

"(2) The property and all personal or proprietary rights and liabilities in Siam of British subjects, whether such subjects are within the said limits or not.

"(3) Siamese subjects and foreigners in the cases and according to the conditions specified in this Order, and not otherwise.

"(4) Foreigners, with respect to whom any State, King, Chief or Government, whose subjects or under whose protection they are, has by any Treaty as herein defined or otherwise agreed with His Majesty for, or consents to, the exercise of power or authority by His Majesty.

"(5) British ships with their boats, and the persons and property on board thereof, or belonging thereto, being within the Siamese dominions."

"Article 5.—All His Majesty's jurisdiction exercisable in Siam for the hearing and determination of civil matters or civil or criminal cases, or for the maintenance of order, or for the control or administration of persons or property or in relation thereto, shall be exercised under and according to the provisions of this Order and not otherwise."

"Article 9.—Subject to the provisions of this Order, criminal and civil cases may be tried by the Court itself, or by the Court with a jury or with assessors."

"Article 11.—Where a case is transferred to the Court from a Siamese Court, the Court shall give such directions as seem proper for its determination, having regard to the proceedings (if any) in the Siamese Court. In determining such case, the Court shall apply English law and practice for the time being, except that, as to all matters coming within the scope of codes or laws of the Kingdom of Siam regularly promulgated and in force, the texts of which have been communicated to His Majesty's Legation, such Siamese codes or laws shall be applied."

"Article 32.—(i) Where any case in which a Siamese or foreigner is plaintiff or complainant is transferred to the Court from any Siamese Court, the Court shall hear and determine the case in all respects according to the ordinary course of the Court."

3. Every male resident British subject of the age of 21 years or upwards, having a competent knowledge of the English language, and having or earning a gross income of such amount as may be determined by Rules of Court, and not having been attainted of treason or felony, or convicted of any crime that is infamous (unless he has obtained a free pardon), or being under outlawry, shall be qualified to serve on a jury.

4. The Schedule hereto is hereby substituted for the Schedule to the Principal Order.

5. Where a British subject is accused of the commission of an offence the cognizance whereof appertains to the Court, and it is expedient that the offence be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished in a British possession, the accused may (under the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1890, Section 6) be sent for trial to the Straits Settlements.

The Court may, where it appears so expedient, by warrant under the seal of the Court, cause the accused to be sent for trial to the Straits Settlements accordingly.

The warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and to carry him to and deliver him up to the Straits Settlements.

Where any person is to be so sent to the Straits Settlements, the Court before which he is charged shall take the preliminary examination, and shall bind over such of the proper witnesses as are British subjects in their own recognizances to appear and give evidence on the trial.

6.—(1) Where an offender is sentenced to imprisonment, and the Court thinks it expedient that the sentence be carried into effect within His Majesty's dominions, and the offender is accordingly under Section 7 of the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1890, sent for imprisonment to a place in His Majesty's dominions, the place shall be either Singapore, Rangoon or Calcutta, or a place in some other part of His Majesty's dominions out of the United Kingdom, the Government whereof consents that offenders may be sent thither under this Article.

(2) The Court may, by warrant under the seal of the Court, cause the offender to be sent to Singapore, Rangoon or Calcutta, or such other place as aforesaid, in order that the sentence may be there carried into effect accordingly.

(3) The warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named and to carry him to and deliver him up at the place named, according to the warrant.

7. Where any person is sentenced by the Court to suffer the punishment of death, the Court shall forthwith send a report of the sentence, with a copy of the Minutes of Proceedings and notes of evidence in the case, and with any observations it thinks fit, to the Minister.

The sentence shall not be carried into execution without the direction of the Minister in writing under his hand.

If the Minister does not direct that the sentence of death be carried into execution, he shall direct what punishment in lieu of the punishment of death is to be inflicted on the person convicted, and the person convicted shall be liable to be so punished accordingly.

8.—(1) The Court may report to the Secretary of State or to the Minister, as the case may be, recommending a mitigation or remission of any punishment awarded by the Court, and thereupon the punishment may be mitigated or remitted by the Secretary of State or Minister.

(2) Nothing in this Order shall affect His Majesty's prerogative of pardon.

9. Nothing in this Order shall deprive the Court of the power of hearing and determining any matter which may be pending before it at the date of this Order.

10. Where any civil matter or case is, in accordance with the provisions of this Order, pending before the Court and it is expedient that such civil matter or case be inquired of, tried and determined in a British possession, the Court may (under the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1890, Section 9) direct that such civil matter or case be inquired of, tried and determined in the Straits Settlements.

Any judgment, decree or order made by the Courts of the Straits Settlements shall be en-