APPENDIX.

INDUSTRY.

The Banking Industry shall consist of the undertakings of all persons or bodies of persons, whether corporate or unincorporate, and whether established within or without England or Wales, engaged in England or Wales in carrying on as their principal business a banking, financial, or other similar business, provided that a substantial part of such business consists of the receipt of money on current account to be drawn upon by cheques.

The Scheme shall not apply to any persons who come within any of the following classes:—

(a) Persons who are ordinarily engaged whether under a single employer or under two or more employers, partly in the Banking Industry and partly outside that Industry, in some occupation employment in which makes them employed persons within the meaning of the Act as amended by any subsequent enactment, if such persons are ordinarily and mainly dependent for their livelihood on their earnings in the occupation outside the Banking Industry.

(b) Persons employed by or under the Crown or under any local or other public authority.
