CENTRAL CHANCERY OF THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD.

St. James's Palace, S.W.1.

18th May, 1951.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve the award of the George Medal to:—

Acting Squadron Leader Thomas Colin Lyall BROWN, M.B., B.S., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., (59811), Royal Air Force Station, Abingdon.

Squadron Leader Brown is Senior Medical Officer at Royal Air Force Station, Abingdon. On the night of 20th December, 1950, he was travelling as a passenger on a Route Flying Fatigue trial from Singapore, for Headquarters, Transport Command. During the flight, a propeller blade broke loose from one of the engines of the Hastings aircraft in which Squadron Leader Brown was a passenger. The blade cut through the fuselage and seriously injured the co-pilot, who was lying on the bunk in the crew's compartment. It also severed the control cables to the rudder and elevators. Within a few seconds, the faulty engine fell out of the aircraft. Squadron Leader Brown immediately went to the aid of the injured co-pilot and gave him medical attention. Although he fully appreciated the danger involved, he continued to administer medical aid until the aircraft crashed. When all others were at crash stations he remained at his post with the injured man. If he had been prepared to leave him, he could have taken up a position in the passenger cabin on one of the stressed, backward facing seats, all of whose occupants escaped serious injury. The crash took place at Benina, killing five members of the crew, including the injured co-pilot. Squadron Leader Brown was himself seriously injured and there is no doubt that he consciously risked his life in order to save that of the injured officer. He carried out his duties in accordance with the traditions of his profession without regard for his own personal safety. He has set an outstanding example at all times and has completed eighty parachute descents from balloons and aircraft in the course of his duties with the Parachute School.
