computation that can be made, above 3000 have deserted the French Army since their being in the Field.

From the Camp at Roonbeck, July 12. On Friday last were brought in upwards of 300 Prisoners, and the same day above 60 Deferters came over to us. Yesterday the French Army marched from their Camp near St. Trion towards Tongres, and are now Encamped from that place to Warhem between Liege and Mactricht. The Elector of Bavaria came hither yesterday from his Camp at Florival, and returned thither that night, being accompanied by the Elector of Cologne. Two of the Priests before mentioned are condemned for Spies, and 'tis believed will be executed in a day or two.

Hague, July 2. The Convoy from England with Colonel Winne's Dragoons arrived on Tuesday last in the Maese; The said Troops landed at Willemsstadt, and from thence are marched to the Army. The Swedish Minister gave in a Memorial to the States yesterday, about some Ships of that Nation which have been brought into Zealand.

Hague, July 6. On Saturday last we had an account, that the 27th past 8 Dutch Men of War who were cruising on the Dogger Banke, met with a great Fleet of Swedes and Danes coming from the Sound, and upon Examination finding them to be laden with Corn and Naval Stores, and bound to France, they stop'd them, and put so many Men on board, that they had hardly room left to Man their own Ships; In the mean time Capt. de Bart came in with 8 French Ships of War, and after an Engagement (in which Rear-Admiral Heddo de Vries was much wounded, and his Ship disabled, another of the Dutch Commanders killed, and a third wounded, and many of their Men killed and wounded) 3 of the Dutch Men of War were taken and carried to Dunkirk; and the other 5 are come into the Texell. We hear that the French have made a great provision of Bombes at Huy and Namur.

Hague, July 9. The Deputies of the Admiralties are now here to consult with those of the States about the Sea Affairs. The States of Holland Adjourned this Evening till the 16th Instant. They write from Mactricht, that a great many Deferters were come thither from the French Army; most of them Swissers and Germans.

Hague, July 13. N.S. The Packet Boat that went out from H. love's Ships on Saturday last, was tracked the same day by a French Caper, who had 5 more in Company; Two Dutch Frigats, one of 40, the other of 20 Guns, who conveyed a Fleet of 22 Merchant Ships, from London to Rotterdam, happening to be in fight, the biggest of them bore up, and fired the Packet-Boat, but in tacking about, after having given one Broad side, was overboard, several Pieces of Cannon she had on Board, besides those that were moored, rowling all to one side, so that she sunk down immediately; and all her Men and Passengers were drowned; The other Frigate was forced ashore on the Coast of Zealand, but most of her Men are saved; The Merchant Ships are all got into the Maese. The States of Holland, before they separated on Friday last, resolved to raise 5 Millions of Guilders on a Fund for Lives, giving 9 Guilders a year for every 100. The Letters from Germany say, that the French Army was come over the Rhine again, being very much weakened by Desertion, which is thought to be one reason of their so sudden repassing that River: The Deferters being so numerous in the German Camp, that Prince Louis had ordered a Regiment to be formed of such as are not French men born.

Rye, July 7. Yesterday my Lord Berkeley with the Fleet under his Command set Sail again towards the French Coast; The Tenders and other Vessels which were separated from him in the last bad Weather, and were pursuing the Downes, having rejoined the Fleet.
