

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Monday, July 5. to Thursday, July 8. 1669.

Lyme, July 3.

THe 3 instant put in here the Merchants Adventure of this place from Morlaix, but is fraught for Southampton; the next day arrived the Lane of this place also from Morlaix, but with little other advice besides the continuance of the French preparations for the increase of their Fleet and Naval strength, with her came out from thence two ships of London, one of Bristol, and one from Exeter, all of them proceeding for their respective Ports.

Deal, July 4. Within these three days arrived about 14 Sail of Merchant ships in the Dowes homewards bound, and amongst them three from Smirna and Zant, and one ship of Zante bound for Amsterdam.

Naples, June 17. The Count de Vivonne with his Fleet of Gallies has appeared before this Port and received the Compliments of the Vice-roy, and after a little stay went off again to sea intending for Messina.

The Vice-roy having intelligence that several of the Corsairs of Barbary have been lately upon the Coast, plying about the seas to the great interruption of Commerce, and had taken two Tartars laden with Merchants Goods to a considerable value, within view of Sardinia, has ordered a Squadron of his Gallies to be fitted out to sea to secure the Merchants, and put a stop to these depredations.

A Bark arriving here yesterday in the morning from Ibvia informs us, that on Sunday morning last were discovered from thence a Fleet of about 40 sail making with a fair wind for the Levant, supposed to be part of the French succors designed for Candia.

From Sardinia we are told that the insurrection is there appeased, and the true Authors and Actors of the death of the Marquis Lucani discovered.

Madrid, June 19. According to the Agreement lately made with Don Juan of Austria, Her Majesty the Queen Regent has been pleased to order the necessary Dispatches to be issued out, investing him with the Title of Vice General of the Kingdom of Arragon, which she gave into the hands of Monseignor Borromeo, the Patriarch of Alexandria, the Popes Nuncio residing in this Court, who immediately sent them away by one of his Gentlemen to Don Juan, who received them with many expressions of his gratitude to the Queen, to whom he writ a Letter expressing the great sense he had of the Queens kindness, and his readiness to serve her on all occasions. He yesterday departed from Guadalaxara, intending to reside at Saragossa, and has received the Compliments of the State and Clergy by persons deputed for that purpose.

On Monday last their Majesties, with the Foreign Ministers, and great numbers of the Nobility, went to the great place of this City, to be Spectators of the Bull Sports, which have not been used before since the death of the late King; but this Recreation proved Tragical, by the death of 12 persons, whose courages could not guard them against the violence of these Wild Bulls.

Rome, June 22. On Monday last was held a Consistory in the Quirinal, wherein the Pope gave Audience to several of the Cardinals, who proposed several Vacant Bishopricks within the Countries under their protection; amongst others the Cardinal Orsino exhibited the Nomination to several of the Vacancies in Portugal.

The Count de Vivonne General of the French Gallies has been received, complemented, and treated at Civita Vecchia with all imaginable respect and kindness in the name of the Pope by Monseignor Castaldi the Commissary General of the Ecclesiastical Army, and great stores of fresh provisions were ordered to be sent aboard him and the rest of the Gallies under his Command, the Pope having received much satisfaction upon the account given him of the good Equipage not only of those Gallies, but also of the rest of the French Fleet; and dismiss them some dayes since with his Benediction to pursue their Voyage: the Count being also much pleased with the extraordinary Civilities which he received during his abode there, and all the Officers and soldiers with the pretens and supplies which were given them.

Here is lately arrived a Courier from Spain with Letters to the Marquis d' Astorga their Ambassador in this Court, who immediately upon the receipt of them, gave a Visite to Father Nithard lately Confessor to the Queen Regent, and 'tis supposed he may by this give him a dismissal from his Charge of Inquisitor General of Spain, and at the same time his Commission to appear under the Character of Ambassador Extraordinary.

This week we had the unexpected news from Portugal of the diversion of the Count de Prado, some time from his Embally to this Court, upon his Voyage for the conveyance of King Alonso to the Island of Zercera.

