Francfort, 'April 23. Prince Lewis of Baden has already drawn together about 20000 Men, who have parfied the Rhine near-Spire, and they will thorstly be joined by the Forces of the Circles which are all on their March; and 'tis generally field, That they will befiege Landaw, a Place of great Importance.

From the Camp of the Allies before Keyfer (waert, April 25; N. S.

We have received an Account by some Deserters from the Town, That the Besieged in the Sally they made the 21st Instant, in the Morning, had 3 Cautains, 5 other Officers, and above 100 Common Soldiers killed, and a great Number Wounded, and that many of their Soldiers took that Opportunity to desert. Our Batteries continue to Fire without intermission, and have dismounted most of the Enemies Cinnon. The 21st, at Night, the French made a shew of fallying the facility was required to the fall of the standard that the fall of the Soldiers was not the second to the second the second the second that the second the non. The 21st, at Night, the French made a shew of fallying our again, but sinding us upon our Guard, did not think fit to do it. The 23st, by break of day, 1200 Foot of the Forces of Prussia attacked an Island in the Rhine, a little below the Town, in which 200 French were posted, who had built several Works and Fortifications, and had 2 several Batteries there; Our Menhad an Arm of the Rhine to Pass, which they did in Boats, where they had made a kind of Breast-work with Wool-sacks; the French Fired very briskly upon us as we were crodling the Water, but our Gransdiers approaching near the Shore of the Island, the Enemy retired to a Redoubt they had there, and our Men landed with the loss of 5 Soldiers killed and several Officers and Soldiers wounded. Then our Men attacked the Redoubt, and the French defended it till the Evening, when having about 150 Men kill-Jand seeing no probability of Relieffrom the Town, and our Men having received some Cannon from the Camp, with which they began to batter the Redoubt, the French Soldiers at discretivn, the French Commander out of despair killed himat difference, the French Commander out of despair killed him-felf, and the rest of the Officers at tempting to make their effelf, and the rest of the Officers attempting to make their escape in a little Boat, were all killed, except a Captain and a Lieutenant. A Battery is now raised on this Island, which is a very advantagious Post, and may hasten the taking of the Place. We have begun to batter the Wall of the Place, and intend, as soon as a Breach is made, to Storm it, and we hope in few days to be Masters of the Town; we have had a Report, that Marshall Boussers marching this way with 25 or 30000 Men, in order to bombard Dusseldorp; but we hear, that his Army is not above 12 or 14000 strong, and have no heavy Artislery with them. with them.

Count Tilly is encamped at Zanten, about two Leagues from this Place, with 30 Squadrons of Horse and re Battalions of Foot of the Dutch and Prussian Forces; He has sent our Parties to get Intelligence of Marshal Bousslers Motions, and thanke may be in a readiness to march as there shall be occasion, he has sent hither all his heavy Bagage. The Earl of Arbhone is marching with a Body of the Dutch Forces to join Count Tilly, and will be this hight at Grave. We hear 500 French have got into Keyserswaert by Water in the night time; The Siege of that Place goes on very well, and our Forces have gained all the Out-works, and hope in few days to be Masters of the Place. Three Deputies of the States General are come hither, to Compliment the King of Prussia upon his arrival in these Parts. upon his arrival in these Parts Divers German Gentlemen who are here, have defired rasses in order to return home, but are retussed; and "its faid, the Court intends to detain them till such French Gentlemen as are Travelling in Germany are returned. A Courtier sent hither from Bruns'wick by Montieur d'Usion the reach Minister there, having in his return been stope by the Lettor of Hanover's Officeus, a young Gentleman, 300 to Montieur Hartors, one of his Electoral Highness's Councellors, is put under Continement in one of our Academics where he was performing his Exercises, and will be kept in Custody till the faid Courtier be relacted. As French are very intuch concerned at Diske Rodulphus of Wolfembry'el's quiring their Interest, and puting into the Service of the Allies the Forces which he had railed at the charge of the French King; and are apprehensive that this Example may be followed by other Princes engaged in the French Interest, who preis daily far Succours which this Coart is not in a Condition to give them; which is looks upon as preparing an Excuse for their entering into new Engagements. Our Seeproparations go on but slowly, and 'is now laid that instead of a Squadron of Men of War, some Gallies only will be sent to the affillance of the King of Portugal for security of the River of Lisbon. The Venerian Ambassador has this day complained to the French Court, that several Franch Fragas cruize in the Adriatick Gulph without any regard to the Sovereign Domition of the Republick over that Sca.
