Rupert B. Howorth.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 24th day of July, 1941.

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of the Union of Benefices Measures, 1923 to 1936, duly prepared and laid before His Majesty in Council a scheme bearing date the 12th day of June, 1941, in the words and figures following, that is to say:—

" We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, acting in pursuance of the Union of Benefices Measures, 1923 to 1936, now humbly lay before Your Majesty in Council the following Scheme which we have prepared with the consent of the Right Reverend Nugent, Bishop of Lincoln (in witness whereof he has signed the Scheme) for effecting the union of the Benefice of West Allington with East Allington and the Benefice of Sedgebrook both situate in the County and Diocese of Lincoln:

" Scheme.

" 1. Union of Benefices.

The said Benefice of West Allington with East Allington and the said Benefice of Sedgebrook shall be permanently united together and form one Benefice with cure of souls under the style of 'The United Benefice of West Allington with East Allington and Sedgebrook,' but the Parishes of the said Benefices shall continue in all respects distinct.

" 2. Taking effect of union.

" (1) If upon the day when any Order in Council affirming this Scheme is gazetted both benefices are vacant, the union shall take effect forthwith;

" (2) If upon the said day the benefice of West Allington with East Allington only is vacant, the union shall take effect upon the avoidance of the benefice of Sedgebrook;

" (3) If upon the said day the benefice of Sedgebrook only is vacant, the union shall take effect—

" (a) if the incumbent of the benefice of West Allington with East Allington shall, with the approval of the Bishop, consent, forthwith;

" (b) but if he shall not so consent, upon the next avoidance of the benefice of West Allington with East Allington.

" (4) If upon the said day neither benefice is vacant,

" (a) if the incumbent of the benefice of West Allington with East Allington has been instituted after that date, or if instituted before that date shall, with the approval of the Bishop, consent, then the union shall take effect upon the avoidance of the benefice of Sedebrook;

" (b) but if such last mentioned incumbent shall not so consent then the union shall take effect upon the avoidance by him of the benefice of West Allington with East Allington.

" 3. Parsonage House.

Upon the union taking effect the Parsonage House at present belonging to the Benefice of Sedebrook shall pending the provision of a more suitable house, become and be the house of residence of the Incumbent of the United Benefice.

" 4. Diversion of endowments.

Upon the union taking effect a part of the endowments of the two Benefices, that is to say a part, producing £124 per annum of the sum of £5689 18s. 1d. £3 per cent. Local Loans stock (or of any varied investment then representing the same stock) held by the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty for the Benefice of Sedebrook shall be severed and diverted from that Benefice and from the United Benefice and shall be appropriated and held by the said Governors for the augmentation of the Benefice of Saint Giles, Lincoln."

And whereas the provisions of the Union of Benefices Measures, 1923 to 1936, and the Union of Benefices Rules, 1926 to 1930, relating to the preparation and submission of this scheme have been duly complied with:

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by His Majesty in Council:

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by and with the advice of His said Council, is pleased hereby to affirm the said scheme and to order that it shall be and become effectual in law immediately upon the publication of this Order in the London Gazette.

Air Ministry,

25th July, 1941.

ROYAL AIR FORCE.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve the following awards in recognition of gallantry displayed in flying operations against the enemy:—

Bar to Distinguished Service Order.

Squadron Leader James Briarr TAIT, D.S.O., D.F.C. (33291), No. 35 Squadron.

In June, 1941, this officer was the captain of the leading aircraft of a formation of three aircraft which carried out an attack on Kiel in clear daylight. Despite accurate anti-aircraft fire, bombs were dropped and observed to burst on the objective. The success which attended this operation was largely due to the magnificent leadership and courage together with the brilliant airmanship displayed by this officer.

Distinguished Service Order.

Flying Officer David Leatham PRICHARD (36203), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 75 (New Zealand) Squadron.

One night in June, 1941, this officer carried out an attack against Cologne. While some distance from his target and when on the edge of a dense belt of searchlights through which he had just flown, Flying Officer Prichard's aircraft was attacked by an enemy fighter which opened fire from very close range. A cannon shell damaged his engine—almost severing one of the airscrew blades—while the rear gun turret was completely put out of action. Although forced to fly at reduced speed with subsequent loss of height and all powers of defence gone, Flying Officer Prichard continued his mission, overcoming almost insuperable difficulties before finally dropping his bombs in the target area. Despite a harassing return journey, he skilfully flew back to base where he successfully crash-landed his aircraft without injury to his crew. On a previous occasion, Flying Officer Prichard displayed great flying skill which enabled his crew to shoot down an enemy fighter which attacked his aircraft when returning from a successful attack on Brest. Throughout the numerous operational flights in which he has participated, this officer has displayed high courage, skill and devotion to duty.