Dantzick, June 29. Since the Election of the New King of Poland those of the Senatorian Order, who at the beginning seemed to protest against the Election, as carried on with violence by the Nobles, have complied with the rest, and seem much satisfied with what has past; but the Uayvodes and the Nobles would not dismiss the great Assembly till all the Members of the States had sworn Fidelity to their now elected Sovereign. The Archbishop of Gnesne has entertained His Majesty with a great Feast, and presented him with a whole service of Plate. The Prince Lubomirski has made him a Present of a rich Coach and six Neopolitan Horses, and a considerable sum of Moneys, and the Emperours Ambassadors with another Coach and six Horses.

From Ukrania they have intelligence that the Cossacks beyond the Nipre were summoned in to repair to their General Dorofensko, and those on this side the same River, were assembled with their General Suchokitz, each of their Generals intending the deposing of the other; and that the latter had called in the Tartars for his assistance.

Vienna, June 30. The Emperour having taken an account of his Plenipotentiaries lately returned from Hungary, of the state of affairs in that Kingdom, is resolved to give them the satisfaction of permitting them to call a General Diet, and has thoughts of conferring the Charge of Palatine of Hungary upon the Count de Rosbal. Several of the Nobility and great Persons of Hungary are daily expected here, with whom the Emperour intends to have some Conference, in order to the settlement of all affairs, in relation to the said Diet, and to consider with them of the best and most effectual Method of giving them a just satisfaction of all their Grievances.

The fears they had in that Kingdom of some disturbances from the Turks, begin to vanish, since all the supernumerary forces which were in the Turkish Garrisons in Albania and Bosnia, are marching for Morea, to be transported from thence into Gruca.

The disturbances at Constantinople are said to be somewhat appeas'd, the Grand Signior having promised to return again to that City, as soon as he shall have seen the issue of this Summers War upon the Venetians, to which his people have no small aversion; considering their great loss of men and their little success hitherto, after a long Siege: besides the great rumors spread amongst them of the great strength of the Christians; which is drawing together for the relief of the besieged: which have had so great influence upon them, that 5000 Turks which were ordered to be transported from Morea into Candia, fell into a mutiny and refused the service.

Brussels, July 12. Several expresses have within these two days been sent hither from Mons to the Duke of Aerschot, advising him that the French forces are drawn together from their Garrisons to the number of 10 or 12 thousand men, and are marching towards Mons, notwithstanding the liberty given by the Constable of Castille for the free passage of the Coal-boats, which was the only pretence they had for motion; and from Aeth we are told, that 3 pieces of Cannon are sent from thence for the service of their Army, which gives us some apprehensions lest they may intend to make some attempt upon Mons and Conde, both places being but thinly Garrison'd, and in no excellent posture to make any considerable resistance, of all which the Duke of Aerschot has this morning by an Express, given intelligence to the Constable of Castille which may probably occasion his speedy return hither.

This last week by Order from the Prince of Chimay, Governour of Luxembourg, a German Colloael was brought prisoner hither, and under a Guard sent hence and committed prisoner to the Citadel at Antwerp.

Antwerp, July 13. We are in these parts much allarm'd at the motion of the French forces in such numbers towards Mons. The Constable of Castille is this day returning to Brussels, and has ordered the most considerable forces of all the Provinces to draw into a body, and to be in readiness upon any occasion that may require their service; most of the forces of this Province are already marched towards Brussels, and the rest are ordered to be in readiness also to march upon three hours warning.

The Sickness is broken out with much violence at Mechelen, and several houses are infected at Dermond, Alost and Lier.

Paris, July 13. Letters from Madrid advise us, that the Queen Regent was lately recovered from a violent and dangerous distemper, for which she had been twice let blood, and that the King of Spain was still observed to be sickly and weak.

