

that they are so closely connected with His Majesty's dominions either by ancestry, upbringing or residence, or by reason of national service, that an exception may properly be made in their favour.

4. Candidates must have obtained a University degree with First or Second Class Honours and must possess competent knowledge of two modern languages (preferably French and German); candidates who are sitting for a final degree examination in the summer of 1949 may be admitted to compete, but they will not be declared successful unless they obtain at least Second Class Honours in their degree examination.

For the Departments of Manuscripts and Printed Books a degree in Classics is preferred; Latin is essential, but an additional modern language may be accepted instead of Greek.

For the Department of Egyptian and Assyrian Antiquities a degree in Semitic Languages is required.

For the Department of Oriental Antiquities, a knowledge of a modern Oriental language is required.

5. No person who is undergoing a course of study with the aid of a grant from public funds shall be eligible to compete under these Regulations before the completion of the course, unless he or she has previously obtained permission to do so from the authority which administers the grant.

6. Those candidates who appear from their application forms to have the best qualifications will be summoned to appear before a Selection Board in London which will recommend to the Commissioners for appointment the candidates who appear to be most suitable. The Board will take into consideration the candidates' record of education and experience, any recommendation that they may receive from persons named by the candidates as having direct knowledge of their work in the past, and the personal qualities of the candidates as shown at the interview, and on their estimation of the above evidence they will frame their recommendations. The decision of the Commissioners will be final.

7. Successful candidates must satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners as to their health and character.

8. Persons upon whose training for the occupation of teacher public money has been spent cannot be appointed until the consent of the appropriate Central Education authority (e.g., the Ministry of Education, the Scottish Education Department, the Ministry of Education for Northern Ireland) has been notified to the Commissioners.

9. Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support for their applications through Members of Parliament or other influential persons (except as referees to be named by them in their application form) will disqualify them for appointment. The Selection Board will disregard recommendations from persons who are not personally acquainted with the candidate's work.

10. A successful candidate will be required to pay a fee of £1 before the issue of a certificate of qualification for appointment.
