

forward observing officer to his battery. Accompanied by a signaller, he laid a line across 300 yards of open ground under heavy fire. He established communication and maintained it throughout the day.

Temp. Lt. (temp. Capt.) John Archibald Cahill, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He took command of his company and successfully repelled a strong enemy counter-attack. He set a magnificent example to his men.

2nd Lt. Edmund Barry Cahusac, S. Staff. R., Spec. Res., attd. R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He carried out a successful artillery observation on a hostile battery in very adverse weather. He worked for two and a half hours at a height of 1,500 to 3,000 feet under very heavy fire. On another occasion, whilst engaged on photography, he drove off three hostile scouts and completed his work.

Lt. (actg. Capt.) Edward Conder, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He, without a guide, led his men to their positions, and carried out a most successful attack on the enemy's trenches. He set a splendid example of courage and initiative.

2nd Lt. Gordon Ernest Cronk, S. Staff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a night attack on the enemy's trenches. He directed the organisation and despatch of bombing parties in the enemy's trenches, and personally obtained touch with the company on his right. He set a splendid example to his men.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Edwin Darling, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He carried out a dangerous reconnaissance under very difficult conditions, and obtained most valuable information. He set a fine example of courage and determination.

2nd Lt. Robert Lenard Derry, E. Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered most valuable assistance to his Company Commander in posting and reorganising the company. He brought in several wounded men under heavy fire, and, although himself wounded, refused to leave his post.

* 2nd Lt. Eric Raymond Sandars Dods, Ind. Army.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability in leading his company across the open for 350 yards in the face of heavy fire. He showed great coolness and determination in the assault, and subsequently consolidated the position with a small party under difficult conditions.

Temp. Lt. Thomas Hugh Evans, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in charge of a carrying party. As a result of his organisation, ammunition dumps were formed in the enemy lines within one hour after the commencement of the attack.

* 2nd Lt. Thomas Innes Farrar, Devon. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although wounded in two places, he remained on duty and took his guns up to the captured trench, where he behaved with the utmost gallantry, although he was again wounded in the hand.

Lt. Ralph Eric Friend, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He commanded the advanced section of his battery, which was 450 yards from the enemy front line, and, though exposed to continuous and accurate fire, rendered great assistance to our attack throughout the day.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) John Gibson Gargate, Durh. L.I., attd. Notts. & Derby. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He brought up a gun, and by his fire considerably relieved a critical situation. On another occasion he was largely responsible for repelling a strong enemy bombing attack.

Capt. Douglas Reginald Gawler, R. Scots. and R.F.C.

For consistent good work whilst carrying out artillery observation and for gallantry on many occasions. On one occasion he continued his observation work in spite of being attacked by several hostile machines and in spite of being under very heavy fire.

Temp. Lt. (actg. Capt.) William John Green, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his company with great dash into the enemy trench, inflicted many casualties on the enemy, and personally supervised the pushing forward of piquets 500 yards ahead. He set a fine example to his men.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Graham Hamilton Greenwell, Oxf. & Bucks. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He kept his men well in hand when suddenly caught in a hostile barrage, and, later, carried out the original plan with complete success. He set a magnificent example to his men.

2nd Lt. Robert Hamilton, High. Cyclist Bn., attd. R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty as an observer. He carried out a successful artillery observation on a hostile battery in very adverse weather. He worked for two and a half hours at a height of 1,500 to 3,000 feet under very heavy fire. On another occasion, whilst engaged in photography, he drove off three hostile scouts and completed his work.

2nd Lt. Claude Dennis Hampshire, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a raiding party. He led his men with great dash, and captured several prisoners. The success of the raid was largely due to his good leading and the fearless example he set to all ranks of his command.

Captain Arthur Alan Hanbury Hanbury Sparrow, D.S.O., R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to