

BY THE KING.

A PROCLAMATION

FOR CALLING OUT THE ARMY RESERVE.

GEORGE R.I.

WHEREAS by the Reserve Forces Act, 1882, it is, amongst other things, enacted that in case of imminent national danger or of great emergency it shall be lawful for Us by Proclamation, the occasion having first been communicated to Parliament if Parliament be then sitting, to order that the Army Reserve shall be called out on permanent service; and by any such Proclamation to order a Secretary of State from time to time to give and when given to revoke or vary such directions as may seem necessary or proper for calling out the forces or force mentioned in the Proclamation or all or any of the men belonging thereto:

And whereas the present state of public affairs and the threatened dislocation of the life of the community occasioned by the existing strike in the coal mines and its threatened extension to the railway and transport services of the country have, in Our opinion, constituted a state of great emergency within the meaning of the said Act, and We have communicated the same to Parliament:

Now, therefore, We do, in pursuance of the Reserve Forces Act, 1882, hereby order that Our Army Reserve be called out on permanent service, and We do hereby order the Right Honourable Sir Worthington Laming Worthington-Evans, Baronet, one of Our Principal Secretaries of State, from time to time to give and, when given, to revoke or vary such directions as may seem necessary or proper for calling out Our Army Reserve or all or any of the men belonging thereto.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham Palace, this eighth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, and in the Eleventh year of Our Reign.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

BY THE KING.

A PROCLAMATION

FOR CONTINUING SOLDIERS IN ARMY SERVICE.

GEORGE R.I.

WHEREAS by the Army Act it is, amongst other things, enacted that it shall be lawful for Us in case of imminent national danger or of great emergency by Proclamation, the occasion being first communicated to Parliament, if Parliament be then sitting, to order from time to time that all or any soldiers who would otherwise be entitled in pursuance of the terms of their enlistment to be transferred to the Reserve shall continue in Army Service, and such soldiers shall accordingly continue in Army Service for the same period for which they might be required to serve if they had been transferred to the Reserve and called out for permanent service by a Proclamation issued by Us under the enactments relating to the Reserve:

And whereas the present state of public affairs and the threatened dislocation of the life of the community occasioned by the existing strike in the coal mines and its threatened extension to the railway and transport services of the country have, in Our opinion, constituted a state of great emergency within the meaning of the said Act, and We have communicated the same to Parliament:

Now, therefore, We do, in pursuance of the said Act, hereby order that all soldiers who on or after this date would otherwise be entitled in pursuance of the terms of their enlistment to be transferred to the Reserve shall continue in Army Service until legally discharged or transferred to the Army Reserve:

And We do hereby order Our Army Council to give all necessary directions herein accordingly.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham Palace, this eighth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, and in the Eleventh year of Our Reign.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

BY THE KING.

A PROCLAMATION

FOR CALLING OUT THE AIR FORCE RESERVE.

GEORGE R.I.

WHEREAS by the Reserve Forces Act, 1882, as applied to the Air Force Reserve, and to the officers and men thereof, by The Air Force Reserve (Application of Enactments) (No. 1) Order, 1918, it is, amongst other things, enacted that in case of imminent national danger or of great emergency, it shall be lawful for Us by Proclamation, the occasion having first been communicated to Parliament, if Parliament be then sitting, to order that the Air Force Reserve shall be called out on permanent service; and by any such Proclamation to order a Secretary of State from time to time to give and, when given, to revoke or vary such directions as may seem necessary or proper for calling out the force mentioned in the Proclamation or all or any of the men belonging thereto:

And whereas the present state of public affairs and the threatened dislocation of the life of the community occasioned by the existing strike in the coal mines and its threatened extension to the railway and transport services of the country have, in Our opinion, constituted a state of great emergency within the meaning of the said Act, and we have communicated the same to Parliament:

Now, therefore, We do, in pursuance of the Reserve Forces Act, 1882, hereby order that the Air Force Reserve be called out on permanent service, and We do hereby order the Right Honourable Frederick Edward Guest, one of Our Principal Secretaries of State, from time to time to give and, when given, to revoke or vary such directions as may seem necessary or proper for calling out the Air Force Reserve or all or any of the men belonging thereto.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham Palace, this eighth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, and in the Eleventh year of Our Reign.

GOD SAVE THE KING.