

Judge of the Court of Appeal in Southern Ireland, and any Judge whose attendance is so requested, shall attend accordingly and while attending shall be deemed to be an additional Judge of that Court of Appeal.

(3) The Court of Appeal in Southern Ireland may sit in two Divisions.

3.—(1) His Majesty's High Court of Justice in Southern Ireland shall be constituted as follows:—The Judges thereof shall be The Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, who shall be President thereof, The Master of the Rolls, and the existing Judges of the High Court of Justice in Ireland.

(2) The Judicial Commissioner of the Land Commission shall by virtue of his office be an additional Judge of the High Court of Justice in Southern Ireland for the purpose of his powers and duties in relation to land purchase and the existing Judicial Commissioner shall also be an additional Judge of the Supreme Court of Judicature in Southern Ireland with the rights and subject to the duties referred to in Section 41 of the Land Law (Ireland) Act, 1881.

4. There shall be in His Majesty's High Court of Justice in Southern Ireland instead of the five Divisions mentioned in Section 34 of the Supreme Court of Judicature (Ireland) Act, 1877, two Divisions consisting of the Judges following, that is to say:—

(a) One Division, to be named the Chancery Division, shall consist of the Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, who shall be President thereof, the Master of the Rolls, and one other Judge, and after the next vacancy in the office of the Master of the Rolls, two Judges.

(b) One other Division, to be named the King's Bench Division, shall consist of the Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, who shall be President thereof, and four Judges.

The existing Judicial Commissioner of the Land Commission may act as an additional Judge in either Division.

5.—(1) References in any enactment to the Lord Chancellor of Ireland, to the Supreme Court of Judicature in Ireland, and to any Division, Court, Judge, Officer or Office of that Supreme Court shall, from and after the establishment of the Supreme Court of Judicature of Southern Ireland in the manner provided by Section 38 of the Act be construed respectively as references to the Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, to the Supreme Court of Judicature of Southern Ireland, and to the Division, Court, Judge, Officer or Office thereof exercising corresponding jurisdiction or powers in Southern Ireland.

Provided that in Section 4 of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, and in the Schedule to the War Pensions (Administrative Provisions) Act, 1919, references to the Lord Chancellor of Ireland shall be construed as references to the Lord Lieutenant acting after consultation with the Lord Chief Justice of Ireland and the Lord Chief Justice of Northern Ireland.

(2) References in any enactment to the Lord Chancellor of Ireland intrusted for the time being by virtue of the Royal Sign Manual with special jurisdiction in lunacy shall, from and after such establishment, be construed as references to the Lord Chief Justice of Ireland for the time being intrusted in the like manner with the like jurisdiction in lunacy in Southern Ireland; and references in any enactment to the Lunacy Office, the Registrar in Lunacy and other officers of, or attached to, that office shall, from and after such establishment, be construed respectively as references to the Lunacy Office in Southern Ireland, to the Registrar in Lunacy in Southern Ireland, and to the officers of, or attached to, that office.

(3) References in any enactment to the Attorney-General for Ireland shall from and after such establishment be construed as references to the Attorney-General for Southern Ireland or such other Officer as may be designated by the Lord Lieutenant.

(4) Where a provision or expression occurring in any of the said enactments has been amended, altered, or adapted by or in pursuance of any of the subsequent enactments, this Order shall be read as referring to the provision or expression as so amended, altered or adapted.

6. The following provisions and adaptations shall after the establishment of the Supreme Court of Judicature of Southern Ireland have effect in relation thereto:—

(1) Every Writ of Summons and every other Writ in Southern Ireland shall be tested in the name of the Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, and if the Office of Lord Chief Justice of Southern Ireland shall be vacant, in the name of the Senior Lord Justice of His Majesty's Court of Appeal in Southern Ireland for the time being.

(2) The forms contained in the Appendices to the Rules of the Supreme Court of Judicature in Ireland, dated the 22nd day of February, 1905, shall be used in the cases to which they are applicable with such modifications as may be necessary by reason of the provisions of the Act and of this Order.

(3) The Supreme Court of Judicature (Ireland) Act, 1877, shall be read with the following adaptations and modifications:—

(a) In Section 33 the words directing the Judge to have regard to the comparative cost and convenience of proceedings in Ireland shall be read distributively with reference to Southern and Northern Ireland respectively;

(b) Section 43 shall be construed as applying to all the Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature in Southern Ireland;

(c) Section 56 shall be read as if the following words were substituted for the first sentence therein:—

Every appeal to the Court of Appeal in Southern Ireland may whether the subject matter of the appeal is a final or an interlocutory order, decree or judgment be heard before not less than two Judges of the said Court sitting together;

(d) The provisions in Section 73 as to the appointment of Junior Clerks shall not apply until Regulations shall have been made by the Lord Chief Justice of Ireland for the qualification of candidates and the subjects of examination, and the Lord Chief Justice of Ireland may with the concurrence of the Treasury make such appointments to all such offices as in the meantime may be deemed necessary;

(e) Any statutable power existing under or by virtue of any Act to enable any Judge of the Supreme Court of Judicature in Ireland to appoint to any office or to employ any person in duties appertaining to any office in the Supreme Court of Judicature in Southern Ireland shall cease and the right of appointing to all such offices and dismissal
