From the Imperial Camp between Vrago and Ponte Oglio, August 24. N. S.

THE 19th Instant, General Palfi sent an Account, that the Enemy were marched towards Comissano. The 20th, our Foot which were left behind in the Camp near Ronato, We had Advice, that the Enemy were drawn up their Forces together, with design to attack us; and that they had plundered a Village in the Cremonese, and hanged several Peasants, because they assisted our Parties. A Party sent out by General Palfi returned to his Camp, having defeated 2 French Parties, killed 40, and taken a Captain, a Lieutenant, 14 Troopers, and 4 Foot-Soldiers Prisoners, without the loss of one Man on our side; And 'tis remarkable, that in all the Rencontres our Parties have had with the Enemy, our loss has been so inconsiderable, as not to be worth mentioning, having never lost above 2 or 3 Men at a time, and very often none; and all the Prisoners the Enemy have taken from us during this whole Campagne, are 2 Troopers of the Regiment of Cuirassiers of Visconti, who staying behind to have their Horses shod, were surprized by the Enemy. Upon Advice, that the Enemy receive their Provisions from Cremona, the Marquis de Vendome was sent out with a strong Party to endeavour to surprize their Convoys. The 22d, Prince Longueval, with 2 Battalions of his Regiment, arrived in our Camp. We had Advice, that the Enemy are encamped at Fontanella, and that Marshal Villeroi was arrived at Cremona from France with 4 other General Officers. Count Palfi sent an Account, that the Country People between the Oglio and the Adla having desired his Assistance against the Enemy who plunder them, he had sent out Count Roccarione Colonel of Dragoons with a Detachment of 200 Horse to protect them. The 23d, by break of day, Prince Eugene went out to view the Ground on the other side the Oglio. We had an Account, that the Enemy had received the day before a Reinforcement of 20 Battalions, and 6 Regiments of Horse and Dragoons. The 24th, Major-General Vaubonne sent in Montieur de Narbonne a French Brigadier-General, a Lieutenant-Colonel, a Captain of Grenadiers, 2 Lieutenants of Foot, and 3 or Horse, 2 Ensigns, and about 15 Servants; as also some Common Soldiers, whom he met in the Road of Cremona on the other side the Oglio below Soncino, and took them Prisoners, having cut their Convey in pieces; He took also between 30 and 40 Horses, together with some Mules, and much Baggage, Arms, and other things, and 4 Wagons laden with Wine; He sent an Account, that he had repulsed the Oglio, not only for his Security, but also to rest the Men under his Command, and particularly the Horse, who had marched near 28 hours; But that he would go out again as soon as he should receive any Account of the Enemy, and find an opportunity of gaining any Advantage over them. Divers Deserters came over to us this day, who report, that the Enemy expect several General Officers from France, viz. Monsieur de Villars, Sr. Silvester de Grequi, Bamberger, and Mongon, with further Reinforcements. Besides the Prisoners abovementioned, our Parties have at several times within these 5 days killed near 150 of the Enemy, and have taken a French Commissary, a Lieutenant of Horse, and about 60 other Prisoners.

Venice, August 26. Great Complaints come from the Countries of Cremona and Bergamo, belonging to this Republick, of the Disorders that are committed by the French Soldiers. They treat the Subjects of Milan and Mantua in the same manner, which has so exasperated them, that several Towns in the Duchy of Mantua have put themselves under the Emperor's Protection; and the Imperialists, wherever they come, find the Country People ready to give them all the Assistance they can, by serving as Guides to their Parties, and informing them of the Motions of the French, and what Parties they send abroad. A German Party took lately a Brigadier-General, and several other French Officers coming from Mantua, who 'tis said offer 4000 Ducats for their Ransom. They were taken in a Troop, that the Imperial Regiment of Foot of August arrived there the 23d Instant, in their march to join the Imperial Army, the Regiment of Smit was expected the 25th, and two other Regiments followed, the one of Foot, and the other of Dragoons; These 3 Regiments of Foot are of 2500 Men each, and the Regiment of Dragoons of 1000.