The 7th instant the Arch-Bishop of Paris in great solemnity took possession of the Spiritual jurisdiction of St. Germain, for which there had been a former transaction between that Prelate, and the Duke of Verneuil, then Abbot, and the Religious of that Abby, which was not done so peaceably, but that the Popes Nuncio was pleas'd to signify an opposition in the name of the Pope, King Casimir the present Abbot, and those Religious which were dissatisfied with the Transaction, so that tis believed this affair may be referred to the determination of Parliament.

His Majesty sent lately to the Chancellour to give him notice of his intention to be present in Parliament the 20th instant, and to bring with him several Declarations for their Verification.

His Majesty seems much dissatisfied with the Duke of Lorraine, and has lately dispatch'd a Gentleman to Lorraine, he has also signify'd his displeasure against the Chevalier d' Harcourt, who against His Majesties express Order went into Poland, where he strongly negotiated for the interest of Prince Charles of Lorraine, and has ordered his Abby of Royaumont to be seized.

The Bishop of Beiers has by his Letters desired to be recalled from his employment in Poland, in whose place tis believed may be sent the Chevalier de Grenoville.

The Cardinal de Vendosme is said to be relaps'd, and in great danger.

From Venice we are told, that the besieged in Candia have made a stout and successful sally upon the Turks at the Bastion St. Andre, and have beat them out of a considerable part of it.

Hague, July 13. The Heer Hanncken being late'y chosen by the Hans-Towns to appear here as their Resident, has accordingly in his Audience delivered to the States his Credentials, and is now enter'd upon the Charge in the room of the deceased Heer Aitzma.

The Count de Benthem has by another Letter to the States delivered to them by his Secretary, desired that his Children may be restored to him, which they have taken into their consideration.

On Wednesday next the States of Holland will be again Assembled her, where the Deputies from the States of Zeland intend to apply themselves to them for the Ratification of the agreement made between both the said States in reference to the Court of Justice, and several other affairs which had been under dispute.

This week the Heers Meerman and Stavenisse as Commissioners from the States-General have had several conferences with the Spanish Ambassador.

Captain de Barry, who commended in the Ship of Vander Zaen in the dispute against the Admiral of Algiers, wherein the said Vander Zaen was unhappily killed, is committed to prison, being scolded for not giving a signal of the death of the said Commander, and for retiring from the fight at such a time when the Algier ship was wholly disabled from making any farther opposition. Captain Swaert is also committed, for having followed de Barry in his retreat. Orders are also sent to Captain Van Lier, who was also concerned in the same action, to return home from the Streights, to answer to the same accusation; whose plea of their obligation to follow their Admirals Flag, which was born by Vander Zaens Ship, may probably excuse the two later from the severity of that Sentence, which 'tis conceiv'd will be given against the former.

Yesterday was sent hence for Rotterdam the Baggage with several servants of the Heer Horeel design'd Ambassador into England, himself intending in a day or two to follow, but to continue 5 or 6 days in Zeland, which he intends to visit on his way for England.

The 11th instant his Highness the Prince of Tuscany went from Amsterdam intending for Mtrecht, and to pass from thence to Boisleduc to go afterwards to Liege, and from thence (as is suppos'd) into France.

Hull, July 5. This last week arrived here the Supply of this place, laden with Tobacco from Virginia, four Vessels from Norway with Deals, one from Rotterdam, and three from Sweden laden with Iron, Pitch, and Tarre.

Dover, July 6. This morning arrived here the Earl of Winchilsea, from Calice, on his return from his Embassy into the Levant, and is now upon his way for London. We hear of one Vessel of this Port which has lately fallen into the hands of some of the Sally Men of War, the Pyrates of which place have four Vessels abroad in course, one a Dogger-boat with six Guns, the other more inconsiderable of four and two Guns apiece. They have upon the Stocks two Vessels of greater force, one of 12, the other of 30 Guns, which they intend to set out speedily to Sea. The Emperour of Morocco is in the Field with a great Army, and tis commonly said design'd for Santa Cruz, though his intentions are not yet discovered.

London, July 7. This day arrived here the Earl of Winchilsea, from his Embassy to the Grand Signior, and was graciously received by His Majesty.