

majority of the Governing Body for increasing the number of Fellowships or Scholarships, or for providing a fund for granting gratuities to poor and deserving members of the College in statu pupillari, or for applying the surplus in some other way for the benefit of the College or of the University, and the said scheme, if approved by the Visitor, shall thenceforth have the same force and effect as if it formed part of these Statutes. The Visitor shall have power at any time on a like application of the Governing Body to vary any such scheme, but he shall not be authorised at any time to approve any scheme for diminishing the number of Fellowships below ten, or the number of Scholarships below thirty-six.

CHAPTER II.

Of College Meetings.

1. Meetings of the Governing Body, to be called College Meetings, shall be summoned by the Master when he thinks fit, by sending written or printed notices to the Fellows in residence at least one day before, but, except in the cases hereinafter provided for, he shall not be required to give more than one day's notice, nor to send notice to the non-resident Fellows.

2. Whenever requested by three of the Fellows, the Master shall summon a College Meeting to be held within ten days of such request, and shall send notice of such Meeting to all the Fellows at least six days before the date fixed for the Meeting.

3. At least four members of the Governing Body shall be required to be present to constitute a College Meeting.

The Master or his Deputy shall preside at all College Meetings, or if neither of them be present, the Meeting shall elect a chairman.

Each member present shall have one vote, and (except in cases otherwise provided for in these Statutes) in case of an equality of votes the chairman shall have a second or casting vote. But, notwithstanding any provision contained in these Statutes, no Fellow in statu pupillari shall be entitled to vote upon any College business until one year after his election.

Except in cases otherwise provided for in these Statutes, questions brought before a College Meeting shall be decided by a majority of votes.

4. Subject to the limitations contained in these Statutes the Governing Body shall have the general administration of the affairs of the College. They shall appoint all College Servants, regulate their number, wages, and duties, and dismiss them if they think proper. They shall assign from time to time the rent of Students' rooms and all other charges payable by Students.

5. The Governing Body shall have the control of the College Buildings and Grounds, and the management of the College Estates, and shall administer the revenues of the College in accordance with the provisions of these Statutes. No material alteration in or addition to the College Buildings or Grounds shall be made without the approval of the majority of the Governing Body.

6. There shall be held every year on a day in the Easter Term a General Meeting of the Governing Body to be called the Annual Meeting. The day and hour of this Meeting shall be fixed at a College Meeting. One month's notice of the Annual Meeting shall be sent by the Master to all the Fellows.

CHAPTER III.

Of the Master.

1. The Master shall be a Master of Arts or of some equal or superior degree in the University of Cambridge or of any other University.

2. The Master shall reside in College during two-thirds of each Term, and altogether during two hundred and ten days in each year, unless prevented by illness, or other grave cause to be approved by a College Meeting.

3. The Master shall constitute one of the Fellows his deputy during his illness or absence, in writing under his hand and official seal.

If the Master be unable through illness to discharge his duties, and have not appointed a deputy, the senior Fellow in residence shall act as his deputy.

During a vacancy in the Mastership the senior Fellow in residence shall discharge the duties of Master.

4. The Master shall see that the Statutes of the College and the decisions of the Governing Body are duly carried out; and he shall have the power in all cases not provided for by these Statutes or by order of the Governing Body, to make such provisions for the good government of the College as he shall think fit.

5. If, in the opinion of at least two-thirds of the Fellows, the Master has from any cause become incompetent for the discharge of his duties, the case shall be laid before the Vice-Chancellor and the Regius Professor of Divinity and the Regius Professor of Civil Law in the University of Cambridge; and if the said Vice-Chancellor and the said two Professors, or if any two of them, after due investigation, be of the same opinion as the Fellows, or not less than two-thirds of their number, as to the alleged incompetency, they shall have power to sanction the election by the Fellows of one of their number to be Vice-Master during such incompetency. The Master shall have the right of appealing from time to time to the Vice-Chancellor and the aforesaid Professors for reinstatement in his office. The Vice-Master so appointed shall take upon him all the functions of the Master and be invested with like authority in the College. He shall, in addition to the emoluments of his Fellowship, receive a stipend at the rate of one hundred pounds (£100) a year out of the Master's stipend.

6. If the Master shall have been convicted by a court of competent jurisdiction of any crime, the Vice-Chancellor and the Regius Professor of Divinity and the Regius Professor of Civil Law in the University of Cambridge may, if they think fit, proceed to inquire into the fact of such conviction, and if it be established may deprive the Master of his office.

If any five or more of the Fellows shall prefer to the Vice-Chancellor and the aforesaid Professors a charge against the Master of disgraceful conduct, or of malversation in his office, or of gross neglect of duty, whereby he has in their judgment become unfit to preside over the College, the Vice-Chancellor and the aforesaid Professors shall with all convenient speed proceed to inquire into the facts of the case, and if they agree that the charge is proved, or if any two of them agree thereto, may deprive the Master of his office.

7. On the occurrence of a vacancy in the Mastership of the College the senior Fellow in
