COUNTY OF SALOP.

CORONERS (AMENDMENT) ACT, 1926. CORONERS' DISTRICTS.

Whereas it is provided by Section 12 of the Coroners (Amendment) Act, 1926, that a county council may submit, after complying with such requirements as to notice and consideration of objections as may be prescribed, to the Secretary of State a draft order providing for the division of the county into such coroners' districts as they think expedient, or for such alteration of any existing division of the county into coroners' districts as appears to them to be suitable and that the Secretary of State after taking into consideration any objections to the draft made in the prescribed manner and within the prescribed time, may make the Order either in the terms of the draft submitted to him or with such modifications as he thinks fit:

And whereas by an Order of Her late Majesty in Council dated the 30th day of June, 1845, the county of Salop was divided into coroners' districts:

And whereas by subsequent Orders in Council and divers other means various alterations of the division of the said county into coroners' districts were effected and it is now desirable that an Order should be made defining the coroners' districts of the said county and enumerating the parishes comprised therein:

And whereas the parishes of Bangor, Bettisfield, Bronington, Haighton, Hanmer, Iscoyd, Overton, Penley, Tybroughton, Willington and Worthenbury in the Hundred of Maelor which is a detached part of the county of Flint partly surrounded by the counties of Cheshire, Denbigh and Salop, having the largest common boundary with the said county of Salop, is deemed by virtue of section 40 of the Coroners Act, 1887, to be within the said county of Salop for the purposes of holding coroners' inquests:

And whereas the county council of the said county of Salop have, pursuant to section 12 of the first recited Act, submitted to the Secretary of State a draft Order with regard to the coroners' districts of the said county of Salop including the aforementioned parishes in the Hundred of Maelor:

And whereas the requirements of the Coroners (Orders as to Districts) Rules, 1927,
