CENTRAL CHANCERY OF THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD.

St. James's Palace, S.W.1.

31st October, 1952.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to give orders for the following promotion in the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire:—

(To be dated 23rd October, 1952.)

To be an Ordinary Knight Commander of the Civil Division of the said Most Excellent Order:—

William George PENNEY, Esq., O.B.E.

CENTRAL CHANCERY OF THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD.

St. James's Palace, S.W.1.

31st October, 1952.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased, on the advice of Her Majesty's Australian Ministers, to approve the undermentioned awards:

George Medal.

A.11162 Leading Aircraftman Robert Mansfield STEWART, Royal Australian Air Force.

British Empire Medal (Military).

A.5425 Corporal John Daly KELLY, Royal Australian Air Force.

On 6th April, 1952, five servicemen from two Royal Navy vessels which were visiting No. 2 Airfield Construction Squadron, Royal Australian Air Force, based on Cocos Island, went bathing on West Island despite a previous warning of the hazards of the surf in that area. They swam outside the safety limits to a dangerous reef, and from there were carried into the open sea by the heavy surf, with the result that one serviceman was drowned. Seeing that these men were in difficulties, members of the Royal Australian Air Force commenced rescue operations during which two airmen were drowned. Despite warnings of the treacherous nature of the surf, Leading Aircraftman Stewart, without thought for his own personal safety, swam over the reef towards the servicemen in difficulties. With coolness he advised one Englishman of the best manner in which to regain the reef and actually dived under one man pushing him on to the crest of a wave. To dive under water on the seaward side of the reef with breakers up to fifteen feet high with terrific back surge of water and the danger of being sucked under the shelf of the reef, was a deed of great heroism. On satisfying himself that one Englishman had been swept to safety on the reef, Leading Aircraftman Stewart then endeavoured to save the life of a fellow airman in a huge sea, but unfortunately, without success. Although he was becoming exhausted, he swam further out to sea where he saw three other men in difficulties. Remembering a gap in the surf, he decided to lead the others there, although it entailed a three miles swim. While fully aware that they were in shark infested waters, this airman by his cheerfulness and advice was able to keep up the morale of the others and lead them to safety. During this period, one member sustained cramp of the foot which was successfully treated by Leading Aircraftman Stewart whilst in the water. This airman displayed outstanding qualities of courage, determination, skill and stamina. By his efforts it is considered that he helped to save the lives of four men. Corporal Kelly was the first airman to go to the assistance of the five British servicemen. He swam through a heavy surf with breakers up to fifteen feet high and displayed outstanding courage in going into the water alone, as he was fully aware of the treacherous nature of the surf. However, with complete disregard for his own personal safety, he went over the reef into the open sea in an attempt to assist the visitors. Although he was unable to carry out normal life saving drill on account of the huge seas prevailing, he was able to offer advice which greatly contributed to four of the servicemen being saved from drowning.

Government House, Canberra, 31st October, 1952.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to give orders for the publication of the names of the following Royal Australian Air Force personnel who have been commended posthumously in connection with the above-mentioned incident:—

QUEEN'S COMMENDATION FOR BRAVE CONDUCT (POSTHUMOUS).

A.23217 Leading Aircraftman Michael Paul ROWAN, (Deceased), Royal Australian Air Force.

(ii) the French and Portuguese Settlements in India.

(b) To pensions payable to any person resident in any place outside the United Kingdom, if the pension is expressed in rupees in Indian Pension Regulations.

3. A pension to which this Schedule relates may be increased provided the following conditions are fulfilled:—

(a) The income of the pensioner does not exceed, in the case of a pensioner who is married or has at least one dependant, £550, a year, or in any other case, £425 a year, including any pension in either case, but disregarding, in assessing income for this purpose, the first £104 a year of income other than the increasable pension or pensions, and but shall in no case exceed either one-third of the rate of pension (including any increase granted under orders issued by the Government of India applying to the Indian Armed Forces the provisions of Royal Warrants dated 16th August, 1920 (A.O. 347 of 1920), 7th August, 1924 (A.O. 288 of 1924), 31st May, 1944 (A.O. 89 of 1944), 18th January, 1946 (A.O. 7 of 1946) and 13th May, 1947 (A.O. 58 of 1947)) or the amount required to bring the income of the pensioner up to the appropriate income limit in paragraph 3 (a) above, whichever is less.

5. Any portion of a pension which has been commuted shall not be regarded as part of the pension for the purposes of this Schedule.

6. The income of a married pensioner shall be deemed to include the income of the husband or wife of that pensioner, but the income of a pensioner shall not be otherwise deemed to include the income of any other person.

7. A pensioner shall be regarded as unmarried unless the husband or wife of the pensioner is alive, and where a husband and wife are living apart, they may be treated as unmarried persons at the discretion of our Secretary of State.

8. To be regarded as dependent on the pensioner for the purposes of this Schedule a person must be in fact wholly or mainly supported by the pensioner, and must not have an income from other sources (apart from income from any scholarship or educational endowment) in excess of £104 a year, and must be either:—

(i) the parent, brother, sister, child, uncle or aunt of the pensioner, or of the pensioner's husband or wife, or deceased husband or wife, or the child of such a relative ("child" including legitimate and illegitimate children, step-children, and statutorily adopted children) or the pensioner's step-father or step-mother, or

(ii) under 16 years of age, or receiving full-time instruction at an educational establishment, or undergoing full-time training for a trade, profession or vocation.

9. Where a pensioner is in receipt of more than one pension to which this Schedule relates or is under paragraph 10 is deemed to relate, the aggregate of the increases on all such pensions shall be restricted to the increase which would have been given on a single pension equal to their total.

10. For the purpose of paragraph 9 any pension which is payable out of moneys provided by Parliament and which is increasable under the Pensions (Increase) Act 1952 or under any provision corresponding to the present Warrant shall be taken into account as if it were a pension to which this Schedule relates.

11. Where a widow in receipt of a widow's pension has dependent on her a child or children under 16 years of age receiving pension or compassionate allowance in respect of her husband's service, the widow's pension and children's awards shall be aggregated for the purpose of determining the amount of the admissible increase. The amount so determined shall be distributed proportionately between the awards.

General Provisions.

12. Any general conditions attaching to the grant or continuance of a pension shall also apply to the grant or continuance of any increase to that pension awarded under this Schedule.
