

Whitehall, 10th May, 1938.

The KING has been graciously pleased to Ordain and Declare that Daisy, wife of Robert Lockhart Hobson, Esquire, Companion of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Ivy, wife of Herbert Guy Sturges Mitchison, Gentleman, and Lily, wife of Reginald Marsh Everett, Esquire, sometime Flight-Lieutenant in the Royal Navy, daughters of the late Albert Denison Somerville Denison, Esquire, (Commonly called the Honourable Albert Denison Somerville Denison), Rear-Admiral in the Royal Navy, shall henceforth have hold and enjoy the same title, rank, place, pre-eminence, and precedence as the daughters of a Baron, as would have been due to them had their father the said Albert Denison Somerville Denison survived his great-nephew Hugo William Cecil, Earl of Londesborough and Baron Londesborough, and thereby succeeded to the title and dignity of Baron Londesborough.

And to command that the said Royal Order and Declaration be recorded in His Majesty's College of Arms.

The Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury hereby give notice that, at a Trial of the Pyx begun at Goldsmiths' Hall, in the City of London, on the 3rd day of March and concluded on the 4th day of May, 1938, the following Verdict of the Pyx Jury was delivered to the King's Remembrancer, viz.:—

TRIAL OF THE PYX OF THE LONDON MINT.

VERDICT.

We, whose names are hereunder written, having been sworn on the third day of March one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight, before the King's Remembrancer, at Goldsmiths' Hall in the City of London, have made the assays and trials of His Majesty's silver coins in the Pyx of the Royal Mint in London, which, according to accounts produced by the Officers of the Mint, were coined in the said Mint from the 1st day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven to the 31st day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, both days inclusive. We found that there were no gold coins in the said Pyx. We ascertained the number of coins in each packet produced to us, and that such number corresponded with the number which the Officers of the Mint represented it to contain, and we took one coin from each of such packets of silver coins, with four additional coins from one of such packets, making altogether eleven crowns, fifty-one half-crowns, fifty-six florins, forty-five shillings, fifty-nine sixpences, one fourpence, thirty threepences, two twopences and one penny. We then weighed each one pound troy weight (at its standard weight) of the coins so taken out and ascertained that the said coins so bulked were within the remedy as to weight prescribed by the Coinage Acts 1870 to 1920. We then took for assay one pound troy (at its standard weight) of the coins so weighed comprising two crowns, nine half-crowns, ten florins, seven shillings, nine sixpences, one fourpence, five threepences, two
