

poor rate or to the inhabited house duty on a value of not less than twenty pounds [if in Middlesex thirty pounds].

You are required to make out the said list in one of the two following ways, either—

(1) You shall make out the said list in alphabetical order and write the Christian and surname of every man at full length and the place of abode, his title, quality, calling or business, and the nature of his qualification, in the proper columns of the forms hereunto annexed, according to the specimens, given in such columns for your guidance, or—

(2) You shall take copies of the jury list in force for the year nineteen hundred and seventeen (hereinafter referred to as "the 1917 list") and of the supplemental list made in pursuance of the Jury List Order, 1918 (hereinafter referred to as "the 1918 list") and shall strike out therefrom the names of all such persons appearing therein as are dead, or have removed from your parish [or township] or have attained the age of sixty-five years or are otherwise not qualified and liable to be included in the list for your parish [or township], and you shall also make such corrections or alterations therein as may be necessary and proper in respect of the place of abode, title, quality, calling or business, and the nature of the qualification of any person whose name remains therein, and you shall next proceed to make out a second supplemental list in which shall be included the names of all persons qualified and liable to be included in the jury list for your parish [or township] whose names are not included in the 1917 list or 1918 list.

If you make out the said second supplemental list you shall do so in alphabetical order and shall write at full length the Christian name and surname of every man whose name is to be included therein, and his place of abode, his title, quality, calling, or business, and the nature of his qualification, in the proper columns of the forms hereunto annexed according to the specimens given in such columns for your guidance. You shall append to the 1917 and 1918 lists revised as aforesaid and to the said second supplemental list a note stating that the 1917 and 1918 lists as revised and the second supplemental list are to be read together as if the names in the 1918 list and in the second supplemental list were inserted in proper alphabetical order in their proper places in the 1917 list, and you shall insert at the foot of each sheet in the 1917 and 1918 lists in which any names in the second supplemental lists are to be so treated as being inserted the following note:—"For further names, see the second supplemental list annexed hereto."

You are also required to specify in the list or lists (as the case may be) which of the persons named therein are, in your judgment, qualified as special jurors and to specify in every case the nature of the qualification and the occupation of the man, and the rating or assessment of every such person.

Every man is qualified and liable to serve as a special juror who is:—an esquire, or a person of higher degree, or a banker or merchant, or who occupies a private dwelling house rated or assessed to the poor rate or the inhabited house duty on a value of not less than one hundred pounds, in a town containing, according to the last census, 20,000 inhabitants and upwards, or rated or assessed to the poor rate or to the inhabited house duty on a value of not less than fifty pounds elsewhere than in such a town, or who occupies premises other than a farm rated or assessed as aforesaid on a value of not less than one hundred pounds or a farm rated or assessed as aforesaid on a value of not less than three hundred pounds.

If you have not a sufficient number of forms you must apply to me for more; and in order to assist you in making out the list you are to refer to the poor rate, and you may, if you think proper, apply to any collector or assessor of taxes, or any other officer who has the custody of any house tax, land tax, or other tax assessment for your parish [or township], and take from thence the names of men qualified:

In making out the list you are to omit the names of any of the following persons:—

Peers.

Members of Parliament.

Judges.

Clergymen.

Roman Catholic priests.

Ministers of any congregation of Protestant Dissenters and of Jews whose place of meeting is duly registered, provided they follow no secular occupation except that of a schoolmaster.

Barristers-at-law, certificated conveyancers, and special pleaders if actually practising.

Solicitors and proctors, if actually practising and having taken out their annual certificates, and their managing clerks; and notaries public in actual practice.

Officers of the Supreme Court of Judicature, and clerks of the peace or their deputies, if actually exercising the duties of their respective offices.

Magistrates of the Metropolitan Police Courts, their clerks, ushers, doorkeepers and messengers.

Coroners.

Gaolers and keepers of houses of correction, and all subordinate officers of the same.

Keepers in public lunatic asylums.

Members and licentiates of the Royal College of Physicians in London, if actually practising as physicians.

Members of the Royal Colleges of Surgeons in London, Edinburgh, and Dublin, if actually practising as surgeons.

Apothecaries certificated by the Court of Examiners of the Apothecaries Company, and all registered medical practitioners and pharmaceutical chemists, if actually practising as apothecaries, medical practitioners, or pharmaceutical chemists, respectively.

Officers of the Navy, Army and Air Force, while on full pay.

Soldiers of the Regular Army.

Men of the Regular Air Force

Officers and men of the Territorial Force.

The members of the Mersey Docks and Harbour Board, and of the Port of London Authority.

The masters, wardens, and brethren of the corporation of Trinity House of Deptford Strond.

Pilots licensed by the Trinity House of Deptford Strond, Kingston-upon-Hull, or Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and all masters of vessels in the buoy and light service em-