

by his personal example and leading saved a difficult situation. He was wounded in three places.

Capt. Ernest Stanley Stork, M.B., R.A.M.C., attd. Yeo.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed untiring energy and devotion to duty in evacuating a large number of wounded under heavy fire. He set a magnificent example of courage and determination.

*Temp. 2nd Lt. Cyril George Toogood, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of the first batch of pontoons to cross the river. On landing he so disposed his men and cleared the banks of the enemy that he was able to establish a foothold. In spite of heavy casualties, he held on for over six hours, thereby enabling a bridge to be built.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Alfred Charles Foster Turner, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He attended wounded under heavy fire day and night without rest. He was ever present along the line from the A.D.S. to the most advanced trenches, and on several occasions faced enemy artillery barrages in order that reserves of stretcher-bearers might reach their objectives.

Temp. Capt. (actg. Maj.) William Lambert White, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his battery. He reconnoitred by daylight in front of our infantry outposts, and established an O.P. in a shell-hole 200 yards in front of our outposts, whence he controlled the wire-cutting operations all day. In addition to cutting wire, his battery carried out important bombardment tasks.

Capt. William Ferguson Wood, M.B., R.A.M.C., Spec. Res., attd. Hrs.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Under most trying circumstances and heavy fire he collected and tended the wounded without rest or food. He frequently made dangerous tours looking for wounded men.

AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCE.

Capt. Robert Smith Somerville, M.C., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his company. He showed great skill in the handling of a delicate situation, and his cheerful courage under most trying circumstances inspired his men to the magnificent efforts which they undoubtedly made. He was severely wounded.

Capt. Harrold Eustace Woodman, Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He prepared strong defences in carefully chosen positions, and not only he, but all his officers and men, knew the ground thoroughly as the result of well-organised reconnaissances. At an early stage of the action he counter-attacked a large force of the enemy, and succeeded in holding up their advance until reinforcements arrived. He was largely responsible for saving a critical situation.

* The names marked with an asterisk appeared in the London Gazettes dated either the 17th March, 1917, or 28th April, 1917.