Distinguished Flying Cross.

Acting Flying Officer Robert Fenwick OWEN (88466), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 35 Squadron.

631203 Sergeant Douglas Peter HOGG, No. 35 Squadron.

In June, 1941, Flying Officer Owen and Sergeant Hogg were the captain and wireless operator/air gunner respectively of an aircraft which participated in a daylight attack on Kiel. After successfully bombing his objective, Flying Officer Owen's aircraft was attacked by four enemy fighters whilst attempting to regain formation with his leader. The aircraft was repeatedly hit—the starboard engine and the wireless were put out of action and the beam gunner killed. Sergeant Hogg coolly returning fire was instrumental in keeping the fighters at long range which enabled his captain to manoeuvre his aircraft and reach cloud cover. Sergeant Hogg thereupon skilfully repaired the wireless set reconnecting twenty-five leads with spare wire. Although one engine had ceased to function Flying Officer Owen flew safely back to base. Throughout, this officer displayed exceptional skill and courage and was ably assisted by the coolness and ability of Sergeant Hogg.

Pilot Officer Eric Harold BAGNALD (85020), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 10 Squadron.

One night in June, 1941, this officer was the navigator of an aircraft which carried out an attack on Bremen. Despite heavy anti-aircraft fire and searchlight activity in the target area, Pilot Officer Bagnald, although the cockpit in which he was operating was penetrated by shell splinters, executed his duties as bomb aimer for some 25 minutes in the most difficult circumstances. On the return journey, Pilot Officer Bagnald was wounded in the left arm and although in great pain, he continued his navigational duties under severe difficulties and ensured the safe return of his aircraft. Throughout the operation this officer showed great courage and devotion to duty.

Pilot Officer John Patrick GEOGHEGAN (62263), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 77 Squadron.

One night in June, 1941, this officer was the observer of an aircraft which carried out an attack on Dusseldorf. During the attack the aircraft was hit and a piece of shrapnel, which entered the perapex of the front turret, struck Pilot Officer Geoghegan on the left arm leaving a jagged open wound. Nevertheless, although in great pain and suffering from shock, Pilot Officer Geoghegan insisted on executing his duties as bomb aimer and, when a tourniquet had been applied, he returned to his post and finally released his bombs over the target. He subsequently navigated the aircraft safely to base. Pilot Officer Geoghegan has previously participated in attacks against Dusseldorf, Brest and Schwerti and has at all times been a keen and courageous navigator.

R.74313 Sergeant George Eric MITCHELL, No. 7 Squadron.

One night in June, 1941, this airman was the rear gunner of an aircraft which was detailed to attack Hamburg. On the return journey, an attack was made by a Messerschmitt 110. Despite an intense concentration of cannon and machine-gun fire from the attacker, Sergeant Mitchell withheld his fire until the enemy came within close range. He then fired a burst of 600 rounds at the aircraft which broke away with its port engine aglow. It was subsequently confirmed that this aircraft was destroyed. Sergeant Mitchell displayed great courage and determination and set an excellent example.

968133 Sergeant Alistair William STEVEN, No. 35 Squadron.

In June, 1941, this airman was the observer of an aircraft which participated in a daylight attack on Kiel, when he displayed exceptional ability and great devotion to duty.

A.3275 Leading Aircraftman Milton GRIFFIN, Royal Australian Air Force, No. 10 Squadron, R.A.A.F.

In June, 1941, this airman was the first fitter of a Sunderland aircraft which, in the course of an operation, was attacked by an enemy Focke-Wolfe aircraft. After the engagement, it was found that the Sunderland was losing large quantities of oil. Leading Aircraftman Griffin crawled into the wing and discovered two large holes in the bottom of the oil tank. Returning to the hull he obtained tools, plugs, and a two-gallon drum of oil which he took into the wing and, after plugging the holes and piercing the top of the oil tank, he poured in the oil by means of a small tin and in this way succeeded in maintaining a continuous supply of oil. Leading Aircraftman Griffin made four journeys into the wing and in all spent two hours nursing the engine in intense heat and in a very cramped position. He displayed great devotion to duty and materially contributed to the safe return of his aircraft.
