

2nd Lt. John Eric Trevor-Jones, Rif. Brig., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Accompanied by two men, he cut a lane through our wire under very heavy fire. Later, he organized a bombing party and drove off an enemy attack. On another occasion he established a block under heavy fire, thereby saving a critical situation.

Temp. Capt. Herbert Walker, R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his stretcher-bearers with great courage and determination for a period of 36 hours. It was due to his energy and resource that a large number of wounded were evacuated under the most trying conditions.

Lt. John Cameron Wallace, R.E., Spec. Res.

This Officer has always shown a most magnificent example to all ranks by his absolute fearlessness and disregard of danger. He has on many occasions gone out under very heavy shell fire to repair lines himself.

2nd Lt. Philip Aubrey Watson, Yorks. Dns., attd. York & Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and cool leadership when on patrol. Although wounded, he handled his patrol with marked ability, inflicted many casualties on the enemy, and successfully extricated his command from a critical position.

2nd Lt. Percy Charles Watson, Leic. R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although wounded, he led his party into the enemy's trenches. Later, he carried a wounded man back to safety under heavy fire.

2nd Lt. Stuart Davies Webb, Bord. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He organised a bombing party and succeeded in repelling an enemy counter-attack. He has carried out several valuable reconnaissances.

2nd Lt. (actg. Capt.) Charles James Richard Whitmore, R.G.A., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although wounded, he continued to observe for his battery, in spite of heavy hostile fire. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

2nd Lt. Reginald Coleridge Wilde, L'pool R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led a fighting patrol across "No Man's Land," and captured an enemy sap, together with two prisoners. Later, although wounded, he continued in command of his patrol.

2nd Lt. Arthur Wood, R.G.A., Spec. Res., attd. T.M. By.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. With the assistance of a bombardier, he extricated a trench mortar which had been buried, and continued firing, in spite of heavy hostile shelling. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

Temp. Lt. John Leslie Wood, W. York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. On several occasions he personally went out under very heavy fire in order to lay and repair his lines. He set a splendid example of courage and determination throughout the operations.

Temp. Capt. Llewellyn Wood, E. Kent R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although his flank was exposed, he organised the line held by his company with great skill. He set a splendid example throughout, and sent in most valuable reports on the situation.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) John William Woods, York L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Accompanied by six men, he pushed forward in front of his company, thereby effecting the capture of sixty prisoners. Later, he took charge of the right-half battalion and consolidated his position under the most difficult conditions.

3513 Sqdn. S./M. (actg. R.S.M.) Arthur Collier, Hussars (attd. Permanent Staff, Oxfordshire Hussars).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion. He brought in six wounded men from the front of the trenches under a heavy fire, the men having been left out from the previous day's engagement. He has invariably shown great bravery and coolness under fire, and set a fine example to all ranks.

(The award of a bar to D.C.M. which was announced in the Gazette of 11th March, 1916, page 2736, is cancelled, the Military Cross having now been awarded instead.)

3/10252 C.S.M. Owen Cuthbert, North'n R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered invaluable assistance in forming up his company previous to the attack, and set a splendid example of coolness under very heavy fire. Later, although wounded, he remained at his post.

L/7448 C.S.M. Joseph Warner, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He took command of part of his company, and by his quick grasp of the situation materially assisted the assaulting battalions by filling a gap between them. He set a splendid example of courage and determination throughout.

AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCE.

2nd Lt. Angus Herbert Boileau, Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in charge of a group of three posts in the front line. By his fine example and initiative an enemy attack was driven off and twelve prisoners captured. Later,