Cologue, August 1. The Count de Taliard came the 23d path with the Body of French Forces under his Command, being about 800 throng, near to Berchem, about 4 Leagues from hence, and went with a geod Guard to Bon to wait upon the Elector of Cologue; its staid, his Buliness was to perswade the Elector to go from thence to Liege, and to leave Bon entirely in the hands of the French, but that the Elector excusted himself, so that the Count de Tallard returned the next day to his Forces, and marched with them to Erkelent, in order to rejoin the Duke of Burgmany's Army, which he did, having first fent part of his Detachment to reintorce the Garison of Rimberg. There are are present a Regiments, of Horse, two of Dragoons, and one of Foot, encamped at Malberin, which will shortly be joined by 6 Regiments of Foot that are encamped near Reylerswaers, being ordered to remain there till an end is made of demolithing the Fortifications of that Place. The Bishop of Raab is gone from hence to Dusselance to conter with the Elector Palatine, who, we hear, designs shortly to go to the Army before Landau, to make a Visit to the King of the Romans.

Hamburgh, August 1... Letters from Crasow of the tad past say, the kois which the King of Poland's Army fulfamed in their late. Engagement with the Sweier is not bloc considerable, as was at first sported, and that they had made their Revieur towards Gracow, near which Place that Kingshad posited them along the River Wasseland in their late. They write from Breslamathas Advice was come there, that they had made their Revieur towards Gracow. They write from Breslamathas Advice was come there, that the King of Sweath, alter this Action was over, continued his March towards Gracow, and stip, Orders to the Sweatish Forces from Forwers, which were on their march to join the King of Poland's Army barelied from Geldory, and encamped with the Right at Gavenneck, and number of 82, all Smift, on whom but 28 defined to be exchanged; and returned to their Regiments, the reft having taken Service with use We had in taking this Castle a Lieutenant-Colonel and a size. Soldiers wounded, and about 12 skilled.—The $2 state Army marched to St. Hubert's-Lill, and was joined in the evening by Majur-General Heakelon with B Battalions and 6 Squadrons of the Forces we had lett at Nimeghen. The same night we had notice, that the Freich Army was marching very incar-our Camp, infomuch that they were within hearing of our Out-Guards; whereupon by break of day the Army was put in order of Battel, and Count Tilly, a Lieutenant-General, was sent out with 4000 Horse to observe the Enemy, who brought an Account, that they were between Peer and Brey, towards the Demer, and that their Troops which came so near our Camp were only some Bodies of Horse that were detached to cover their March. Yesterday our Army advanced, and encamped with the Right at Peirt Brugel, and the Lest at St. Hubert's-Lill, from whence we fent our several other Detachments to observe the Enemy, some of which tell in with their Rear, and brought off several Wagons laden with Wine, Brandy, and other Provitions, with a Commillary, and divers Prisoners more. The French decamped in the night without bear of Drum, and continued their March to Hasself; beyond the Dener, in order to get into their night without beat of Drum, and commune to their to Haffels, beyond the Demer, in order to get into their Lines,

Lines, leaving the Spainsh Guelderland open to the Forces of the Allies, so that they may now at their Pleasure beitege any Town on the Mast between Massische and Graue. A great number of Deserrers are come over to us from the Enemy within these 3 days. Monfieur d'Auverquerque, General of the Horse in the Service of the States-General, arrived here two days ago; and the Earl Rivers is come to Bussedue, where he is expeding a Convoy in order to come hither.

Hagus, Musus to N. S. The Baron of Obdam took his Leave of the States-General yesserday, as the Earl of Albemarle did this day, and they are nown gone to the Army. There is an Account, that the king of