From the Imperial Camp at Chiari, Sept. 4. Marshal Villeroi being arrived in the French Camp, and the Succours composed of their best Regiments having joined them, their whole Army passed the Oglio the 29th of August; Prince Eugene might in some measure have opposed their Passage, but that River being fordable in many Places, and his Highness being advantageously posted, he did not think fit to make any other Motion, than to alter his Camp so as to place his Front towards the Enemy, and to extend his Left Wing towards Chiari, a great Village in the Brescian. By the Enemy's Motions it appeared, they intended either to cut off two Regiments which were coming to us from Germany, and were advanced within 3 days March of our Camp, or to attack us before these two Regiments could join us; But Prince Eugene having dispatched several Couriers to the Commanders of the said Regiments, with Orders to march more to the Right along the Hills, which would secure them; The Enemy seeing this Design prevented, resolved upon the other, which was, to attack us before we had received these Succours; Accordingly on the first Instant, about 3 in the afternoon, 3 Brigades of their Army, consisting of 15 Battalions, viz. 3 of Normandy, 2 Royal Anjou, 2 Royal Burgundy, 2 of Savoy, 2 Royal Conty; 1 Vaisseaux, 1 Irish, and 2 of Savoy, attacked our Intrenchments with great Boldness and Bravery, but the Germans received them so warmly with their small Arms, and Cannon laden with Cartridge Shot, that as many as advanced were killed or wounded; They stormed our Intrenchments three several times, and were as often repulsed; The whole Action lasted about two hours, and the French retired with a very great Loss. According to the Computation made of the dead Bodies, and of the Prisoners wounded, and the Report of the Prisoners and Deserters since, the Enemy's Loss amounts to above 3000 Men, among which are a Brigadier-General, 5 Colonels, and above 250 other Officers; the Regiment of Normandy alone had 300 Men killed upon the spot, and we took from them 4 Colours. Prince Eugene did not think fit to pursue them in their Retreat, and would not suffer the Horse to go out of our Retrenchments, because the Ground was not fit for them to engage in, being full of Ditches and Hedges, this we understood since, that the Disorder and Confusion was very great in the Enemy's Camp, which was not over till the next day, so that we might have had a further Advantage over them; but our Generals considering the Situation of the Country, and that night was coming on, were unwilling to run any hazard. The Prisoners say, they attacked us in two Places; first, they did not believe we were so advantageously posted, and secondly; that our Infantry was so good; the truth is, they did Wonders. Our whole Loss amounts to no more than 36 killed, and 81 wounded, all private Soldiers, except 1 Lieutenant killed, and 2 wounded. The Duke of Savoy and his Horse wounded, and received a Musket-shot in the Sleeve of his Coat. We are informed, that he was not a little concerned at their ill Success in this Action, and threatened to attack us yesterday with their whole Army in 3 different Places; Accordingly we expected the Enemy, and had made Provision for their Reception, but they did not appear, and the day passed very quietly.

Vienna, August 31. Orders are sent to the Regiments of Foot of Salm, Solary, and Thunheim, which are quartered in Hungary, to march forthwith to Italy, to reinforce the Imperial Army; and 'tis said, the Emperor will take into his Service 6000 Men of the Elector of Bavaria's Troops, which will be sent to Hungary.

Bamberg, September 7. Deputies from the Neighbouring Circle are met at Heilbronn, to consider of providing for their Common Defence, and 'tis said, that among other things, it has been proposed to make several Lines, particularly one from Philipburgh to the Fort of Keil, which would cover the Countries of Baden, Wurtemberg, and Swabia. The 4000 Men which the Elector of Wurtemberg put into the Emperor's Service, have begun to march towards Bamberg.

Hamburg, September 6. The Queen Dowager of Denmark is returned from Cassel, and arrived the third Instant with the Landgrave of Hesse-Cassel at Altona, where they intend to continue some days. The Danish Forces which are to enter into the Service of the States General, are to be reviewed the 15th Instant at Itzehoe; after which they will be put under the Care of the Dutch Commissioners sent thither for that purpose, and the Foot will embark at Gelackstad and Westphalia for Holland, the Horse are to march thither through the Country of Lunenburg. Letters from Courland say, the Ambassadors sent to the King of Sweden by the Republick of Poland are returned home; that the Town of Libou has submitted to him, and that he has ordered the Magistrates to deliver into the hands of his Commissioners all the Artillery and Ammunition which the Saxons left in that Place. He has made the like Demand of the Magistrates of Memel. Letters from Dantzick of the 3d say, the Saxon Forces which are marching home from Courland, were come into the Neighbourhood of that City, which giving some small Jealousie to the Magistrates, they had doubled their Guards, and had sent to the Saxon Commander to desire he would retire from thence.

