

authorised or required to be done under that Act by the Police Magistrate and Secretary of State, or either of them, in relation to the surrender of a fugitive criminal, may be done by the Governor of the British Possession alone:

And whereas by that Imperial Act it is also enacted that if, by any law made before or after the passing of the said Act by the Legislature of any British Possession, provision is made for carrying into effect within that Possession the surrender of fugitive criminals who are in or suspected of being in that Possession, The King may, by Order in Council, direct that such law or any part thereof shall have effect in that Possession, with or without modifications and alterations, as if it were part of the Imperial Act:

And whereas by other Imperial Acts known as the Extradition Act, 1873, the Extradition Act, 1895, and the Extradition Act, 1906, it is enacted that those Acts shall be construed as one with the Extradition Act, 1870, and that the four Acts may be cited together as the Extradition Acts, 1870 to 1906:

Be it therefore enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislature of the Colony of Southern Rhodesia, as follows:—

1. This Act may be cited as the "Extradition Act, 1924."

2. This Act shall not come into operation until His Majesty shall by Order in Council direct that this Act shall have effect within this Colony as if it were part of the Extradition Act, 1870, but this Act shall thereafter come into operation as soon as such Order in Council shall have been duly published in the Government Gazette of this Colony.

3. In this Act, unless the contrary intention appears, terms defined in the Extradition Acts, 1870 to 1906, have the same meaning as in those Acts.

4. All powers vested in and acts authorised or required to be done by a Secretary of State, under the Extradition Acts, 1870 to 1906, in relation to the surrender of a fugitive criminal, are hereby vested in and may in the Colony be exercised and done by the Governor.

5. All powers vested in and acts authorised or required to be done by a Police Magistrate or any Justice of the Peace under the Extradition Acts, 1870 to 1906, in relation to the surrender of fugitive criminals, are hereby vested in and may in the Colony be exercised and done by any Magistrate or Acting Magistrate.

6. Where the Extradition Act, 1870, applies in the case of any foreign State, a requisition for the surrender of a person accused or convicted of an extradition crime in the Colony who is or is suspected to be in that foreign State may be made by the Attorney General to a consular office of that State in the Colony, or to any Minister of that State through the diplomatic representative of His Majesty in that State, or in such other mode as is settled by arrangement.

7. Any person accused or convicted of an extradition crime who is surrendered by a foreign State, may, under the warrant for his surrender issued in the foreign State, be brought into the Colony and delivered to the proper authorities, to be dealt with according to law.

8. The "Fugitive Criminals Surrender Ordinance, 1905," as amended, is hereby repealed.

[NOTE:—This Order will be published in the Southern Rhodesia Gazette on the 2nd January, 1925.]
