Treasury Chambers.

23rd May, 1952.

The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury hereby give notice that, at a Trial of the Pyx begun at Goldsmiths' Hall in the city of London on the 4th day of March and concluded on the 9th day of May, 1952, the following Verdict of the Pyx Jury was delivered to the Queen's Remembrancer, viz.:—

Goldsmiths' Hall,
Foster Lane, Cheapside,
London, E.C.2.

TRIAL OF THE PYX OF THE LONDON MINT.

VERDICT.

We, whose names are hereunder written, having been sworn on the 4th day of March 1952 before the Queen's Remembrancer at Goldsmiths' Hall in the City of London, made the following assays and trials of Her Majesty's coins in the pyx of the Royal Mint in London, which according to accounts produced by the officers of the Mint, were coined in the said Mint from the 1st day of January 1951 to the 31st day of December 1951, both dates inclusive, in accordance with the Coinage Acts 1870 to 1946 (hereinafter called "the Acts") and were set aside and placed in the pyx of the said Mint as prescribed by regulations made under the Acts.

1. We ascertained the number of coins in each packet produced to us and that such number corresponded with the number which the officers of the Mint represented the packet to contain.

2.—(a) From one packet of gold coins we took four sovereigns, from another eight sovereigns and from the other two packets, ten sovereigns each, amounting altogether to thirty-two sovereigns.

(b) We weighed separately each of the said sovereigns so taken and we ascertained that it was within the remedy as to weight prescribed by the Acts and we found that such sovereigns were on the whole within the variation from standard weight so prescribed (hereinafter called "standard weight") being one thousandth part of an ounce (+0.001) above standard weight.

(c) We then melted such sovereigns into an ingot and assayed such ingot comparing it with the standard trial plate of gold produced by the Board of Trade, and we found that such ingot (having a millimal fineness of 916.57) was within the variation allowed under the Acts, the amount of variation from standard fineness being minus nine hundred thousandth parts (−0.00009).

(d) We weighed in bulk the residue of the coins remaining in the packets of gold coins and we ascertained that they were on the whole within the variation from standard weight allowed under the Acts, being nine thousandth parts of an ounce (+0.009) above standard weight.

(e) We then took from such residue four sovereigns and weighed and assayed them separately and we found that such sovereigns weighed respectively the first 123.360 grains, the second 123.382 grains, the third 123.394 grains and the fourth 123.232 grains, and that therefore the said sovereigns were respectively, the first eighty six thousandth parts of a grain (+0.086), the second one hundred and eight thousandth parts of a grain (+0.108), the third one hundred and twenty thousandth parts of a grain (+0.120) above standard weight and the fourth forty two thousandth parts of a grain (-0.042) below standard weight.

(f) We then assayed separately the last mentioned sovereigns and we found the millesimal fineness of such sovereigns to be, the first 916.53, the second 916.46, the third 916.66 and the fourth 916.63, and that therefore the first of such sovereigns was thirteen hundred-thousandth parts (-0.00013) below standard fineness the second was twenty hundred-thousandth parts (-0.00020) below standard fineness, the third did not vary from standard fineness and the fourth was three hundred-thousandth parts (-0.00003) below standard fineness.

3.—(a) We found that the Silver coins in the said pyx weighed in all not more than twelve ounces troy.

(b) We weighed in bulk such silver coins and we ascertained that they were on the whole within the variation from standard weight, there being no variation from standard weight.

(c) We then assayed such silver coins comparing them with the silver trial plate produced by the Board of Trade, and we found that they were on the whole within the variation allowed under the Acts, the amount of variation from standard fineness being plus two ten-thousandth parts (+0.0002).

4.—(a) We found that the cupro-nickel coins in the said pyx weighed in all more than twelve ounces troy and we took one or more coins from each packet of cupro-nickel coins.

(b) We weighed each twelve ounces troy (at standard weight) of cupro-nickel coins so taken out and ascertained that the amount of its variation from standard weight was the amount recorded in respect thereof in the schedule hereto, and that each twelve ounces troy was therefore within the variation from standard weight allowed under the Acts.

(c) We then assayed separately cupro-nickel coins weighing in all twelve ounces troy (at standard weight) comparing them with the copper trial plate and the nickel trial plate produced by the Board of Trade, and we found that the coins assayed were on the whole within the variation from composition allowed under the Acts, the amounts of variation being minus one fifth of one per centum (-0.2%) of copper and minus one fifth of one per centum (-0.2%) of nickel.

(d) We weighed in bulk the residue of the coins remaining in the packets of cupro-nickel coins and we ascertained that they were on the whole within the variation from standard weight, being six hundred and seventy three thousandth parts of an ounce (+0.673) above standard weight.

Dated the 9th day of May, 1952.

THE SCHEDULE.

Three weighings of twelve ounces troy showed no variation from standard weight; seven such weighings showed variations of one, three, five, nine, one, eleven and ten thousandth parts of an ounce (+0.001, +0.003, +0.005, +0.009, +0.001, +0.011 and +0.010) respectively above standard weight; and nine such weighings showed variations of nine, five, six, fifteen, seven, eleven, seven, three and seven thousandth parts of an ounce (-0.009, -0.005, -0.006, -0.015, -0.007, -0.011, -0.007, -0.003 and -0.007) respectively below standard weight.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

These regulations will amend the National Insurance (Seasonal Workers) Regulations, 1950, so as to give effect to the recommendations of the National Insurance Advisory Committee on their Review of the Seasonal Workers Regulations 1950 (published today).

The existing regulations impose additional conditions for the receipt of unemployment benefit by a seasonal worker in his off-season. The draft regulations modify the definitions of "seasonal worker" and "off-season" in the existing regulations so that they should apply not only to periods comparable to one of the annual seasons (spring, summer, autumn and winter), but to shorter periods when the seasonal worker is normally not employed. The special conditions do not, however, have to be satisfied—

(i) by any person if the period or periods when he is normally not employed amount to not more than seven weeks in the year;

(ii) during any individual period of less than seven days.

3. The draft regulations also provide that a person shall not be treated as a seasonal worker because he is normally employed in an occupation in which the availability and extent of employment varies in the year, unless that variation results from factors inherent in the industry. Abnormal variations, such as those resulting from a recession of trade, are to be disregarded even if prolonged.