Liege, Septemb. 9. Marshal Boufflers came the 7th Instant to the French Camp near Argenteau, and viewed the Bridge there; from thence he went to Limburgh, and this day returned to the Camp at Argenteau, and intends in a day or two to return to Brabant. Our Chapter take all the Precautions they can for the Security of this City.

Maastricht, September 11. The French have built a Bridge over the Maese at Argenteau, between Liege and Vlier, near which last Place they have 12 Battalions of Foot, and 8 Regiments of Horse, and tis said, more Troops are to join them, but on what Design is not known.

Brussels, Septemb. 13. On the 5th Instant, Marshal Boufflers and Marquis de Bedmar took a Review of the Spanish Forces encamped near this Place, consisting of 6 Regiments of Horse, and 13 of Foot, making together about 10500 Men. Since which these Troops are decamped, and are returning to their Quarters.

Loo, Sept. 13. The Earl of Marlborough having been to review the English Forces in their respective Garrisons, arrived here the 8th Instant, and has given to His Majesty an Account, that he found them all in very good Condition; Orders are given for their encamping near Breda, where His Majesty intends to review them about a fortnight hence. The 11th, in the evening, the Prince of Lorrain Bishop of Osnabrug came to Appeldoorn, a small Village near this Place, with the Earl of Carlisle, and other Persons of Quality; Whereupon His Majesty sent to compliment him, and yesterday morning his Highness came to wait on His Majesty, who received him very kindly; He hunts this day with the King, and will attend His Majesty in the evening to Dieren, intending to continue here several days. The Duke of Cell is expected here in 8 or 10 days with the Electoral Prince of Hanover. Monsieur Geldermalsen, Envoy Extraordinary from the States-General, having served in that Station the usual term of 3 years, is recalled, and has had his Audience of Leave of His Majesty, and another will be named to succeed him. The Sieur Castellan, Resident from the Emperor at Cologne, came hither the 6th Instant, being sent by the Prince of Saxe Zeitz Bishop of Raab, to give His Majesty an Account of the Posture of Affairs in those Parts. The Earl of Marlborough returned yesterday to the Hague; as did likewise the Pensioner of Holland, who came here on the 11th Instant.

Hague, September 14. An Express is come from Italy, with an Account, that the French had attacked the Imperial Camp at Chiari, and were repulsed with considerable Loss. 'Tis said, they had some advantage at the beginning, but soon lost it; Their Loss is computed at 4000 Men, 300 of them Officers, among whom is Monsieur Precontal; The Germans lost but 30 Men, and 80 wounded. Sir Robert Sutton, His Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary to the Grand Signior, arrived here the last week from England, and is gone to Loo to wait upon His Majesty, intending to proceed on his Journey by the way of Vienna. Count Goer, the Emperor's Envoy, and Baron Spanheim, Envoy from the King of Prussia, are likewise gone to Loo. Don Quiros, the Spanish Ambassador, will be going in few days to Brussels. The States-General have published a Placart, to forbid the Exportation of Coin out of these Provinces.

Paris, Sept. 14. N. S. The late King James having been ill for some time, died this morning at St. Germain. The Letters by the last Courier from Italy, which are of the 4th Instant, confirm the Repulse of the French in the Attack they made upon the German Camp at Chiari; and these Letters add the following Particulars; The Duke of Savoy, and the Marshals Villeroi and Catinat, being informed, that the Imperial Army was in Motion, either to retire towards the Mountains, or to pass the Oglio, and that they had only left 7 or 800 Men in Chiari; they marched thither with 8 Brigades to surprise that Town; but, contrary to their expectation, found the Left Wing of the German Army extended as far as the Walls of Chiari, which served to cover their Intrenchments, behind which was their whole Army in order of Battel. The Germans gave way a little at first to draw the French on farther, and the Brigade of Normandy and Navarre entering within the Enemy's Intrenchments, were most of them killed or taken, and the rest were exposed above 2 hours to the Fire of the Germans, and retired at last by favour of the Night. 'Tis said here, that the French have lost 2000 Men, and 200 Officers; But there is reason to believe their Loss is more considerable. Chiari is a Walled Town, tho' small, yet pretty strong, in which 'tis computed there are about 10000 Inhabitants. The Venetian Ambassador has excused to this Court the Governor's giving up that Place to Prince Eugene; declaring he did it without Orders, and that the Republick is resolved to observe an exact Neutrality.

His Majesty's Plate will be Run for at Newmarket on the Second Thursday in October next, being the 9th of the said Month.
